Map of the 31 barrios of Ponce Entrance to Barrio San Antón, one of the barrios located in urban zone of the municipality This list of barrios of Ponce consists of the 31 barrios in the municipality of Ponce, Puerto Rico. With 31 barrios, Ponce is Puerto Rico's municipality with the largest number of barrios.[1][2][3][4] Meaning of "barrio" Main article: Barrios of Puerto Rico In Puerto Rico, the term barrio has two very different meanings.

Officially, Ponce has 31 barrios; this is according to local, insular, and federal governments. However, there is a second meaning for barrio that doesn't correlate with the official meaning and one that is meant to refer, loosely, to a sector or portion of an official barrio. It is a meaning that makes reference to a community that shares certain common characteristics (types of homes, income range of its dwellers, its natural or man-made boundaries, etc.). Some examples of these so-called barrios are barrio Mameyes[5] (a sector of barrio Portugués Urbano), barrio Corral Viejo[6] (a community within Barrio Magueyes), barrio Clausells[7] (a portion of Barrio Segundo), barrio Tenerías[8] (part of Barrio Machuelo Abajo), and barrio Caracoles[9] (a community in Barrio Canas). These so-called barrios, unlike the 31 official barrios, do not have well defined borders, and their names ordinarily reference a general, not a precise, sector or area.[10] Introduction to Ponce's 31 barrios The territorial areas known as barrios started to take shape during the 18th century (1700s), and the first barrios named were Cana, Montones, Capitanajo, Quebrada Limón, and Bucana.[11] Throughout the 19th century, Ponce's jurisdictional zone increased to where it included both urban and rural barrios. With an expanding urban zone, in the 20th century Ponce's list of barrios came to number 31, with 13 located in the urban area of the city plus 18 outside the urban zone.[12][13][14] Of these 18, and as the urban area continues to expand, seven were considered suburban in 1999. These 7 suburban barrios were: Canas, Magueyes, Portugués, Machuelo Arriba, Sabanetas, Coto Laurel, and Cerrillos.[15] The remaining 11 are entirely rural barrios.[16] A 2000 report by the U.S. Census Bureau provides detailed demographics statistics for each of Ponce's barrios.[17] From a demographics perspective, the 2000 Census showed that Montes Llanos is the least populated barrio in the municipality. Thanks to its larger area, barrio Canas was by far the most populated ward of the municipality.[18] At 68 persons per square mile, San Patricio was the least dense, while Cuarto was the most densely populated at 18,819 persons per square mile.[19][20] Geographically speaking, Ponce has nine barrios that border neighboring municipalities. These are Anón, Canas, Capitanajo, Coto Laurel, Guaraguao, Marueño, Quebrada Limón, Real, San Patricio, Canas and Capitanajo are also coastal barrios, and together with three other coastal barrios (Playa, Bucaná, and Vayas) make up the municipality's five coastal barrios.[21] There are also seven barrios within the city limits (Bucana, Canas Urbano, Machuelo Abajo, Magueyes Urbano, Playa, Portugués Urbano, and San Antón) that in addition to the original six city core barrios — named Primero, Segundo, Tercero, Cuarto, Quinto, and Sexto — make up the 13 urban barrios of the municipality. The historic zone of the city is within these original six core city barrios. These twelve barrios compose what is known as the urban zone of the municipality. The remaining eight barrios (Magueyes, Tibes, Montes Llanos, Maragüez, Portugués, Machuelo Arriba, Cerrillos, Sabanetas) are located in the interior of the municipality. These last eight are outside the city limits and are neither coastal nor bordering barrios.[22] Complete list of barrios A summary of all the barrios of the municipality, their population, population density, and land and water areas as given by the U.S. Census Bureau is as follows:[23][24][25] No. Barrio Population(Census 2000) Density/(sq mi) Total Area(sq mi) Land Area(sq mi) Water Area(sq mi) 1 Anón 1669 129.9 12.85 0.00 2 Canas 34065 2349.3 22.82 14.50 8.32 4 Cerrillos 4284 1377.5 3.31 3.11 0.20 5 Coto Laurel 5285 1492.9 3.60 3.54 0.06 6 Guaraguao 1017 247.4 4.11 4.11 0.00 7 Machuelo Abajo 13302 7515.3 1.86 1.77 0.90 11 Machuelo Arriba 13727 2124.9 6.61 6.46 0.15 12 Magueyes 6134 1345.2 4.56 4.56 0.00 13 Magueyes Urbano 1332 1074.2 1.24 1.24 0.00 14 Maragüez 754 142.0 6.42 5.31 1.11 15 Marueño 1474 350.1 4.21 4.21 0.00 16 Montes Llanos 462 214.9 2.15 2.15 0.00 17 Playa 16926 3864.4 14.98 4.38 10.60 18 Portugués Rural 4882 1386.9 3.56 3.52 0.04 19 Portugués Urbano 5886 5163.2 1.14 1.14 0.00 20 Primero 3550 14200.0 0.25 0.25 0.00 21 Quebrada Limón 804 301.1 2.67 2.67 0.00 22 Quinto 724 6581.8 0.11 0.11 0.00 23 Real 3139 595.6 5.28 5.27 0.01 24 Sabanetas 6420 2351.6 2.79 2.73 0.06 25 San Antón 11321 10063.4 1.17 1.12 0.04 26 San Patricio 465 67.8 6.86 6.86 0.00 27 Segundo 11321 17416.9 0.65 0.65 0.00 28 Sexto 4745 18250.0 0.27 0.26 0.01 29 Tercero 773 9662.5 0.08 0.08 0.00 30 Tibes 866 123.5 7.01 7.01 0.00 31 Vayas 1338 187.9 10.47 7.12 3.35 Ponce 186475 1625.5 193.6 114.7 78.9 Barrios in the urban zone There are 13 barrios in the urban zone of the city of Ponce.[26][27] These are the original six urban barrios — named Primero, Segundo, Tercero, Cuarto, Quinto, and Sexto - plus seven others that the urban area has expanded to cover as well and which, with time, were incorporated into the city limits, namely, Bucaná, Canas Urbano, Machuelo Abajo, Magueyes Urbano, Portugués Urbano, and San Antón.[28][29] The historic zone of the city is within the original six urban zone barrios.

By 1878, Barrio Cuarto was added to the urban zone.[32] and by 1898 Catedral had been renamed as Barrio Sexto to take its place among the urban barrios as well. (The port of La Playa, not the entire extension of barrio Playa, was also considered an urban zone in 1898.)
