Wellness

We know the key to feeling good and enjoying life is good nutrition paired with being active and social. We also believe in the power of science and nature, which is why we have created wellness products with natural ingredients that are scientifically proven to help you feel good.

MEET THE SCIENTISTS

"I'm proud to have developed award-winning nutritional products that contribute to people's health and wellbeing."

Manuel Fernandez
Senior Scientist of Nutritional Products

Our Discovery: A food supplement created using a combination of powerful antioxidants, including Astaxanthin (one of nature's most powerful antioxidant), as well as Vitamins C and E. The most abundant source of astaxanthin in nature is the fresh water microalgae Haematococcus pluvialis. The green microalgae are found in freshwater pools around the world and are commonly found in the Swedish archipelago. Together, this powerful blend of antioxidants works to provide complete antioxidant protection from the inside-out.

Result: you can protect your body's cells from damaging oxidative stress caused by harmful free radicals. Consuming dietary antioxidants can help to neutralise free radicals and reduce oxidative stress to the cells in your body.

Fragrance

Our highly skilled scientists turn to nature's ingenuity for inspiration and use the power of modern science to craft fragrances that speak to you. Because beauty speaks to the mind... as well as the senses.

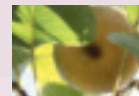

DID YOU KNOW ...

... that we were one of the first cosmetic companies to use natural plant extracts when we started out over 50 years ago? Respecting and finding inspiration in nature are key to how our scientists make our products.
