from Halo

Authentic timber windows
lovingly recreated in PVC-U

A BRAND OF THE VEKA UK GROUP

FlushSash

The latest innovation to come from pioneering Halo, a brand of The VEKA UK Group

Reminiscent of early 19th Century timber windows, FlushSash from Halo combines elegant Georgian style with the modern technical benefits of PVC-U to offer smooth style and seamless performance.

As you would expect from any Halo product, FlushSash is extremely attractive, highly energy-efficient and provides optimum levels of security for homeowners.

Designed to maximise the efficiency and flexibility of Halo's existing System10 and Rustique window systems, FlushSash allows fabricators and installers to extend their product range with minimal additional stock holding and tooling requirements, to offer an effective flush casement window for the traditional and heritage timber window market, where authentic replication of the original style and finish is required.

Features:

- Achieves U-value of 1.3 W/m²K
- Achieves WER A Rating (with 28mm double glazed IGU using float glass)

Colour Options

The FlushSash is available in nineteen colours. Each colour and woodgrain has been designed to replicate the look of traditional stained or painted timber and requires little or no maintenance other than an occasional wipe with a damp cloth.

Customers can also choose different finishes for the inside and outside of their property. For example, they may choose a warm timber effect, such as Oak, for the outside and opt for clean, bright White for the interior.
