EDO KIRIKO MAKING

WHAT IS EDO KIRIKO AND WHO IS MASTER HORIGUCHI?

Edo Kiriko, a traditional Japanese glass-cutting craft dating back to 1834, is celebrated for its intricate designs, vivid colors, and refined craftsmanship. Officially recognized as a 'Traditional Craft' in 2002, Edo Kiriko continues to evolve, blending beauty with high-quality standards in a rapidly developing glass art world.

At the forefront is Master Horiguchi, a third-generation artisan and founder of Horiguchi Kiriko. His studio has collaborated with five-star hotels and high-end Japanese restaurants, creating exquisite pieces that showcase the craft's dignity, clarity, and brilliance. Each piece embodies Edo Kiriko's legacy, aiming to inspire and amaze with every intricate detail.
