Student Life

Freshman along with Mrs. Spencer, teacher and Mrs. Bright, parent decorate for homecoming with a Caribbean flare.

It's Carnival Time. Families, faculty, organizations all come together to have a fun evening during the PEP Club's Carnival Night.

Activities, Academics and Attitude

Kelsey Strahla explains just how "Popular" she is, and how "Popular" you can be too!!

Argos Community Schools offer many activities, as well as a strong academic program. Kids are encouraged to participate in sports, the arts, and school organizations as well as strive to maintain academic excellence. With strong parental support and a dedicated staff, Argos Community Schools continue to remain a strong focal point of the community.

Mya Detwiler

Games, prizes and family fun

Ms. Jackson runs the sucker pyramid booth. Pull a sucker out with a marked tip, win a prize.

The Argos P.E.P. Club again sponsored the Elementary Fun Fair. Teachers and parents run booths during assigned shifts to allow families to have a fun filled night. This year the P.E.P. Club also invited high school extra-curricular clubs to join in the fun by running a booth of their own. This turned into a great success.

The Old Gold Club also helped out by selling refreshments and snacks. Each club participating had to come up with their own idea for their booth. Kelsey Strahla the representative for the IHSAA Tobacco and Drug Free Campaign was also in attendance, talking with the elementary students, giving them tatoos and other items and signing posters. Attendance at the fair was exceptional!!!!

Mrs. Judy Harness makes a personalized hat for Katie Clark and the hat booth.

Casie Rowe, parent, takes her shift at the putt-putt golf stop.

SENIOR PROM

This years theme was set with a Hawaiian tone, with lei's ready to be placed on the royalties necks

Kristen Wilhelm and her date find a place to sit and talk with friends.

"Mackenzie Williams and Kelsey Hollabaugh where named King and Queen"

All the seniors attending always get together for a group picture during the evening.

Juniors Jena VanDerWeele and Mitchel Deon seem to really be enjoying their evening.

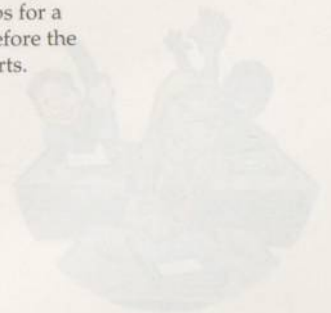

Mrs. Colhoun and Mrs. Hull help with the registration and voting of king, queen, prince, and princess.

"Jami Hooker and Scott Sanders were voted as Prom princess and prince."

The entire royal court stops for a picture before the music starts.

This young mind is hard at work during a study period.

Taking notes during a lecture is just part of the assignment in this class.

Reading assignments are a big part of the academic program. A book quiz awaits this student.

Elementary

Coloring helps with eye/hand coordination along with learning the spelling and color of each crayon for this young student.

A quick smile for the camera and then back to her studies.

Recess!! The time that all students look forward to.

Academics

It's Guitar Hero Time!!! at the fun fair.

In 6th grade students are assigned lockers to hold their books. Students switch classes during the day, depending on the subject they are learning.

Students enjoy the new seating arrangements in the cafeteria.

During recess students have time to play with their friends.

Lunch is a great time to talk with friends and make plans for after school.

Mr. VanDuyne works with his class on a math equation.

Mr. VanDuyne watches the kids during the fun fair as they try the rock band game.

These young ladies with their newly made hats work on a sand art project.

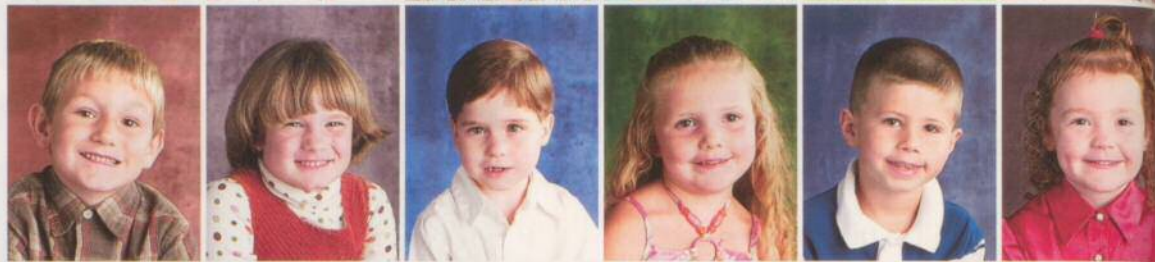

During P.E. with Mr. Snyder this group of girls get instructions on hockey.

Faculty and Staff celebrate successes

At the end of the year, the staff meets for a final time. This year a roast was held for different things that have happened during the course of the year to faculty and staff that show that "to error is human" whether it is funny, sad or uplifting. Dr. Lucht presented gifts to staff members who fit into this category.
