Monarch Symphony

“The American Monarch”

Now, at the dawn of the next World Cup in 2026, which will be the first to be held in three countries, “The Monarch Symphony” emerges. The music is inspired by the heroic migration of the monarch butterfly, a symbol par excellence of the tri-national union of North America.

La Sinfonia Monarca can be performed by orchestras around the world and become part of their repertoire. However, its true intrinsic value lies in its melodic richness, which provides excellent flexibility for editing and rearranging in all kinds of styles and musical ensembles, offering a huge range of possibilities for structuring a major campaign only for the best beer group in the world.
