

The Wax and the Wane

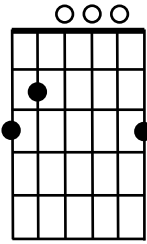

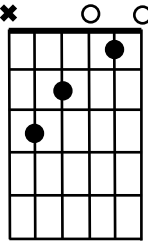

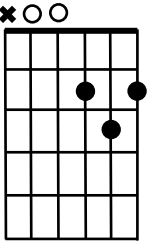

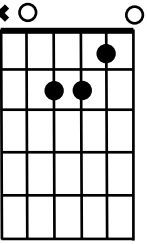

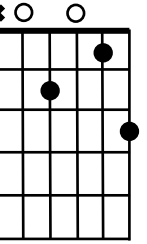

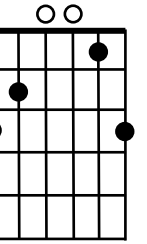

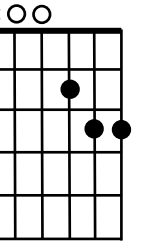

Background: Relationships are tough. Rollercoaster ups and downs. Back and forth. It can seem like stability is rare. But that's actually normal. We are human. Emotional beings. Individually, we fluctuate. We have mood swings, physical illness, stress, emotions. Put two people together, sprinkle in finances, children, work, emotions, extended family, etc., and things can be tough. But it's like the phases of the moon. The full moon can be a beautiful site. But mostly what we see is the in between, the shadows, the changes, the crescent and the gibbous, the wax and the wane.

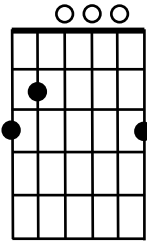

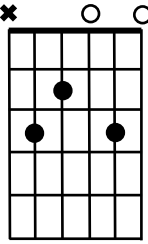

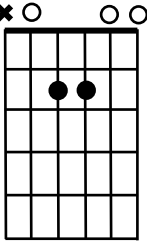

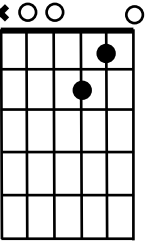

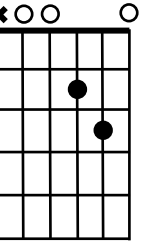

Remember, the waning crescent leads to a new moon, but the new moon is dark. Hang in there, a full moon is coming. Written: January 2025

The Wax and the Wane

Verse 1

Can you feel its pull G
It can drag you down C
Even if your glass is half full G
You can still manage to drown C
When the moon is full D
It's a beautiful scene Am
You can look up and howl C
But we live mostly in between D

Chorus

These phases we go through C
Cast shadows on the moon G
They can drive us insane D
When we're livin' C
Between the wax and the wane D G

These phases we go through C
Like shadows on the moon G
They can drive us insane D
Yeah we're livin' C

D G
Between the wax and the wane

Verse 2

G
There's a rest stop o'er the hill
C
We can stop along the way
G
Sometimes you lose your will

You just want to let go
D
Of the steering wheel
