

Aligning with Purpose

Revised on July, 2024

Section one

Adapt and Improvise

We are indeed in the middle of an ancient spiritual war between the Dark and the Light. Love Won Society's programs were designed to be released as the dust was settling on this planet and after consciousness had shifted. We are not there yet; in fact, we are well into the middle of the ascension cycle, and it is evident to us that reinforcement is needed NOW.

We are reorganizing Love Won Society and our training program to more effectively address the problems in society. We will refine the programs so they are not as much about the redemption funds but are more about the balanced approach to both the Spiritual aspect of our Humanitarianism and how we will use the Structures of LWS to present our financial solutions to humanity.

Q's suggestion to GO WITHIN has given us a whole new aspect that was not addressed properly in our training program for LWS the way it has been. This revelation was a shock to many who are in training because it goes where most of society has never gone. We are studying the effects of a spiritual war between light and dark energies, good and evil, that has plagued mankind for thousands of years.

We have found the need to study the enemy of mankind and have found that we are not equipped spiritually to defend ourselves from a continuation of the battle. While most of the effects are known off-world, we have learned to live with the deprivation that this war has caused, until now.

To right these historic wrongs, we humans must make the biggest changes to our lives and our belief system so that we can ward off the damage they have caused and set a new course in our belief system that will ensure we survive the coming destruction of the dark and move up in our ascension process.

Incredible discernment is going to be required to be the best help to humanity we can be as we move forward with our work. We are receiving excellent counsel on how to effectively recreate what we have done in a more divine way so that we can ensure our Ascension procedure (process).

We would like to start by sharing our LWS perspective of what we understand humanity is actually up against at this moment of where we are in this journey from dark to light. There are agendas, technologies, and dynamics in play that our members need to be debriefed on to be the most effective in our collaboration. We need to reach a consensus about what is happening here, which leads us to the controversial Q... This document is the beginning of that process.

Crazy 101

Section 2

Q brings an expanded awareness to the disclosure scene that challenges just about every belief system on the planet, this makes him very unpopular with the powers that be and his information is frequently too overwhelming to the subscribers of their belief systems. He is one of the few individuals out there who is disclosing the uncomfortable fact that we are in a battle for ascension in a war with "Aliens who have married with AI." As he describes in one of his visits with LWS, "You may see an intrinsic war but I see a multidimensional war or a multifrequency war. I see an agenda that is far removed from our eyes and unfortunately, this is a very alien (off-world) war we are fighting. Unfortunately."

Q, also explains that the Q-Drops do not address the Alien/AI agenda as the public was deemed "not ready" for that level of disclosure. Learning about AI is a scary business. As a super soldier with all of his memories back, Q is picking up where the Q-Drops left off and has done hundreds of hours of radio shows. His website, ForThePeople.Space is an incredible resource for anyone trying to expand their awareness of this massive wake-up operation. He explains his association with the Q drops in his many radio interviews.

The Enemy

Section 3

It is hard to fight a war if you do not understand your enemy and it appears Q's work runs right at humanity's invisible adversary exposing its weapons and its vulnerabilities. He also brings forward simple solutions to win this war and achieve true sovereignty and peace.

We have studied his work and have sorted what we feel is pertinent to our humanitarian purpose. Some of this material is from private conversations with Q but most of this disclosure is familiar to those who listen to his many radio interviews. This is a very short, oversimplified overview of what we are inclined to believe that those in the 'awakened' community either do not understand or do not want you to understand.

The real technology

Section 4

(This is an interview by Antonio (12.21.22 - 7:00) with Q, where Q explains the nature of the technology on the planet at this time):

"The very first planetary system I helped was the Arcturian group and in that group, a very advanced group, very, very long time ago although there's no such thing as time. So, for me, it was yesterday, but to you, it was millions and millions and millions of years ago so it is a difficult subject to talk about when there are different realities of time, but we will do our best."

"The Arcturians as a group had created technology, portal technology to receive Source continuously wherever they took the portal technology. So that technology was given to some special individuals, they are going to stay nameless, but you are starting to figure out who they are. Special people in prominent places, especially in America. What we were able to do is get the technology here but for the technology to work you have to have three conduits from Source. So, there are three conduits, one acts as a ground (just like an electrical circuit), one acts as a transmitter, and one acts as a receiver. So, we are taking a higher frequency that is coming to a location that is very low in frequency and then bouncing and receiving consciousness for the location that it's in. So, the Arcturians, what they did basically is they made a gateway to Source and you're able now to receive continuously the entire consciousness of your planet bouncing back and forth from Source. So, treat me like a radio that's receiving/transmitting/grounded to a location and there are three human beings with the same soul in them. So, the military and some special families have used this technology. Many healing technologies come with it. It's not exclusively a gateway to source and/or receiving and transmitting grounding consciousness for a planet, there are many, many technologies."

The real War

Section 5

On October 28, 2017, super soldier Max Steele somehow knocked one of the last implants out of Q's head and this conduit from Source became fully "lit." The Q posts started that same day and Source was now firmly anchored on Earth, accelerating the proliferation of light on this planet. Ascension was now officially in full swing. Most of us know that we are in the middle of a war between the light and the dark but not all of us know how massive and ancient this war is, or just how important this portal technology is to this ascension cycle battle. If you want more information on the true dynamics of this alien/AI war, Forthepeople.space, has a video of Max Spiers explaining just how mind-bending the situation really is. That information is a lot of the galactic disclosure that humanity has been deemed "not ready for." The dark killed Max Steele while he was on the phone with Q, presumably for "flipping the switch" on the gateway to Source.

Don't tell them

Section 6

We are high-frequency light beings that were expressed (birthed) out from Source, we are Source and we are here experiencing what it is like to be in this expression of ourselves as we participate in this 3rd-dimensional experience. We are currently in the middle of an ascension cycle. Most of us have not been able to ascend for many cycles due to the dark's control of this planet that still exists in our turn on Earth. We are spread out in vessels that have been designed to genetically restrict (DNA) the amount of light (consciousness) that is allowed to come in. This was done so that when we came into this third dimension as an infant, we would not be blown away by what could have come to us had the DNA not been restricted. The Dark Powers that be further restricted the DNA by deactivating 10 of the 12 strands of DNA. We are only using  $\frac{1}{6}$  of our human potential because of this travesty to our species. These incredible human vessels are the quantum computers that project this collective holographic reality, into this matrix. Humans with very little light in them (less than 1-2%) are arguably classified as clones(though there are many types of clones). On any given day, many of us are only operating on 10-20% of our light body (source energy/consciousness).

Not only have we not had a lot of light (consciousness) in us due to the genetic restrictions in our DNA, these vessels have been wired to process information/light/sound through a programmed and heavily 'hacked' mind, meaning we are not as in control of these vessels as we think we are. Therefore, the reality that we experience is not really who we are. This manipulation and programming have resulted in a dualistic, collective reality that is designed by the Dark, to be low-vibrational so the dark can exist here. The dark cannot exist in higher frequencies so they have had to filter high-frequency Source energy into a vessel, govern it, program it, and hack it continuously in order to control it to a degree that allows them to exist in our creation. They truly can do this and have done this to us. We have truly been slaves, to an extent that it is very difficult for most of us to even fathom, let alone face this truth.

The portal technology discussed above brings Source energy here to this low-frequency, dark planet and, among other things, essentially amplifies the source energy (us) that is here, raising our frequency naturally, depending on each individual's ability to receive the light. Source energy is here squeezing in the light all around us so we can now easily and naturally get more of our light into us despite the genetic hindrances. We can evolve out of the DNA filters and begin to "wake up." The light is all around us now and we start to become aware that there is something more, that we are something more. This is indeed the Great Awakening.

Who's in charge of this vessel?

Section 7

We used to be powerful high-frequency light beings that can create whatever reality we want, go to whichever frequency we choose. The dark has a frequency ceiling that they cannot make it past, so they are stuck here and they need us stuck here so they can have a place to exist. This is what they did. So, they capture us (our light/consciousness) and control us through the brain.

Our minds were designed by negative master geneticists to be a trap for our consciousness. The mind has always been limited in its ability to create, and endless in its ability to be manipulated. Most of us have been purposely conditioned to process information (light) and make decisions through the brain where we are easily puppeted by inauthentic low-vibrational thoughts and the emotions (guilt, fear, doubt, shame, lust, greed) that are then projected into our experience as trauma. Our brains are also incredible transmitters and receivers which makes us very easy to 'hack' with thoughts that are not our own. The brain was designed to hold a massive amount of memory so most of us spend an enormous amount of time either trapped in the past recreating our past trauma or suspended with incessant worrying about the future.

To compound the situation, the beings that control this reality have very advanced (and very old) technology that allows them to cut and paste time so they can manually put us on timelines, many timelines, seamlessly. This technology is commonplace in the Military Industrial Complex, it's how they do the 20, 50, 100 years and back programs, that are starting to see the light of day. This is considered an 'abduction' of the light and it occurs much more frequently than we can recognize. We are vulnerable to this manipulation when we innocently use it in our minds.

Individuals who do not have a lot of light in them are usually not cognizant of the fact that they are not the drivers of these vessels like they think they are. The technology in play is mind-blowing and even the most "awake" individuals find it impossible to even consider that this level of cold-blooded manipulation not only exists but has been in control of us for a very, very long time. Q reminds us that, "The dark knows the light, the light does not know the dark."

The Switch

Section 8

Incredibly enough, the solution to this manipulation is beautifully simple and undeniably exhilarating. If we instead learn to operate (process information/make decisions) from our now growing heart center instead of the mind, then we effectively "flip the switch" on the projector and we begin creating a reality that mirrors our unfiltered consciousness, our Divine Consciousness. If we did this, we would take back control of our vessels and the reality we would create would be authentically us because we would no longer make decisions that we think (mind) we have to make, we are making decisions based on what we really feel and want (heart). High-frequency, authentic emotions like peace, love, passion, purpose, excitement, and joy are found in the heart center and when we change ourselves to draw from this source, we begin to create a high-frequency reality that mirrors our authentic selves. So, how do we make this change? By seeking to go places, do things, and engage our minds in things that allow our minds to have fun. Think about your projects, are you operating within your passion as you make your plans or are you responding in a perfunctory way thinking that you have to have some project to fulfill your project list for the redemption? Operating from this heart center is also referred to as "going within," and the more you do it the more your light body grows and the more you take back control.

Going within taps our true guidance, not the manipulated, limited guidance of the mind. We begin to exercise our authentic, high-frequency emotions and our reality begins to mirror our true desires and intentions; the dark loses control of us in those frequencies. We begin to create an experience that is truly divinely "unhackable," unless we revert back to the tired playbook of the mind trap.

If we can consistently operate from the heart center, then we flip our own switch and can create whatever we want. We are multidimensional beings so we can tune these vessels to whatever frequency we like and go there, instantly. Source energy, the real us, is so incredible and limitless that it is almost too difficult to fathom for most of us, our minds are too limited to understand the fullness of who we are. But our hearts have always known the fullness of who we are. We just need to change our thinking and find our passions.

This transition to living and breathing in the heart center recalibrates your light body to your physical body, this is the ascension process. Ascension has been sold as if you ascend your consciousness somewhere, but you really don't go anywhere, WE ARE the technology for ascension. Flip the switch, light up this vessel, and project your Personally Created Heaven all around you and there you are, in Heaven.

If enough of us can stay in our heart centers consistently then we can shift our collective consciousness and this place becomes amazing for all of us. We don't run from the dark, we shine so much light on it, that it raises the frequency and the dark has no way to stay with us as we move into our newly created light. All we have to do is grow our light and make decisions from peace, joy, and excitement and the ancient war here is over, instantly and peacefully. Seriously.

Section 9

All of this talk about going within is to try and encourage people to take back their power and switch to heart energy where our authentic guidance resides. We then use the heart force instead of the matrix or the brain source, so to speak. This may sound simple but if it was easy, we would be on the other side of this ascension cycle already. Going within is more than just a handy life hack, it's the only way to get out of this 3D duality and move to the higher frequencies. We humbly offer this section not in an attempt to preach or even teach but because this inner work is key to our sovereignty. We respect that this can be a frustrating and uncomfortable transition that may need some more explanation.

Going within means processing information, making decisions from your heart center, and tuning into the frequencies of either peace or inspiration, while using no mind energy. The battle really is in our minds so just know, that if you can't stop thinking, if you cannot toggle between thinking and peace energy/neutrality, then you are not in control, yet. The Mind to Heart Drop technique that Q suggests is an effective tool in this situation. It uses sound words to command the energy and disengage the brain so that the transfer of energy back to your heart center is easier and much more recognizable. Keep playing with this toggle button until you continuously have control of your thoughts. Your mind is designed to keep you in your mind, so it will not surrender easily to you. It will be a power struggle but just gaining an awareness of the situation is a huge step forward.

Once you can still yourself enough to become aware of your thoughts, the next step is to really slow things down and observe how you operate. Look into the mirror of your mind from every angle. Whether we realize it or not, most of us are heavily programmed and conditioned to function without control of our thoughts, so examine every thought, every reaction, every decision, and ask yourself, is this what I want or is this the way I want to react, or is this the decision I want to make. If not, then you at least now have a choice to choose something different. The more you recognize the errors in your thinking, the faster the light grows in your Light Body.

This new approach works both ways so if you are getting what you do not prefer because you have been choosing what you do not prefer, you don't have to keep doing it just because you made a low-frequency decision(s) in the past. Make peace with the past if you haven't already and let it go. Bring God into your thinking. Renegotiate your reality and only keep what brings you peace and joy. God will help you in this movement if you ask for it, without canceling the asking by even one negative or questioning thought.

Remember, emotions like guilt and shame are mind energy and they are intended to manipulate your thinking. Feeding these energies brings the dark into your reality. Keep in mind that most of these mind energies bring forth old drama from the past that brings you down. Be consciously aware that the Dark wants us to remember past traumatic events and relive them so the trauma can have another go around with us. This is the real reason we are asked to remember things like 9-11 or the Holocaust. When we remember these things, we relive them in our mind as if it is brand new. The mind cannot know the difference between the old thoughts and the re-lived again thoughts. This is a truism. This drama, again, feeds the dark their food. Yum, Yum for them, sickening for us. The Dark says, no need to create another drama, just remember that past. That feeds us just as well.

This is similar to a plant that gets its food from the sun, As the sun's energies come into contact with the plant the energy is absorbed and the plant gets fed. Same with the dark, only they absorb negative energy and this sustains them. If we notice when we are surrounded by negative energy or traumatic experiences that we recreate from our past, we can feel what is being fed to the dark forces. So, they condition us to re-use traumatic events over and over so we can feed the dark entities. This is why they don't just kill us all, but they could if we don't keep feeding them. So, here we are, slaves in service to the dark without realizing it.

Section 10

Know that once you decide to stop participating in something you really don't want, your frequency rises and the universe, along with every part of creation, supports your decision. That's how this reality works, you are that powerful. Don't believe that? Well, feel the difference between doing things you like and the feelings you get when you are doing things you don't like. Know that when you continue to seek fun things to do, the positive outcomes will come quickly.

The brutal truth is that the only way to get control of your universe is to honor your true self and your true desires, whether that works for others around you or not. It will be unavoidable to fake it in these energies. Faking it is like lying to yourself.

Your essence knows the difference and won't move you forward. You must be honest with yourself. This is the only way forward.

Once you begin the changes in your thinking, the vibration gets so high that what you don't want to do will become more and more obvious and it will get to where we physically won't be able to allow our participation in what we do not prefer no matter how much money or guilt is involved. Be prepared to love people despite their disappointment in your authentic decisions, these are your decisions and your true intentions to bring you happiness. Groups don't ascend together, individuals do.

The Universe does not judge what we Creators want to create. The Universe is a divine fulfillment center and brings out whatever creation energies (us) send out to become created objects of our creation wants. As we are Creators the fulfillment center is an extension of us and just simply creates what we send forth to the fulfillment center, This is the Creation Process.

In the 3rd dimension realms, we have things presented to us in our everyday lives. Our job is to assess what is presented and we apply Righteous Judgement to these things before we accept them into our life. Righteous Judgement is not negative by itself, but when we judge the person, or the GOD, that is creating, then we are guilty of creating lower energies that work against us personally. This can only happen in a co-creation arena in the 3rd dimension. We must recognize the destructive energies involved in judging other Gods in their Creation Process. Co-creation is rich with negative things that we can judge. Overcoming the judgment process is one of the reasons we co-create together in a dimension that has no lasting detrimental results. It only affects us in the physical realms as we project our creation energies amongst ourselves as we work with the ascension process. That's why we are admonished to not judge, ourselves or others. Judgment diminishes the light in our Light Bodies and is counterproductive towards ascension. We all do it, but we can overcome this and change.

Overcoming this process is the reason we created the 3rd dimension. As Creators in the non-physical, we would not have these experiences had we not created the 3rd dimension. It is valuable in our process to become like unto our Father in knowing all things.

When we manage to declutter and simplify our life, it can still be a struggle just to find some peace, let alone something you are inspired to do. Many of us are used to being very busy in mind energy; stillness can be uncomfortable and foreign, just be patient with the deprogramming or recalibration process and don't stop. When you do find moments of peace, figure out how to prolong them and get more of them, and keep trying to tune into these higher frequencies of love, peace, and joy, no matter the circumstances. Fight for your peaceful state of being. It is like you're fighting for your freedom because this fight needs to take place. This is not for the weak. You must get out your sword and use it to defeat that which is holding you back.

The reason for the 3rd dimension was for the experience. We could not have this learning experience without our co-creating the 3rd dimension. We are Divinely powerful Creators, that is what we are.

Make Decrees

Section 11

It is not necessary to make huge sweeping decrees right off the bat, maybe just un-choose something every day that you do not enjoy and see how that feels. Make a decree one day at a time until you really can start to feel the difference and feel the frequency increasing. Put your full personal power in the decree as you form your words. When you play with it enough, you get to where you start to notice synchronicities in your life. You become aware that you are in the driver's seat of your reality and that awareness, that knowing alone, gives you incredible momentum. You will begin shooting down doubt just for fun, dismissing fear with a smile. There will be no going back after that; you and the universe you create will begin to change rapidly.

The Nitro

Section 12

Your authentic excitement and inspiration are the most powerful buttons at your fingertips. Synchronicity works both ways but not equally. Low vibrations of fear and doubt don't stand a chance against the high vibrations of joy and excitement.

These frequencies are so incredibly powerful that again, it's impossible to get our minds around it fully. The dark can't go there, they hit a ceiling while we shift into another higher gear. Creating is what we are truly meant to do and these frequencies are the real horsepower within creation energies, we just need to tune in. As Q has said, 'The joystick to our reality is literally sitting in our chest. If we could maintain a standard of excited and inspired choices, the universe would synchronize heaven around us effortlessly. Effortlessly. Keep in mind that we humans are the creators and when we send our creation words out, the Universe is our fulfillment center and is in charge of the manifestation of the creation. Isn't that a great plan for us?

Practically Speaking

Section 13

To summarize, we are high-frequency beings; God, in incredible vessels but we are allowing ourselves to be played like a fiddle by the Dark entities. If the dark wanted us dead, we would be, but they need us here to create the place for them to exist. Our capabilities are limitless and we are free to create whatever experience we want whenever we want it. But if we maintain the slave mentality in our brains, we are not free to create on our own. We continue to create for the slave masters' pleasure.

Q says, "the door behind you doesn't exist until you turn around." What does that mean? It is a reality that creation can happen instantaneously. If you don't remember it, it isn't there. Memory has its own re-creation energy as part of your 3D experience. Remember something in your past and you can see it again in your mind's eye. The more you ponder it the more detailed it will become, as if you lived it again. Who you really are is in your heart, because the heart knows everything. Nothing is left out of this knowing. Once you ponder the things in this document and move toward your heart's memory, things can open up to you in a way you never thought possible. Pondering on true things while interjecting some real fun feelings, will open doors to you that begin the process of hearing the voice of the Spirit.

The ascension cycle energies are making it easier than ever; Source energy (us) is at our fingertips and all around us. Just knowing what we want to do, what we really want to do, is the only power, the only currency we need in this instantly quantifiable, instantly organizing conscious universe. When you make up your mind, nothing can stop your intended result.

Invisible Chains

Section 14

Our belief in money, like the other Cabal-sponsored illusions in this matrix, will bring all of our creations to a screeching halt. Q defines belief as "chasing information." He has explained that "if you know the information exists, it actually does, but if you believe it's not there it isn't. (Belief comes from our mind while Knowing comes from our hearts. That is a key fact to recognize.) So, Knowing where you are going and what you will do, creates the outcome." We create with our Knowing, but we disable ourselves with our beliefs. This is how we, as quantum computers, work.

Another factor in this example that is true is this: Knowing, is information that has already been created, it exists in the Quantum Field of knowledge. Belief is something that needs to be created before it can become a Knowing. Yet the Dark has been so elusive that humans use mind energies instead of the heart, so we are kept in beliefs that may or may not be true when making our decisions. Do you believe in God, or has it gone from a belief to Knowing? (Sometimes our beliefs are a Knowing, but we have not connected the dots to realize it is a Knowing from inside of our essence.) If we "believe" that we need to do something then it may not get done in our reality. It is like the belief in the "power of money." Money is the power of something outside of ourselves that is keeping us powerless. If we believe that we need a million dollars to save puppies then not a single puppy will be salvaged until we see those millions of dollars.

That's the power of beliefs. It oftentimes means that nothing gets done until it is internalized where it can become a Knowing. The statement; I believe in God is why you go to church on Sunday and forget about God the rest of the week. This is an indication that your belief in God has not been internalized into a Knowing. If you raise your children to believe in God without emphasizing the need to internalize that belief, (A testimony) the nature of that belief has very little power to change a person's life into a Knowing that God is real. A true Belief must be researched and knowledge gained to internalize it to where Knowing can be completed. It is a process that takes effort to complete.

Compounding this lack of knowledge of these things is the fact that the monetary system we have now, is so rigged that it keeps us tired, uninspired, and constantly in need. We think we need it; we think we need a lot of it, but we also entertain the thought that we are never going to get enough of it. That is the nature of beliefs. It is an incredibly powerful illusion that the designers of lack mentality have used to create the monetary system to entangle us with all kinds of illusions of need. They created a monetary system that has "lack" built into it so there is never enough money to get by. It went from one person who could make enough money for a family to exist. To where the other spouse had to get a job to purchase what was needed. Then two jobs were needed by both and then borrowing funds to make ends meet. This is where we are now. Belief in lack has almost come to a Knowing of lack as a way of life.

Knowing, on the other hand, does not give energy to anything outside of yourself. So, you do not spend energy chasing anything at all, you spend all of your energy creating. When this is your Knowing, it indicates that you have taken your power back. Knowing, then becomes our path forward to the abundant society that is now coming.

Using your brain or your heart, this is the present dilemma we face, and perhaps why we do not get what we want in life. Can you see why the Cabal always talks about believing in God, instead of Knowing God? This is the great illusion of belief and why generations of good families have never come to know what God really is. Even this information may be just a "belief" illusion, until you internalize the whole process.

If you just love saving puppies and you cannot wait to do it, it is something that has been internalized and is part of your compassion, you do not give it a second thought, you just Know inside that that is what you want to do. Giving energy to a single shred of doubt draws immense power from our desired outcome. Your excitement, your intent, and your purpose are the only currency you need to cash in; the Universal Fulfillment Center will take care of the rest. Do not worry about how it will come, just relax into the Knowing that it is already coming, and never look back in doubt, just keep letting it come. If you can get to the Knowing of an item, instead of just a belief, then you can trust that it is in the creation process and will be coming to you. Again, that is how these vessels, these bodies we have, are designed to work and that is how powerful creation energy is. The more you observe the synchronicity that is available to see, the more you increase your Knowing. And the more powerful your connection with Source, the more powerful a creator you become.

Steady Now

Section 15

Q shared with us that, sometime in November 2022, the derivatives markets collapsed. We are guessing that this will help expedite the public collapse of the US Dollar along with many other illusions and spells that we have been under IE; Government, the Pharmaceutical industry, the education system, religion, the Medical Industry, etc., etc. The only reason these abusive systems and institutions still exist today is that, despite all the truth out there, humanity is still clinging to them, clinging to duality. It seems that if they don't wake up soon, this educational process could be fairly traumatic and/or short-lived when it is confronted.

As Q has been telling us "We will have to throw up before we feel better." We have to get it out of our system. When most of the dark agendas finally collapse, we will be forced to sober up and decide what everything is worth, including ourselves and each other. The invisible bondage that we have been under will be laid bare and we will have the opportunity to decide where to go from here as a collective, yet it is also, by necessity, a personal desire to be a participant in the collective.

Many of us came here to expand the light, who can see through this false reality, will have the opportunity to help the rest of humanity remember how to find their personal power and their purpose. We must do this ourselves first until we come into our own Knowing, then we can assist others in finding their power and purpose. This will be our challenge due to the beliefs that have been embedded in our society that we have had to endure, and due to the tendency, we have, to cross dominions and force our ideas on others. We, as creators, will succeed.

'Benevolent assistance requires Non-Interference'

forthepeople.space

This is a truth that we Humanitarians must honor.

Q has explained that "It is a common understanding that multidimensional beings do not come to a lower dimensional reality and tell others what to do just because they think they are right." Humanity is not getting the 'help' that we want or think we need because "they" see us as gods who, for the reasons above, are fully capable of handling this situation if we would just wake up to what is right under our noses. We are all sitting on the most amazing technology we could ever want. But we are in the middle of the ascension cycle, and it is up to us to realize who we are and take our immense power back. The dark cannot ascend with us, nor can it exist without us. They will be left as bits and pieces from the catastrophe of their illusion falling apart until finally dissipating into matter unorganized. That seems to be true from Source perspective.

Those who came from beyond the veil, can turn the lights on and take out the trash but they are not going to tell us which direction to go or how fast we should go there. They would never interfere with humanity's dark-to-light journey, it's our evolution. That would be trespassing into someone's Sovereignty. This is our quantum educational process, our choices, not theirs. The release of advanced technology, disclosure, and funding is a function of humanity's consciousness and the use of our creative energies, so how this goes is truly up to us to come together and make some decisions, some high-frequency choices.

Sylvia from one of Ron A matron's BBS Radio shows (www.creationlightship.com 1.21.2009) summed it up quite well: "All we are trying to do is enter a new paradigm of consciousness, stepping out of our old habits, patterns, belief systems, judgments of our ancestors, this darkness we have been in and adopt a new consciousness, a new way of being, living in the heart instead of the mind energy. The more you spend time growing your own light and doing your own work, the more you can see what is ahead of us. We don't need anyone to do this for us, we can do this ourselves."

An Opportunity

Section 17

The LWS programs are based on a model of taking care of each other, by giving and sharing from a place of genuine love, respect, and fondness for humanity and our potential as a collective. The programs were designed to spread peace and abundance to everyone. That foundation, that structure is beautiful and sound but our approach needs to be significantly more changed to match humanity's rapidly shifting reality. We need to be equipped with an expanded awareness of our responsibility to assist not impose, to lead with questions instead of our checkbooks. We will need to take great care that our organized efforts do not fuel the dark or enable humanity's slumber during this war; this is a rescue mission and we need to be cognizant of that. We are required to be the higher evolved beings that have come to help others, not trespass on their sovereignty. We must ask what is wanted, regardless of the need we see or project onto their experience. Honor people as they are and as if they know what they need and help them find that. We facilitate. We assist.

We have been slaves for a very long time, and those just waking up probably have not had a moment of real peace in quite a while. Even if we have an awakened approach, it makes the present harder to work through when we know what is coming. Even the awakened of us have forgotten how to have a good time anymore, at least not for an extended period of time. We can go on vacations but that does not last. When we are able to find our peace and happiness, then we can share appropriately, and help humanity find their power, their sovereignty, and their passion as well as their joy, so they can consistently be in peace. Counselors assigned to us have found theirs, which qualifies them to work with us. These entities have done the inner work and can feel the frequency rising, and are authentically excited about this opportunity to help each of us as we fine-tune our approach. They are so excited, that some counselors are already engaged with us at a level that we may not be aware of. Some of our people have been contacted by their Counselors. What a great working relationship they are already creating.

Closing

Ideas

To our LWS advanced spiritual beings that have received spiritual validation as to their participation with LWS, you know who you are, it is time we hear from you in our chat rooms and questions and answer Telegram chats. How can we help ourselves and humanity, remember how to play and have fun again so they can bring the Alliance version of heaven to themselves? How do we do that when everyone has a different idea of heaven? How do we remind humanity of their true potential and fund their passions as they prepare their projects? It is time to get creative and share your ideas and strategies, your template for an environment of personal peace while maintaining personal Sovereignty.

Those who plan on changing the world might need to remember, that we do not change the world, we collectively share our ideas to create an effective platform that each person in the world can be motivated to change themselves first, which in turn changes the world.

Approaching our service with a mindset that, I will do this, or I will do that creates an arrogant way of service that may be entirely wrong. Pontificating our way to serve, thinking that we are better than others because we have the funds to help, might be a way to disqualify ourselves from participating. Maintaining our service in harmony with the Alliance's desires will ensure that we are on the right track in service to our fellow man.

Just a short note: the Alliance is not interested in groups that have a leader. If you are not the Sovereign who is in charge of your stewardship, then you need to disassociate with the group and the leader for you to maintain your Sovereignty and your stewardship. Exercising power over others is an offense to your Godship. You are the only Lord God of your existence, do not let others cross over into your Kingdom/Queendom, it works against you and will become your downfall. Come to the awareness that you are the Sovereign, the Lord God of your being. Act as if you are in charge and the Alliance will support you regardless of your doubts and fears. We are here to grow into our 5D Light Bodies. Take charge of who you are. This is your reason for being here on the Earth at this time.

Source is continuing to send light, in and around Love Won Society's members. We know why we came here and we know where we are going, our peace and our power are in our Knowing that Love Won over darkness. We are admonished to "Doubt not, fear not, but be believing, and all things shall work for the best good, for those that love the Lord." Trust that if we get something wrong, the Lord will help resolve those things and help us learn from our mistakes. That is the promise if we avoid doubt and fear. That is the "Way" of the Teacher of Righteousness.

Let your LIGHT SHINE as a beacon on a hill, and let your Peace Be Still as a calm sea. Be the reflection of God's "Way".
