WEXIT GOES MAINSTREAM!

By: Rob Anderson

Former Airdrie MLA and Provincial Opposition House Leader (Alberta)

In what may well eventually turn out to be one of the most important events in modern Canadian political history, well-respected former Conservative MP Jay Hill, has been named at the Federal WEXIT party's interim leader.

The majority of Central and Eastern Canadian politicians and voters are likely oblivious to how this may well reshape the country - and possibly reshape the country's very borders for that matter. However, many of us in the West, particularly in Alberta and Saskatchewan, know just how strong Western separatist sentiment is growing here.

Put plainly, Canadian confederation, as currently constituted, does not work for the West ... period. The policies of the Liberals, Bloc, NDP and Greens are entirely destructive to our economic present and future, and are sentencing tens of thousands of families to unemployment, poverty and hopelessness.

The difference in viewpoints between the West and the Rest of Canada as it relates to the free market, energy, environmental stewardship, socialism, and personal and social responsibility, are literally night and day. It's the equivalent of asking Bernie Sanders and Fidel Castro to find common ground with Ronald Reagan and Ralph Klein. It's not happening.

The West needs to present a clear set of conditions for our continued involvement Canada - conditions like unfettered access to domestic and global markets for sale of our resources; scrapping equalization; representation by population in Parliament; and a devolution of powers and revenues from our bloated and corrupt Federal Government in Ottawa to the individual provinces - just to name a few.

If the rest of Canada agrees to these conditions and protects them by way of constitutional amendments, then Canada may be worth saving and will become an economic world power that will benefit Canadians from coast to coast. If they will not agree to these conditions, a new autonomous nation of Western Canada is the only logical choice and will result in one of the most economically and socially prosperous countries on the planet.

Currently, polling shows about a third of Western Canadians favour exploring separation. About a third are dead set opposed, and another third - the swing vote - are willing to listen to both sides.

Which brings me to Premier Jason Kenney. Kenney is an avowed federalist who believes that if you hold views like mine or Jay Hill's on this issue, you are unpatriotic. As he said in response to some in his caucus, including the independent minded Drew Barnes, "you either love your country or you don't".

Respectfully, that sort of weak kneed, blind, wrap-yourself-in-the-flag response to Western alienation and those of us wanting to fix this entirely dysfunctional nation at present, is ineffective leadership by Mr. Kenney who I have a lot of respect for. It should be below someone of his intelligence.

I'm not sure if this is him politically posturing to one day run for Prime Minister or a reflection of his lack of real life business negotiation experience, but one thing is for sure, taking your province's strongest leverage off the table is not a recipe for getting anything meaningful accomplished on this issue.

Also problematic for the UCP and Kenney as it relates to their electoral fortunes, are his attacks on the new WEXIT leader, Jay Hill, hypocritically calling on him to give up his Federal pension for taking on the WEXIT leadership (a pension, incidentally, that Mr. Kenney personally still collects).

Mr. Kenney is playing with electoral fire by attacking the Federal and Provincial independence movements in such a partisan manner. He needs to remember that the only real threat to his and his parties' re-election in this province comes from splitting the vote with a credible provincial independence party, and ceding power to them - or more likely - splitting the vote and handing power to the NDP. He needs to give his head a shake on this one.

In an ideal world, Kenney would be the leader Alberta needs now to take on Ottawa using a "I really don't want the West to separate, but if we don't do these specific things as a nation, that's where this is likely headed" approach.

By doing so and implementing all of the Fair Deal Report recommendations along with provincial tax collection, he would minimize vote splitting within the Alberta provincial electorate as those with views like mine stick with the UCP for the time being, thereby reducing the risk of the NDP winning the next election; and all the while strengthening our province's, and the West's, bargaining position with our Ottawa overlords.

Meanwhile, Jay Hill's Federal WEXIT party would ideally send a strong number of new MPs (say 15 to start) to Parliament after the next election, targeting Federal Conservative ridings with weaker representation on this issue, while leaving strong Alberta First voices in their party such as Shannon Stubbs and Michelle Rempel, to keep up the fight on the Federal Conservative side of the aisle.

I have no fear of vote splitting Federally. It may cost the Conservatives a few seats in Vancouver, Winnipeg and downtown Edmonton and Calgary, but the vast majority of seats will either go Conservative or flip to WEXIT, thereby increasing the West's bargaining position with Canada in the same manner as the Bloc Quebecois has forced the hand of Ottawa for years using the same strategy.

My plea is simple. Don't be blindly loyal to political organizations and governments. They are not your friends. They serve only themselves. You don't owe them anything. Be loyal to your family, friends, and neighbours living in your community and province that are having their lives ruined in various ways by the horrendous and predatory attacks on the West by politicians in Ottawa who are obsessed with maintaining power, addicted to plundering the West, and in many cases, are extremists worshipping at the altar of the new-age religions of "social wokeness" and "climate crisis".

Do what's right for those you love, not for those who, quite frankly, could care less about you and your loved ones.

So bravo to Jay Hill for stepping forward and taking on the inevitable slings and arrows of those wanting to paint him as traitorous and extreme. You should be commended for coming out of a comfortable retirement to stand up for the West against the tyrants set on our economic destruction. Jason Kenney and his caucus members should take note of what true courage and loyalty look like. It would look good on them if they did.

OUR READERS' COMMENTS SECTION

1. From a Reader: If western Canadian provinces decide they want to leave confederation, why would they care what the Canadian constitution has to say? The organization gets its act together, obtains international recognition and announces it is gone. Then we sit down and negotiate separation from Canada East as equals. A separate Canada West is only invisible to those who lack vision or remain tied to a constitution that renders residents of western provinces second class citizens. No one believes that Canada would have a constitution that allows provinces to break away with ease. The constitution is written to ensure perpetual control by Central Canada. Those who are content with that will never be masters of their own destiny or other than servants of Eastern superiors. Many westerners are fed up with the status quo and want a change. Discussing the possibilities and issues involved is healthy and reasonable. Alberta independence or nothing will leave you with nothing. People will not support a movement until they are assured that governance and legal issues have been carefully considered and will be similar to what they are familiar with. With the present fiscal and medical uncertainty people will not try an untested form of government.

2. From a Reader: I don't understand why everyone is treating the so called 'Clarity Act' like it is something written in stone that must be somehow satisfied before a section of the country can declare independence. Just do it. If the thirteen colonies had waited for permission from Britain to become independent there would be no U.S.A. as we know it today. Quebec has stated Canada isn't a real country, and as it is presently constituted they may have a valid point. All provinces are not treated as equals in Canada. That alone should be enough for the west to separate or anyone else who desires to do so. This country as it stands is beyond redemption. The circus that is presently taking place in Ottawa should tell us that. Quebec and its politicians have always been the fly in the ointment and that will never change.

3. From a Reader: The Fair Deal Panel report was "junk mail"! Here's why. Well over 50% of those who made representations to the Panels demanded that the report's final recommendations include a referendum on Alberta separation. In response Kenney's gutless Government stated: "we do not separation. In response Kenney's gutless Government stated, "we do not believe the threat of secession is a constructive negotiating strategy"! I have only one thing to say to those cowards in Edmonton; "The threat of separation is the only thing that the corrupt Eastern elite will respond to"! No more useless rhetoric or meetings to discuss reactions to Alberta's past attempts at fair play or resolutions to correct the inequities within confederation.

4. From a Reader: Drew Barnes, a Fair Deal Panel member, said it all. "If Albertans cannot obtain significant changes within Canada, we must seek another relationship as a sovereign people".

5. From a Reader: The scandal surrounding the WE Foundation is just another example of the corrupt "tax trough feeding" Trudeau clan and in fact this behaviour is part of the larger international Liberal/Democratic/Socialist progressives plan to use climate warming coercion to implement the plan for wealth re-distribution and the eventual destruction of free market democracy around the world. This socialist WE Foundation is just another tool in the box to teach Canada's children the benefits of socialism (Cum) Communism. With Trudeau's avowed admiration for the Chinese Communist government we're moving inexorably in that direction.

ACTION ALBERTA - WHO WE ARE

We are a group of deeply concerned, unpaid Alberta resident volunteers. Our work is intended to educate, inform and motivate all Canadians to be visible and vocal regarding the unequal, unfair and discriminatory treatment of Alberta by our Federal Government. Alberta's energy sector is the most important driver of the Canadian economy and its health directly impacts the standard of living of every Canadian. Unfortunately, that is not happening under our current Federal government!

Please share this email with your contacts so we can turn this unfair, inequitable, unjustifiable travesty around for the good of all Canadians. If you would like to submit information or articles, please send them to me.

Thank you for ALL of your support and interest!
