

Wastin' Time

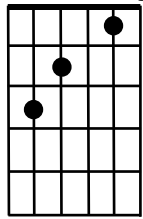

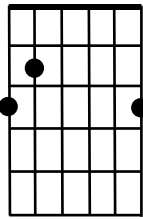

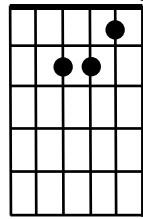

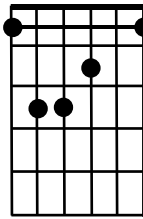

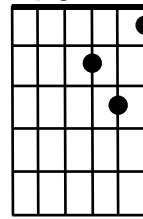

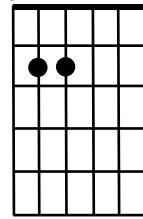

Background: A song about a fading relationship that was over before it was over, but people hang on longer for whatever reason. Denial. Hope. Or sometimes they don't really notice that it's run its course and is past its prime. They end up wasting time.

Wastin' Time

Verse

C

Indian summer has arrived

G

It's too hot for September

Sun sets earlier each night

We spent the days

Into all the noise

Verse

Indian summer has arrived
It's too hot for September
Sun sets earlier each night
But summer just won't surrender

I never heard such silence
As long as I can remember
She said she'd call
But she's just a pretender

I thought we were doin' fine
Seems we were just wastin' time

Chorus

Wastin' time
Wastin' time
Hanging on
Past our prime
Wastin' time
Wastin' time
I would have flown
Had I known
We were wastin' time

Verse

We spent the days
Searching for our voice
Searching for answers
Searching for a choice

Watching others
Seeming to rejoice
Somehow we just faded
Into all the noise

Pre-chorus

I thought we were doin' fine
Seems we were just wastin' time

Chorus

Wastin' time
Wastin' time
Hanging on
Past our prime
Wastin' time
Wastin' time

It's so ironic
As I look back
Something that felt iconic
Fell apart so fast
