Getting Through the Year

Every year is full of fun, excitement, challenges, disappointment, and, of course, the unexpected. In order to get through the year at Argos Community Schools, we have to deal with these things everyday. Some days are better than others, but each one is memorable in its own way. Every day takes us one step closer to graduation and becoming a part of the "real" world. There's only one thing standing in our way: Getting Through the Year.

Junior Stacy Evans concentrates as she sits in Mrs. Calhoun's business law class.

Argos's new Colombian friend David Tuaty signs a copy of last year's yearbook for his new friends.

Surrounded by the tools of her trade, Mrs. Lynn Overmyer tackles her new job as secretary for the junior high and high school.

Middle Left: Seventh grader Rachel Hardee gets comfortable as she reads a handout in social studies.

Junior Jenny Webb cheers the varsity soccer team on to a victory at regionals in South Bend against St. Joe.

Getting Through Even More

Senior Phil Ummel helps Scorch the Dragon entertain the basketball fans at varsity half-time of the homecoming game against O-D.

Kindergarteners (l to r) Hannah Alcorn and Brittany Bonnell work diligently on their fascinating handouts.

Look forward with hope.

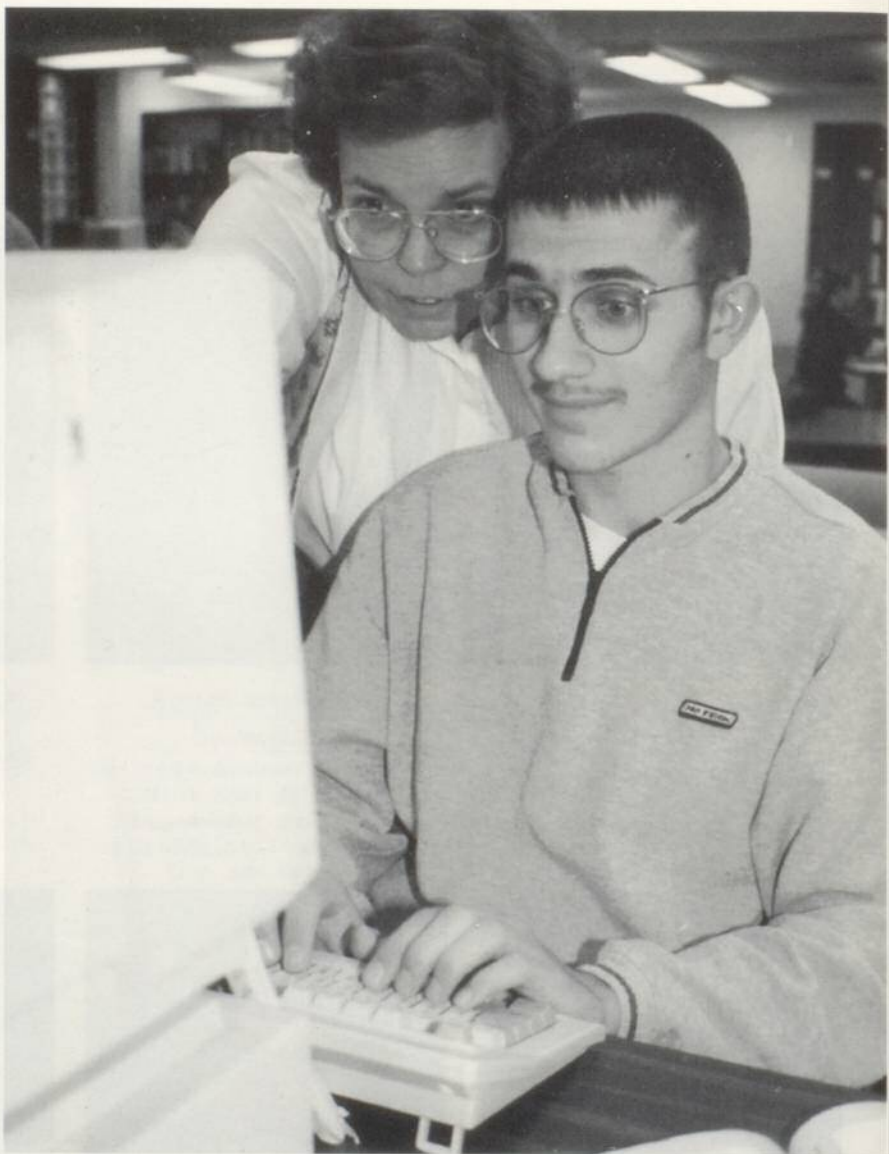

Returning to school for the last time may seem ideal, but for the Seniors here at Argos, their senior year isn't just a time to goof off. Being a Senior means taking on new responsibilities, dealing with the unexpected, and making decisions that will affect them for the rest of their lives. With all the changes, getting into the swing of things is sometimes a lot of work.

Lisa Crum sacrifices her study hall in order to lend a hand in the library.

Brenda Baker takes a moment to smile for the camera while studying in activity period.

Ms. Jackson teaches Paul McCarthy about the latest software on the library's computers.

Rachel Reynolds and Emily Cripe give a cheer for friendship.

Lindsay Hardee quickly glances at the camera during child development class.

Isaac Snavelly concentrates on every word Mrs. Calhoun says.

Tom McFarland, Bill Redinger, and Josh Umbaugh work diligently in the hallway under Mr. Alcorn's watchful eye.

Bottom Right: Jennifer Yoder relaxes in the office while waiting for the electricity to come back on.

Jaime Rice enjoys a treat in French class.

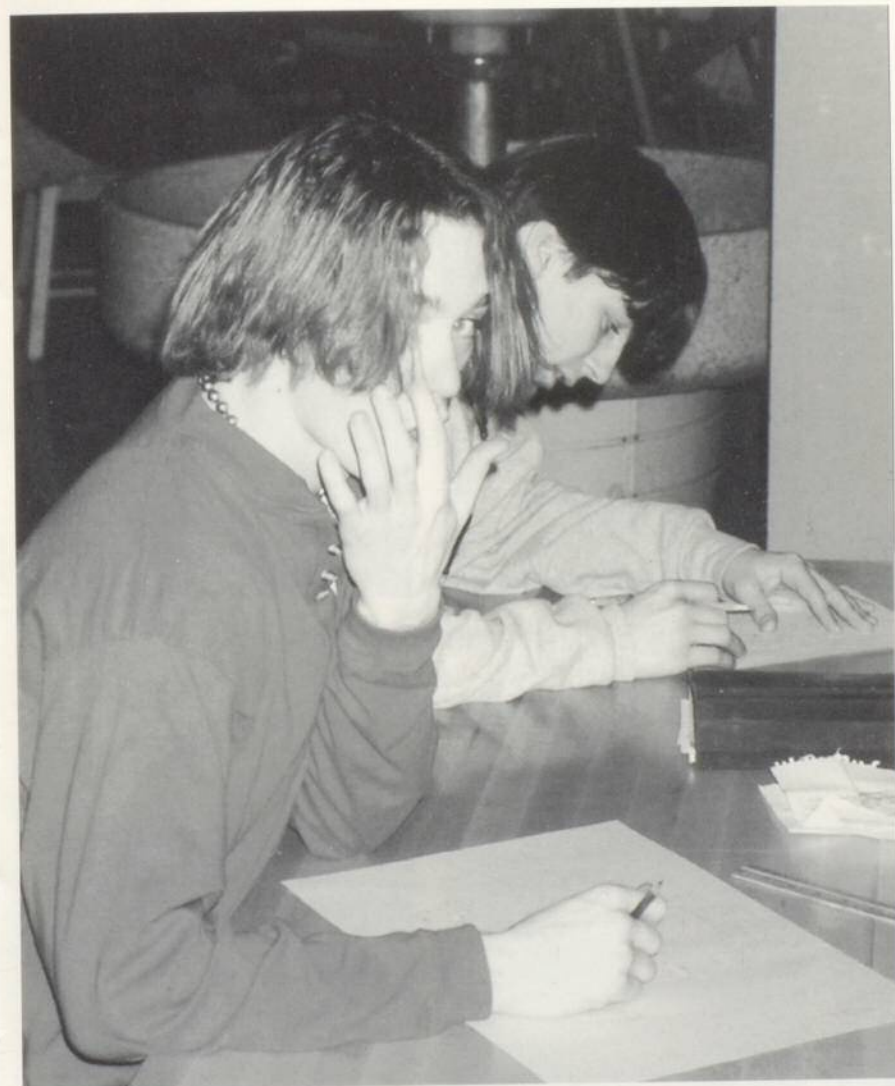

Getting Through the Blackout

During the course of the year, many unexpected things can happen. One such thing is a power outage. These unexpected events, as some of the pictures on these pages show, can't keep the seniors from carrying on as usual.

John Keck sneaks a peak at the camera during activity period.

Myra Peters and Graham Moore converse in the gym during high school lunch.

Art students Joe Winters and Brandon Wagoner don't let the power outage keep them from finishing their projects.

Teachers and Instructional Assistants

Office Personnel

These are the people who keep the school running smoothly. They are the ones who are "in the know." If you need something, if you have a problem; you can call on one of these people will be able to help. Their responsibilities are many and they handle these duties with great skill. It is nearly impossible to be involved with the school and not have contact with at least one of these people every day.

Courses That You Can't Really Avoid

Making The Grades

Everyone who comes to our school has certain courses that they must take. Nearly every student takes some course in English, Math, Science, and Social Studies almost every year of high school. There are also other classes such as PE, Keyboarding, Speech, and Health which are required for at least one semester. These classes form the basis for every academic plan. If you hope to complete graduation requirements, you will take all of these.

Elective Courses Round Out The Schedule

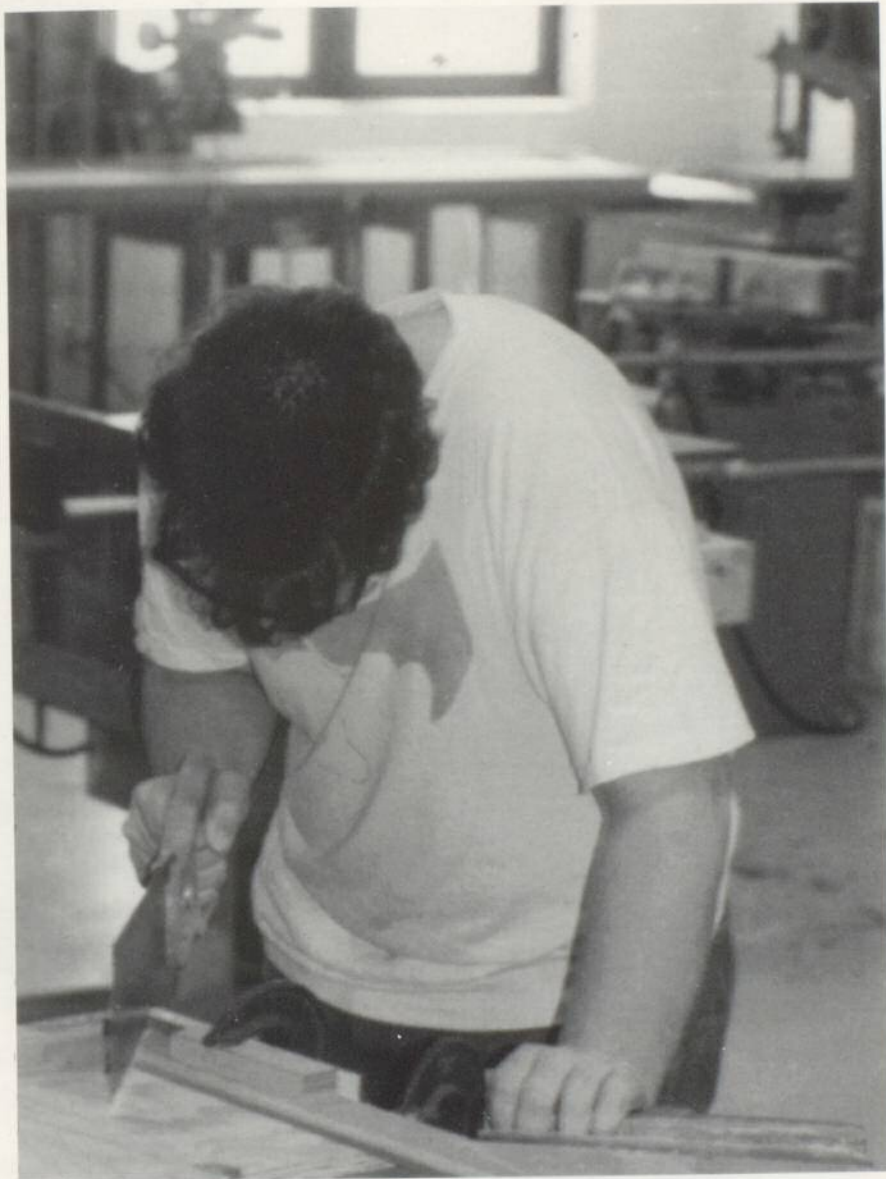

Taking The Fun Stuff

So, you need a couple of hours. There are all types of possibilities from music to agriculture, foreign languages to business. All of these help broaden the scope of the average curriculum and make things more interesting. Depending on the requirements of your academic plan, you have several options that you can choose to fill in the rest of your available

Keeping Things Interesting

Learning The Practical Stuff

Many courses given here at Argos offer the student the opportunity to gain valuable experience that can be applied directly to a job in the work force. The skills learned in Keyboarding, Agriculture, Industrial Technology, Building Trades, and in the ICE program allow students to have hands-on experience with real-life work situations. On the other side of the coin, there are classes like Art, Band, or Choir that allow students the chance to show off their creative talents. So, as you can see there is something for nearly everyone in our schedule. You just have to choose what interests you most.

Alternatives To Having A Class

Choosing Other Options

Every now and then, there are still openings in one's schedule. The most common option is study hall. Most students have one. It lightens the load of homework that they take with them each night. Others like to use that time to perform some kind of service or just to have some free time away from classes. There are opportunities for some who wish to be office assistants or to work in the library or perhaps to be an aide in an elementary class. These are a few alternative ways that students make use of time in their schedules.

During the week previous to the Science Magic Show, Mr. Kitch, Mr. Alcorn, and Mrs. Hourigan purchased a portable stereo and donated it for a raffle to raise more money for Amy's family. This is a photo of the drawing which took place live during announcements on the same day. In an act of pure unselfishness, the winner decided not keep the stereo. Instead, he donated it to Amy.

Chemistry and Physics Classes Work Wonders

Helping Out In Times Of Need

In times of tragedy, it's amazing what people can do. This year due to the Amy Faulstich's accident, many people in our area came to aid of the family in their time of need. The Science Department was no exception. Mr. Cooper organized and sponsored a Magic Show as a fund raiser for the Faulstich's. The Chemistry and Physics classes helped him perform several experiments that astounded and entertained the audience. The proceeds of over $1,000 were donated to the Faulstich family.

Getting Through the Day in Junior High

The Junior High Experience

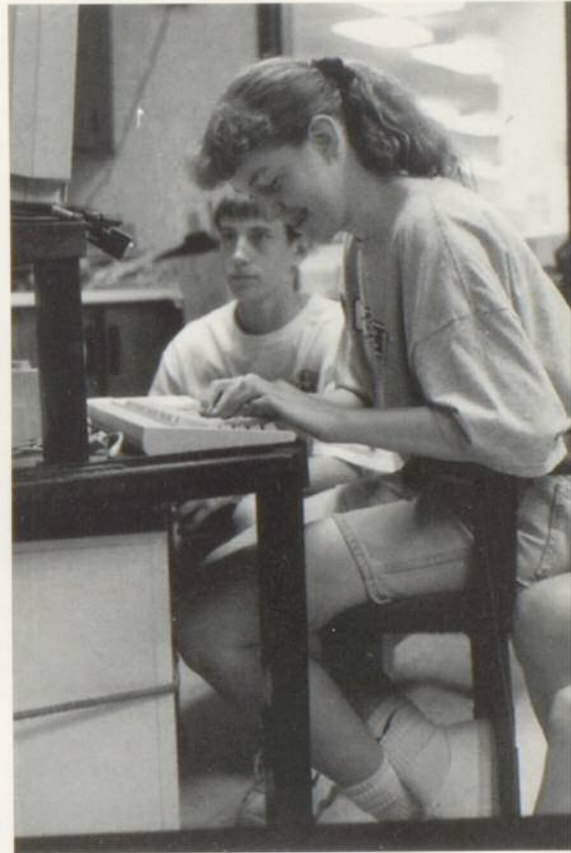

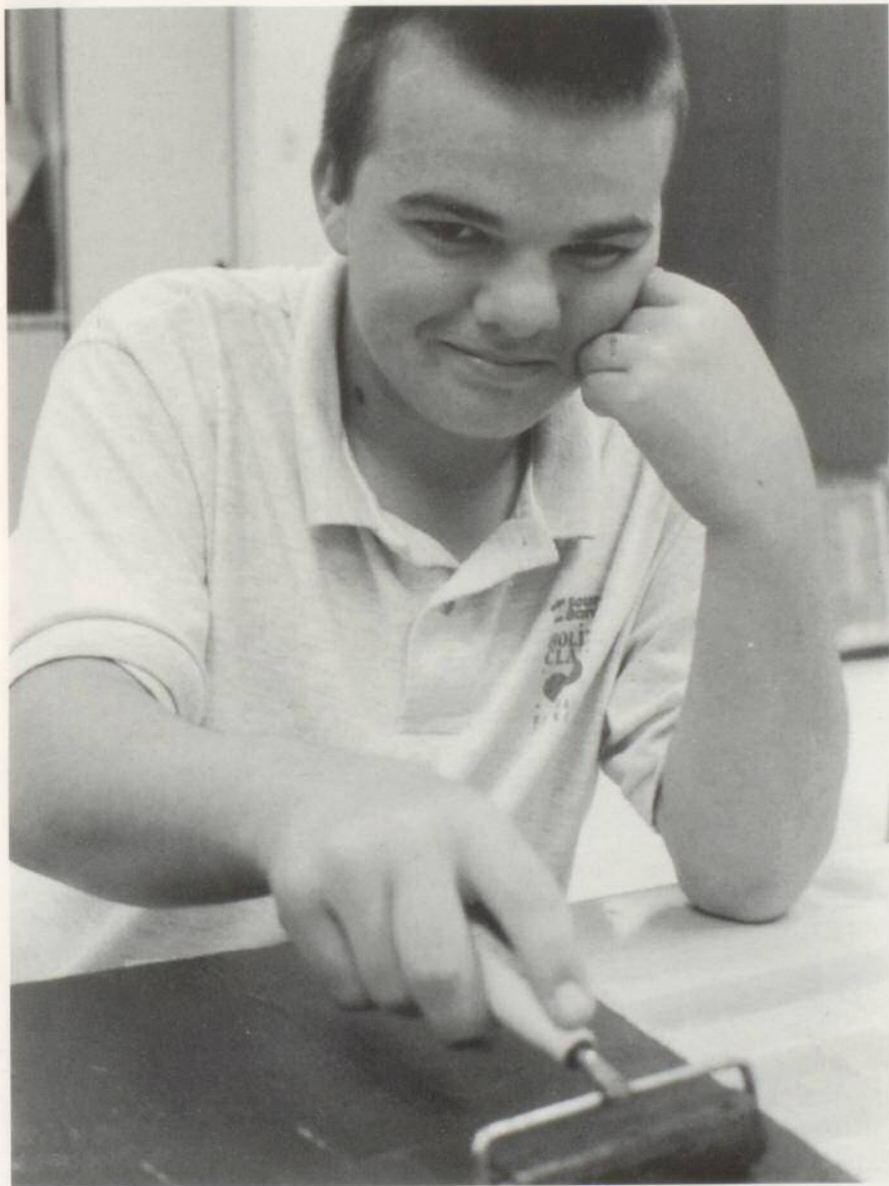

Due to our size, when a student enters seventh grade at Argos, it is a lot like entering high school. Since we share faculty members, facilities, and scheduling, it may be difficult to tell the difference at first. However, there are some unique facets to the junior high schedule. For example, the Unified Arts program. This a group of nine-week courses that are offered to junior high students on a rotating basis. They are in the areas of music, industrial arts, agriculture, family and consumer sciences, and health. Offering these courses makes the junior high schedule more flexible. In addition, it provides some students the only opportunity to have a study hall. Those who elect Band or Choir may have to sacrifice that study hall to be in those classes.

Upper left--Rachel Jackson (rear) and April Pearson (front) practice some alternative learning styles. Center left--Dustin Howell prepares to do some printing by rolling paint onto a printing block.

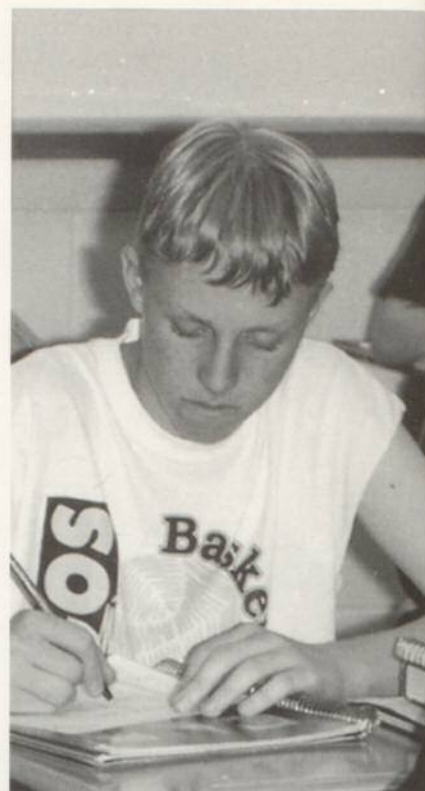

Brian Zentz looks on as Shelly Shafer fine tunes her Power Point presentation.

Seventh and Eighth Graders Work Hard

The Junior High Experience

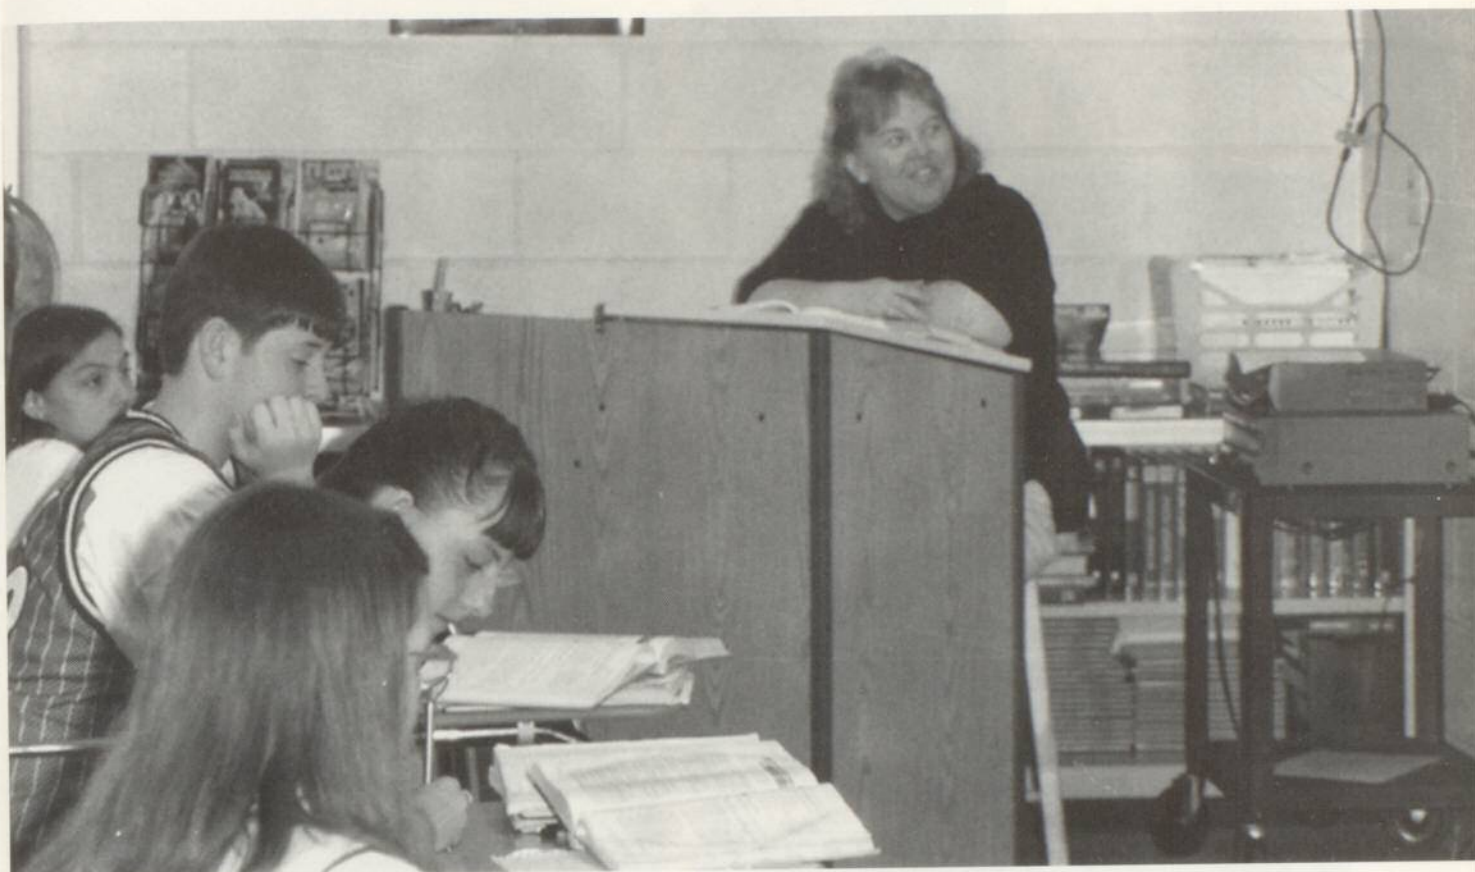

Along with the Unified Arts courses each day, every junior high student has to take several other daily classes as well. These meet throughout the entire year and include English, Social Studies, Math, Science, and Activity Period. Needless to say, there aren't many of these students with too much time on their hands. The teachers and administration make sure that every second of the day counts. For seventh graders this can be a rude awakening after elementary school.

One of the most popular events every other year is the Jump Rope for Heart sponsored by the American Heart Association and the Elementary PE department. The jumpers collect pledge money which in turn benefits everyone involved. A portion of all donations goes to purchase equipment for elementary gym classes.

Upper right--Mrs. Carol Arnett is in charge of the event. She makes sure everything goes as planned. Center left--Parents get involved too. Here Pastor Rob Mace helps his daughter achieve her goal. Middle--Two friends do some doubles jumping. Center right--The tunes were provided by JC McLaughlin, the music master!

Variety Show held in auditorium for first time.

Don't Touch That Dial!

On November 7, the Dragon Debut took center stage. The show was held in the auditorium for the very first time. Eight judged acts competed for the top prize of fifty dollars in front of a sell-out crowd. Even though all of the performers gave their all, only one act could walk away with first prize. This year the winner was a quartet of Jaime Rice, Sindy Wilhelm, Nicole Sherwood, and Shelly Harshbarger. Second place was awarded to Luke Reynolds for his piano solo, and third was awarded to Jaime Rice for her vocal solo.

The band, choir, swing choir, and cheerleaders also performed. Most of the selections fit nicely into the theme of music from television and movies.

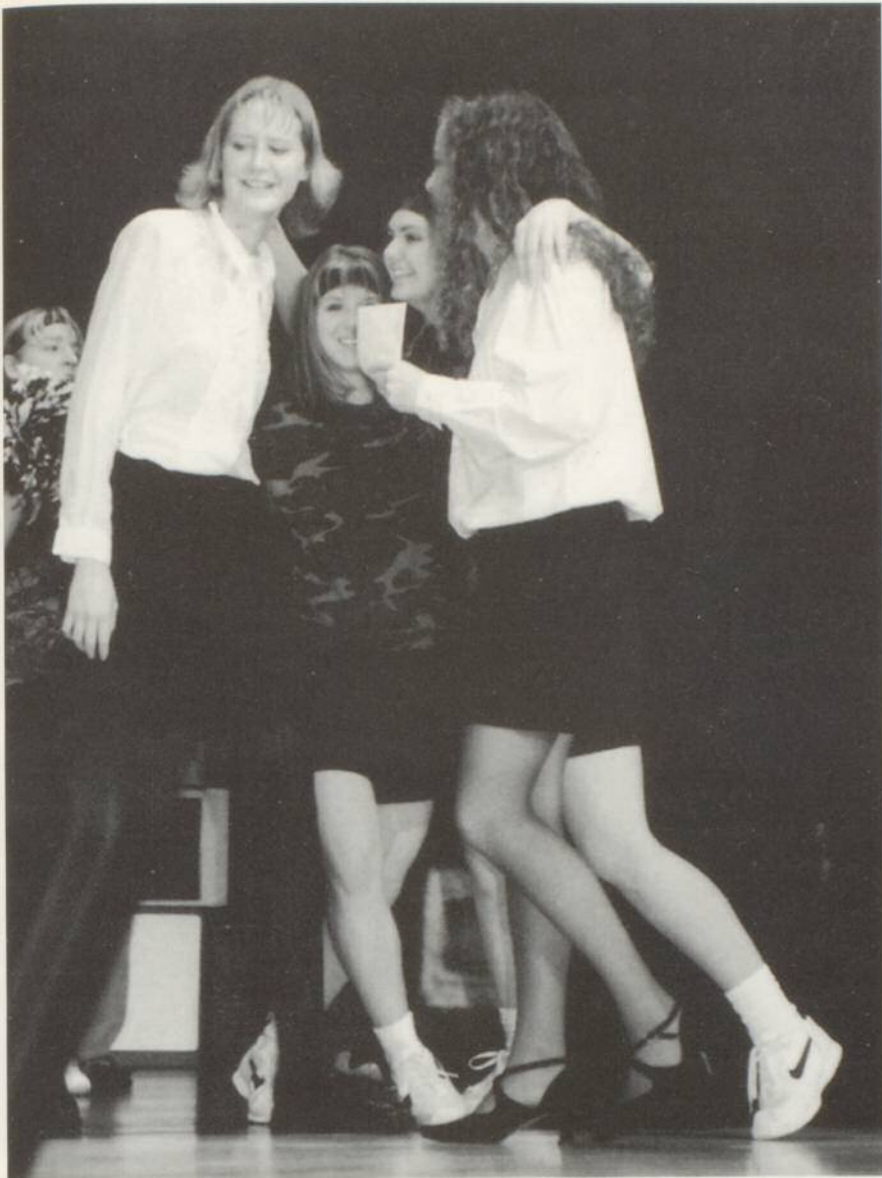

Richard Warren shows his enthusiasm for the choir's performance by giving it two thumbs up.

Brandon Shafer, Bill Downey, Kim Speegle, Christina Hammond, Laura Barrera, and Kari VanDerWeele sing a "neat" 50's song.

Top: Emily Cripe plays her saxophone to the popular Aladin song "Friend Like Me."

Shelly Harshbarger, Sindy Wilhelm, Nicole Sherwood, and Jaime Rice celebrate winning first place for their song "Stand By Me."

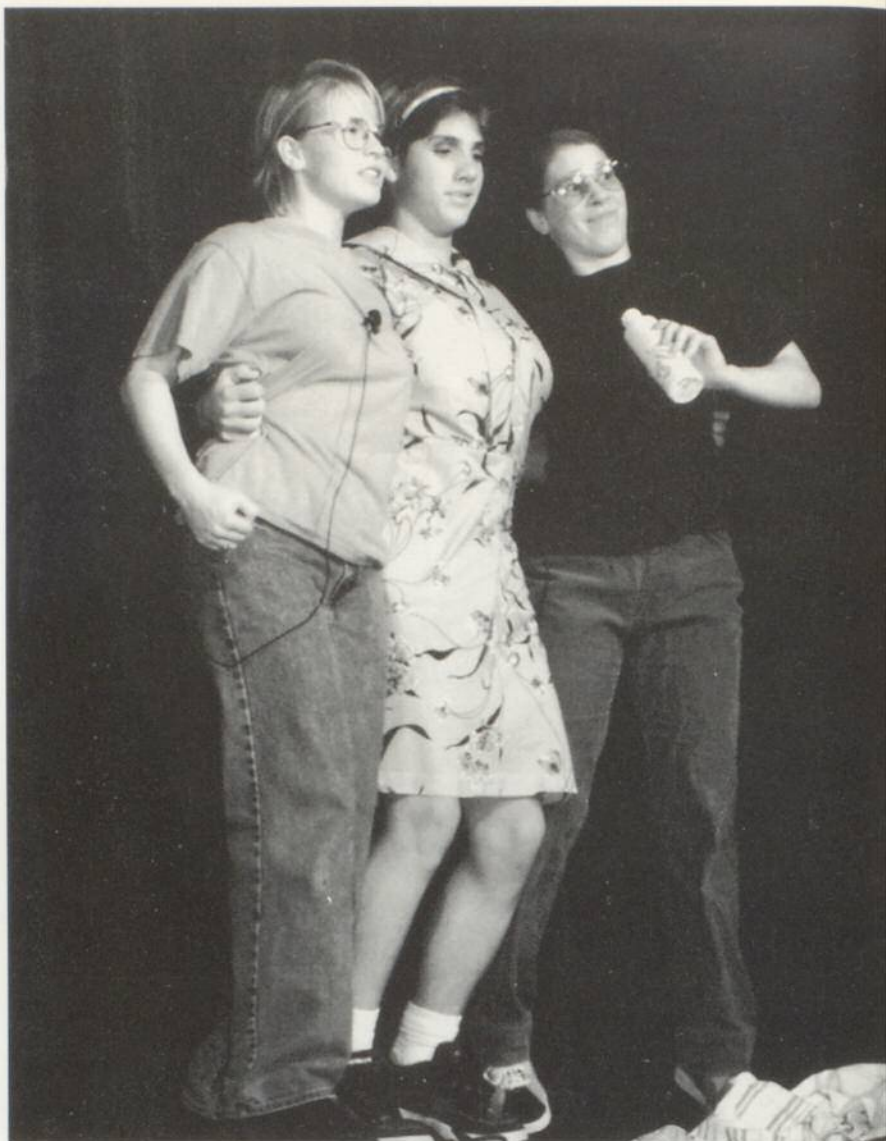

Jaime Rice entertains the crowd by singing "Unchained Melody."

Ryan Rimel performs "Raider's March" on his Tenor Sax.

Rachel Reynold (front), Andy Martin, Mary Keck, Talitha Harrell, and Adam Gudeman show off the latest in Flinstone wear as the choir performs "Stay Tuned."

Band peeps-up home games.

Making Music

The Argos High School band does a wide variety of performances throughout the school year. Of course, they do the Variety Show, Christmas Concert, and Spring Concert, but they do a number of others as well.

The band not only marches in the Blueberry Festival Parade on Labor Day, but they march in the Memorial Day Parade in Argos as well. The band also plays at all of the home Varsity Boys Basketball games and an occasional girls' game. The band plays at all pep-rallies too.

The final performance is always graduation, where the band plays processional and recessional.

Katie Nifong, Kerri VanDerWeele, and Traci Ummel prepare to get on the bus so they can go to Plymouth to march in the Blueberry Parade.

TopLeft: JC McLaughin watches an intense game from his seat behind the drum set during pep band.

Middle: A group of choir members help to make the Winter Concert a great success.

Quentin Flagg and his back-up singers (Jennifer Emenaker, Jennifer Warren, Amy Dorsey, and Carrie Andrews) take the audience back to the time of Elvis at the Winter Concert.

Some of the boys from the high school choir really get into their performance at the Spring Concert.

Kathy Overmyer performs her solo at the Spring Concert.

Music department talent entertains all through the year.

Concerts a Success in New Auditorium

Each year the music department puts on two concerts for the community. They put on a Christmas concert in December and a spring concert in May. Each concert showcases the junior and senior high choirs and bands as well as several individual acts. The Christmas concert consists of one concert for both junior and senior high. The spring concert, however, is split into two portions: one for high school and one for junior high. Each portion of the spring concert includes an awards program. This year, both concerts were held in the auditorium for the first time. Both were well attended and enjoyed by all who attended.

Shelly Harshbarger (Fruma Sarah) lightens up the musical with a little bit of humor as only she could do it.

Seniors Rachel Reynolds and Talitha Harrell play the youngest daughters of Tevye.

Josh Simpson puts his heart and soul into the lead part of Tevye as he performs in his second musical here at Argos.

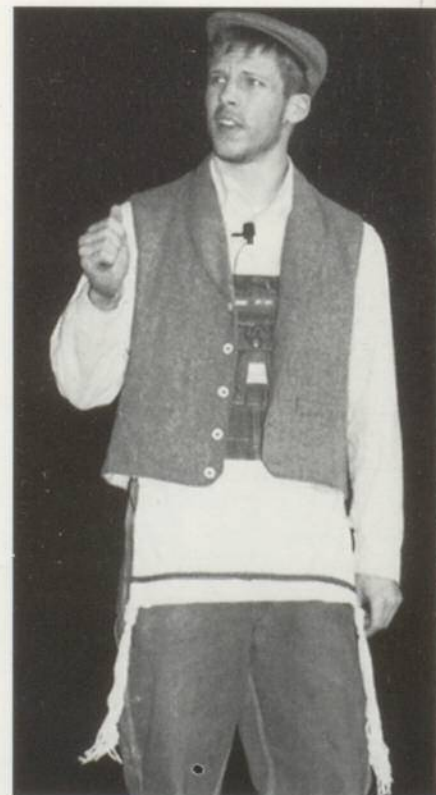

Argos displays its musical talent in "Fiddler."

Spring Musical is a Great Success.

On April 24 and 25 the Argos High School Choir presented "Fiddler on the Roof." Like the Dragon Debut before it, this production showcased some of Argos' best and brightest. Also like the Dragon Debut this year, the spring musical was performed for the first time in the new auditorium. With a cast of experienced seniors such as Josh Simpson, Jaime Rice, Nikki Sherwood, and Sindy Wilhelm leading the underclassmen, who also played vital roles, the Spring Musical was a great success. Story by Laura Barrera.

Homecoming took on a new look this year at Argos High School! Not only was the event moved from varsity half-time to between games, but instead of electing a queen and two runners-up, students chose a queen, king, prince, and princess. This year's senior class swept the event, as Angie Dunlap and Andy Emenaker took queen and king honors. Receiving the honor of first prince and princess were Eric Stults and Nicole Sherwood. All the candidates were dressed attractively in their gowns and suits. After the game the student council sponsored the annual homecoming dance, which was enjoyed by all.

Going Back in Time

The Sunshine Society held its annual semi-formal dance on Saturday, February 7, 1998. The theme this year was a medeval theme, entitled "A Knight to Remember." This year the club crowned its first freshman Sunshine queen, Emily Nifong. Emily earned this honor by collecting the most stickers during freshman pledge week. The club also held a 50/50 drawing during the dance, earning both the club and the winner approximately $50.

Juniors Put on Prom for Seniors

The Juniors once again hosted the annual Junior-Senior Prom. The prom was held at the Warsaw Center Lake Pavilion on May 2. The Music Machine provided the music. The Junior class chose gold and hunter green as their colors and used ivy, ribbons, and balloons to decorate.

This year a Senior King and Queen and a Junior Prince and Princess were again chosen by their classmates at the prom. Ricky Willard was named Prom King, and Queen honors went to Angie Dunlap. Doug Heckamen and Mandy Burroughs were chosen as the Prince and Princess of the night

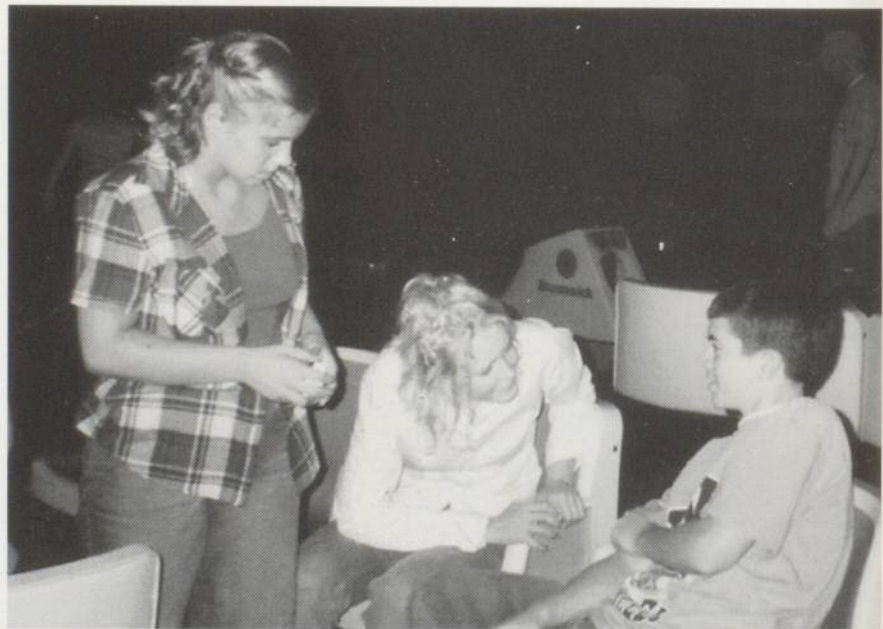

The Lions Club again hosted the after prom at the Plymouth Quick Lanes bowling alley from 1 a.m. to 4 a.m.. The students and their dates enjoyed bowling and free pop and ice cream. The Lions Club also gave away monetary prizes.

FHA Chooses Most Desirable

The annual FHA MORP dance was held on Saturday, February 28, 1998, after the South Bend Adams boys' basketball game. The Music Place provided the music for the dance where the Most Desirable Guy and the Most Desirable Girl were crowned. The first choices, Steve Braasch and Courtney Gaby, were not present, so the second choices, Jason Nichols and Laura Barrera, were named in their places. The decorations were purple and teal streamers. This was also the last time the dance will be held after a boys' basketball game due to the short amount of time left after the games.

Many Students Participate in Graduation

The 112th graduation exercises were held on Sunday, May 31, 1998, at 2:30 p.m. To accommodate all the friends and family, graduation was held in the gym, with the greeting line following outside. This year there were many speakers and acts to fill the afternoon, including speeches by Valedictorian

Amber Dorsey and Salutatorian Stephanie Hammond, a solo by Jaime Rice, and a number by the quartet of Shelly Harshbarger, Jaime Rice, Nicole Sherwood, and Sindy Wilhelm. Fifty students graduated in the class of '98, including our foreign exchange student, David Tuaty.

Best Ever?

South Bend was the site of the 1997 boys semi-state championship game. Final score was Fort Wayne Canterbury 2, Argos 1. The loss that night was the only one in the '97 season for the Dragons. Unfortunately it was also the end of a near-perfect season. The Dragons finished with a 21-1 record overall, 16-0 in the regular season. The Argos soccer program has always been successful, but no Argos soccer team has ever won as many games in a single season as this year's Dragons. On the way, they won the Riley and Argos Invationals, sectional, and regional. The Dragons, once again coached by Tim VanDuyne, showed the rest of Indiana that they couldn't step on small schools. Argos, throughout the season, beat many schools bigger then they and more often than not had more fans at away games than the home teams. Many people in the community say that this year's team was the best team Argos has ever had. Only the future will tell.

A Tale To Be Told

The Argos Junior Varsity Boys' Soccer Team came through with another winning season. Over the years many players have made the advance from junior varsity to varsity. The JV level is very competitive, and this year, like many years in the past, Argos athletes have met the challenge head on. This year's team was Steve Braasch, Tyler Chittum, Brandon Shafer, Matt Shirk, Josh VanVactor, Jeff Good, Adam Gudeman, Danny Perdieu, Tim Stevens, Matt Chizum, Craig Longstreth, Jeff Stewart, Jim Burroughs, and Luke Reynolds. Coached by Boyd Hollabaugh, the JV Dragons went on to a record of 11-4-4.

Lady Dragons Once Again Fall Short.

After falling short of the sectional title last year, the Lady Dragons once again found themselves matched up with CGA in this year's championship game. Finding themselves behind in the early going, the team rallied back, tying the game at 2-2. The tie remained until a sudden death shoot out, which once again determined that the Lady Dragons would not advance. Congratulations to the team on a fine season with a record of 11-4-2. Story by Jenn Yoder.

Another Fun Season Ends.

As the 1997 volleyball season came to a close, the varsity team finished with an 11-17 record. After getting off to a rather slow start, it was somewhat of an up-and-down season for the girls. Coach Newell felt that overall it was a fun year. Some of the highlights of the season included winning over very talented Hobart and Washington Township teams at the Washington Township Invitational. Another high point was at one of the girls' home games when Karla Smith finally found out how to use her head.

The JV team adjusted fairly well to their first-year coach Amy (Eley) Overmyer. Although they had a rough year, the JV team saw improvement with each match.

Coach Newell is looking forward to a strong nucleus of returning players for next year.

A Defining Season

This year's squad was led by a strong crew of upper classmen, including 5 seniors: Bill Redinger, Eric Stults, Josh Simpson, Tom McFarland, and Josh Umbaugh. With this experience, the team started the year 4-1 and was ranked as high as third in Class 1A. The season had many strong points: Chris Kessler's two record-breaking games in assists, a huge win over Tippecanoe Valley, and an intense overtime thriller with M.C. Marquette. Although the year ended with a disappointing loss in the sectionals, the team, with a 9-11 record, fought hard and gave its all every game.

Season is Fun and Educational.

The boys' JV basketball team ended the season at 8-10. The season was a learning experience for everyone, as they had only 5 returning upper classmen and 2 returning JV players. They had 2 first year coaches in Coach Brian Jennings and Coach John Johnson. The season was up and down with the team winning some big games and losing some big games. They had problems throughout the season keeping people eligible, because of the limited number of quarters one can play and other problems. Overall, the JV had a fun year and learned many new things.

Fresh Give Coach Good First Season.

C-Team's new coach John Johnson had a good first season, finishing with a .500 season of 6 wins and 6 loses. The team started to struggle early in the season due to freshmen who played both JV and C-Team games, some of who ran out of quarters in the last game of the year. Several of the games, six at least, were played with only five players.

The team survived the handicap and finished with the .500 season by beating several tough opponents and even by beating Culver twice.

Girls' Basketball Team Makes Strides

It was a year of firsts in basketball for the Lady Dragons: the first year of class basketball, the first year with new coach Shelly Newell, and the first year out of the Warsaw Sectional. Now traveling to Culver, the team saw a great opportunity to advance.

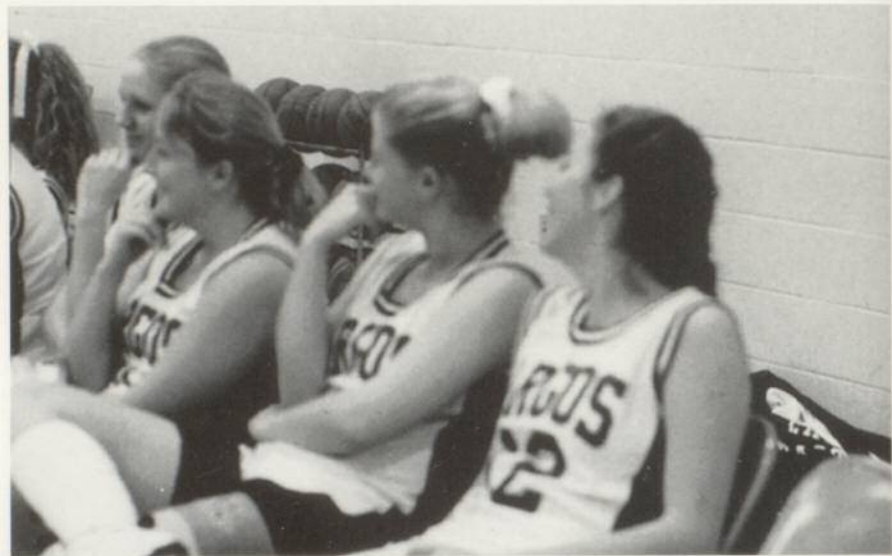

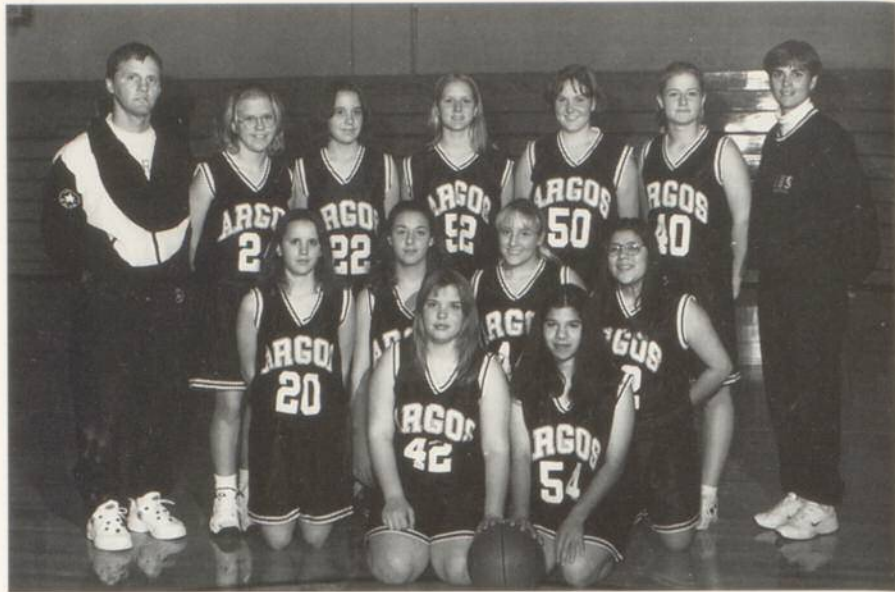

The Lady Dragons faced Michigan City Marquette in the first game, a team that had previously beaten them by twenty-five. The girls prevailed, beating the Lady Blazers by ten. They advanced to the championship game against foe Triton. They lost that game by six. Even though they didn't win Sectional, no one will forget the strides these ladies made for Lady Dragon basketball.

A Season Of Learning

The combination of new coach DeWayne Stiles and a young team made it a challenging year for the JV Girls' Basketball Team. Although they started the season with ten players, they ended it with only seven.

With a record of only 2 wins and 17 losses, the girls could have easily given up early in the season, but Coach Stiles helped them build their desire to win. They practiced hard and toward the end of the season, there was noticeable improvement.

In the JV tournament, they earned last place, losing to Triton in the first round and host team Bethany Christian in the consolation game. The girls went on to beat Bethany later in the season, as well as defeating Oregon Davis by one point.

The girls look forward to further improving their play and record next season.

Golf Teams Swing Into Action

The golf team had a successful season this year and the prospects look better for the future. Phil Ummel led the team all year with an average of 41 per 9 hole round. Phil was the only senior, and Craig Longstreth and Shawn Webster were the only juniors. Also on the team were Adam Gudeman, Tyler Chittum, Brandon Shafer, and Nick Shafer. The individual highlight of the season was Phil winning the County medalist with a score of 75.

A Season of Winning

The 1998 Argos Dragon Baseball Team built on last year's second place Sectional finish by fielding a destructive offensive team. Led by Seniors Eric Stults, Josh Simpson, Bill Redinger, and David Tuaty, the team won the Knox Invitational and ended the season with more than 20 homeruns. One of the highlights of the season was when the team travelled to Kankakee Valley, who was ranked #1 with a 20-2 record, and came away with a 10-9 win! With a 13-6 record, the Dragons hoped to accomplish what no other Argos team had done...win a Sectional title!

The Dragons did just that. The team defeated South Central 10-2 in the championship game to win the Sectional. This was a first in the history of Argos Baseball. The team then advanced to Regionals where they would play the Kouts Mustangs. All of the team's hard work, however, was not enough to bring home a Regional victory. Jeff Stewart hit a home run in the third inning for the lone Argos run, as Kouts went on to win 3-1. Even though the team fell short, they gave Argos a season to be proud of.

Not Just the Usual Cheerleaders

At some schools, cheerleaders are stereotyped as bubbly, blond girls with lots of hair and big smiles. The cheerleaders at Argos are a lot more than that. All of their hard work and dedication for the 1997-1998 season was easily observed. There were many changes that the girls had to work around this year. This fall was the first year in quite a while in which the cheerleaders didn't cheer at the soccer games. Other obstacles included injuries and the coaching position being shared by Mrs. Tari Evans and Mrs. Amy Overmyer. The four senior girls' leadership and skills will be greatly missed next season. The cheerleaders put forth a good overall effort during this year.

The girls softball team for the 1997-98 season was definitely a young one. The majority of the team had little or no experience playing with one another. The girls worked around a very young pitching team, which will eventually develop. First-year coach Audra Sweany, along with first-year assistant Melody Avery, commented that although the JV/Varsity combined record was 4-23, the season was not unsuccessful. Much improvement was seen both individually and also as a team. Due to losing four seniors next season, returning juniors Stacy Evans, Katie Nifong, Kristy Robinson, and Erin Welborn will bring the team together for the 1998-99 season.

Nicole, You have blessed our lives by just being you. You have given us so much happiness, pride, and love. Our best wishes to you and your wonderful friends of the class of '98.

Jenn, That smile will take you miles! You have a bright future ahead. Remember-the view from the top will always be worth the climb.

with love,
from your family

Jerry Gates, President of the Argos Community Schools Building Corporation, addresses the audience at the dedication ceremony.

Sophomores Liz Hayn, Statia Hall, and Kari VanDerWeele work to win the hula-hoop pass during Class Olympics.

Argos students and faculty prepare for the end the year.

Kissing the Year
Good-bye.

As the year came to a close at Argos Community Schools, there was still much activity, both inside and outside of the building. As the seniors prepared for graduation, the Student Council and NHS were preparing for the Class Olympics, which are always a huge success. Teachers were preparing their finals and figuring grades. Sixth graders prepared to enter junior high, eighth graders got set to become freshmen, and seniors prepared to leave high school all together. Yes, a lot goes on at Argos, but it's all a part of kissing the year good-bye.

Mr. Kitch and Mr. Davis try to keep things under control at Class Olympics.

Junior Co-editors Jennifer Webb and Jeff Stewart show their friendship.

Before we say good-bye to the 1998 Dragon's Tale, we would like to thank our Yearbook Staff members for their efforts and contributions. Special thanks go to Junior Co-Editors Jeff Stewart and Jenny Webb who helped with the Academic, Organization, and Album Sections and to Andy Leffert who spent many hours in our darkroom developing pictures. Our Senior editors, Stephanie Hammond and Amber Dorsey, deserve much recognition. Amber and Stephanie had creative ideas, mastered PageMaker, wrote copy, completed layout and sold ads. They also spent many hours in June helping us finish the yearbook. We would also like to thank our school photographers from McDonald's Studio at both Susan Taylor and Melissa DeFord of Herff Jones for their assistance.
