The Art Show was a great success. Students who are enrolled in art class have an opportunity to participate in the art show. Students are encouraged to present their artistic abilities to students, faculty and the community during the show.

The environmental science class takes a river raft expedition each September learning and studying different things with the help of the guides. It's a great day of discovery and fun.

SENIOR

PROJECT

Ally Rospopo and Mileigh

Ally Rospopo decided to use her senior project to not only show her love of animals, but to help someone realize the world around them by training a leader dog for the blind. Ally has raised labradors for 4-H competing at both the local and state level, but had never taken on quite the task of raising a leader dog. Mileigh entered Argos High School after Labor Day and after an introduction and guidelines established by Ally, embraced Argos with enthusiasm and the students and community embraced her and Ally with love and admiration. Ally involved Mileigh in everything she did during the course of the day and Mileigh eagerly participated, making friends and learning socialization skills. Ally made several appearances at local civic groups explaining her project and attending regular meetings, making sure that Mileigh was on track to complete the program. At the end of the year, she even participated in graduation.

Kayla Drew Raises Money for the Homeless

Shirts were available for sale to help raise money for the shelter. Here a group of students and staff show off their new purchase.

Children who received some the gifts delivered pose for a picture.

Baked good were made by Kayla and her helpers to deliver along with the gifts.

Kayla used the money from the sale of her t-shirts to purchase mittens for those less fortunate.

Kayla also purchased christmas gifts, wrapped them and delivered them to the shelter for young children.

Santa's stockings are filled and ready to be delivered.

Kayla Sliter puts on a Swing Choir Spectacular

Madeline Williams performs as part of the Argos Swing Choir.

Ms. Overmyer thanks Kayla for inviting the Bremen Swing Choir to perform.

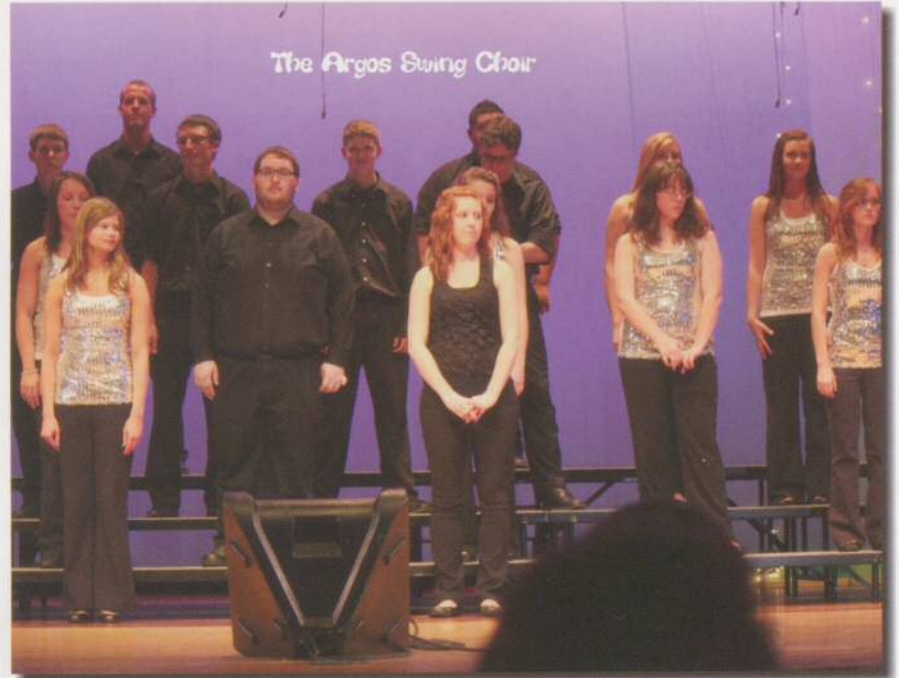

The Bremen Swing Choir performs several 40's style songs from the upcoming Spring Show.

The Bremen Swing Choir

Kayla Sliter based her senior project on MUSIC. She invited the Bremen Swing Choir to perform with the Argos Swing Choir and bring two communities together to enjoy the sound of Music. Kayla planned the entire program, complete with publicity, ticket sales, program and entertainment. The program was a great success and everyone enjoyed themselves.

The Argos Swing Choir

The Men of the Bremen Swing Choir get ready to "swing" 40's style with the tip of their hats.

The Argos Swing Choir are ready to "Rock the Mic".

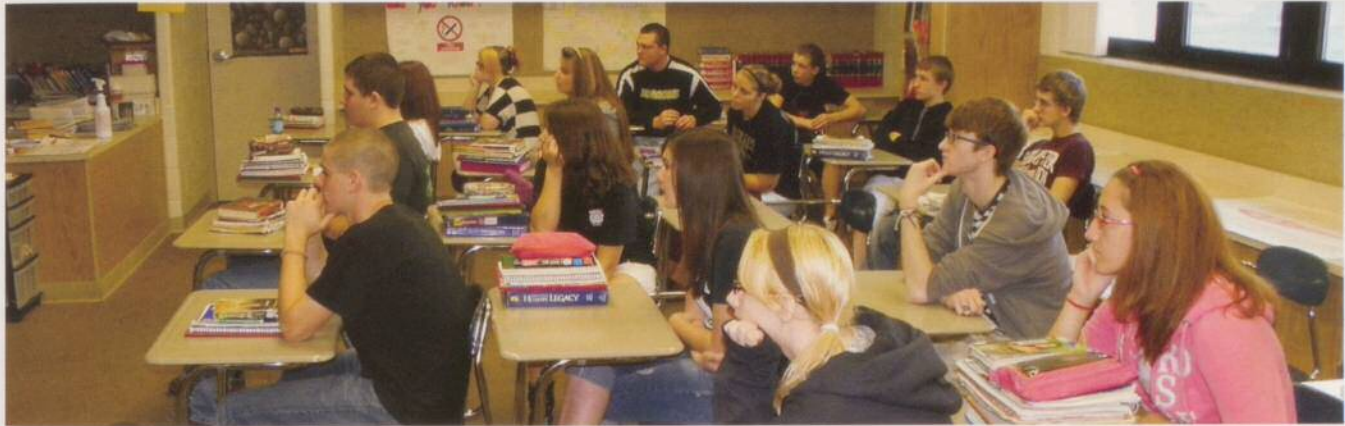

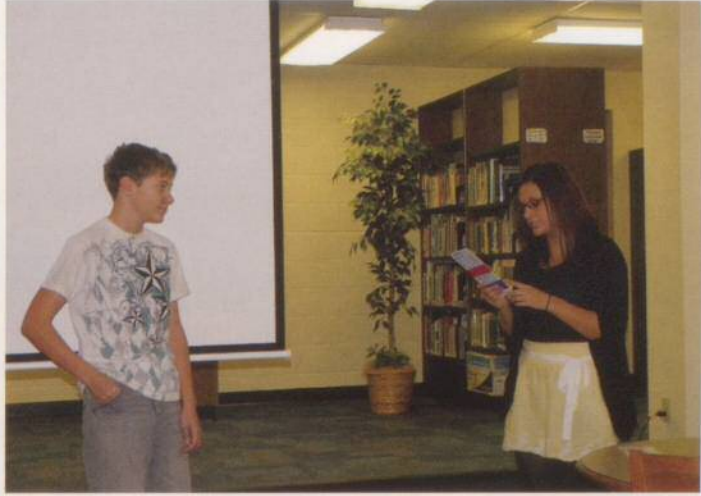

Senior Projects

Keri Bair and Carly McCay work with classes to make them aware of their senior project subjects.

Information, Awareness and Discovery are all part of the process.

Blast

From the Past

The Argos High School Music Department once again proudly displayed their talents this year in the annual Variety Show. Students in grades 9-12 are encouraged to participate and compete for top prizes in vocal, instrumental and skit and dance categories. The show is presented on Friday and Saturday night, with the winners being announced on Saturday night, chosen by outside judges. Each year brings new surprises from talented students that shine on stage.
