HELLO ALL:

THE CHALLENGES FACED BY ALBERTA IN 2020!

During the years 2014 to 2018 (mainly the NDP era), data shows the following trends, all of which must now be dealt with by the Alberta UCP government, while also meeting the challenges of maintaining Alberta's oil and gas revenue base that has been under attack from both Federal and Provincial politicians as well as many anti-oil interest groups.

- Public Sector employment increased 21.5% (Statscan) during those four years (79,000 jobs were added to public sector payrolls);
- Private Sector employment in the same period decreased by 3% (private sector jobs fell by 46,000 since the beginning of that period);
- Almost 25% (1 in 4) Albertans now work for government (with a disproportionately higher percentage of that number in the Capital Region), compared to 1 in 6 twenty years earlier;
- Comparative data (public to private sector employees) shows that a few of the advantages for those working in the public sector are as follows:
