

Preparations for the Redemption Appointment

The Alliance has recently made a major move toward the Redemption Appointment.

In the beginning, Love Won Society was operating under the assumption that we are supposed to prepare a binder that would contain information that we wanted to share with the Alliance Agent (Counselor) at our redemption appointment.

The Binders contained copies of the Program Tech Manuals along with the key Projects we wanted to put in place with our redemption funds. We also put in our requests for the rates we wanted and a list of the Zim Bonds we held.

As we became more familiar with the Alliance, we realized that everything we were to put into the Binder was already known to the Alliance Agent or Counselor that was assigned to us. It became a considerable collection of info that was not necessary. All we needed was to show up and discuss what we wanted to do with the Agent.

All we needed to prepare was a Document that we were calling a Request Form which was the total of our Zim Bonds and the rate we were asking for. We could also include Revalued Currencies that we wanted to Exchange at the appointment. All of these funds would be put into accounts we set up in the Quantum Financial System.

As the Alliance became more involved, we learned that major changes were to be implemented that would include our Spiritual Preparations. It was our knowing that only Humanitarians would be receiving redemption funds from our Zim bonds.

Our definition of Humanitarians was simply those who had a Humanitarian heart that wanted to share with others. The changes that needed to be addressed were the Spiritual aspects. Most of us were only thinking about the redemption Preparations that concerned money.

We created projects that we thought were a great help in eliminating the financial pressures that most people were living with. This had to do with the people we were preparing to help. But the Alliance was saying that we as Humanitarian needed to better prepare ourselves to administer the funds in a more Spiritual fashion.

This meant we were required to learn how to communicate with the Alliance and receive revelation ourselves to be effective in the distribution of the funds. The dark side was waiting for all their dark entities that had aligned with LWS and were just lurking there to get money into the wrong hands. If our LWS Family were to receive their funds, they must learn how to communicate with the Alliance to avoid bad people getting the funds.

The Mission Statement of Love Won Society has to do with persons being able to receive revelations so they can find peace in the many dramas that life presents to us. Our ability to function at a very high level became the requirement to receive redemption funds.

Love Won Society Mission Statement

It is by Divine intervention and Directive that this sacred mission, LOVE WON SOCIETY, was created as a philosophical, teaching, and healing ministry.

LOVE WON SOCIETY adheres to the Premise that all events are orchestrated for the good of each individual involved in that event, and because Prime Source or LOVE created the event, then at all times and in all places Love has Won.

When an individual realizes God or LOVE is behind all events that take place, then it gives that individual the chance to ponder and question the reason for the event. This pondering allows God or LOVE to reveal the Divine Reasons behind such events. Such Divine revelation brings peace and unspeakable joy when one understands God's or LOVE's intentions.

A belief that LOVE WON begins the journey to peace and joy in a way that breaks the cycle of pain, stress, and suffering. LOVE WON is such a profound statement of truth it needs to be spread to all who want to understand the truth in the experiences of their lives. The MISSION of LOVE WON SOCIETY, therefore, is to share this understanding with all those who seek for truth.

To this end, we, the members of LOVE WON SOCIETY dedicate the remainder of our lives upon this earth.

Ronald K. Giles, Overseer Love Won Society

This new requirement has put a lot of strain on our Humanitarians. Years of preparations may have been lost due to the requirement to learn the higher Spiritual requirements and implement them.

And while this may be the case for some, others welcome the requirements to prepare for the ascension process while getting prepared to receive the Humanitarian funds. Do you think this is fair to have the requirement for us to qualify for our callings? I hope you see the wisdom in this as there are no ways to avoid this process.

Many have read the latest documents that I have prepared and have found that I have emphasized some profound ways to help in the preparations. I have attempted to discuss the illiteracy of the Cabal condition as it relates to the Spiritual Ascension process. Many have taken exception to this accusing me of preaching false information that is different from the ways religion has taught us. I am sorry that this has offended some really good people that have strong beliefs in what the Cabal has presented to us as accurate. Can we be free from the Cabal/Dark side agenda while continuing their religious conditioning into our belief system? Can you see that as a possible way to cleanse ourselves or should we allow ourselves to continue to be subject to their agenda for us as slaves?

Love Won Society was downloaded to me over a long period of time. I had to mature in each of the small changes that needed to be taken to purify the LWS programs. I have a knowing beyond what has been revealed as the truth about the QFS and the other things that will be taking place as we implement our LWS Programs. Very little of what I know can be shared with others due to the Darkside energies that are now being assembled against us. I lack a lot of knowledge about how the implementation will be made. If I knew more, I would have a very hard time functioning against the Dark entities. Yet I have no fear of what they can do, they can only slow us down. My phone is tapped and my conversations are intercepted. I Have to be careful. Those that I have learned I can trust are having similar problems.

The course that I am following is in harmony with the Alliance, Q, and the Ascended Master. My relationship with them is very personal and profound. I will not be led astray. The LWS program is the only program that will survive the onslaughts that are coming. For those that call me a heretic because of the things I am submitting as my truth, I am sorry to upset you, but the truth, not known to you yet, will be the saving grace that will sustain you through this process. Everything that I write about has been approved by the Alliance, Q, and the others. I am in total harmony with them. Can you get confirmation from your connection to the Alliance that this is true? Have you tried? Can I make a mistake, yes, I can, but if I do it will be corrected in a very short period.

The preparation that one needs to accomplish is to ask if Ron Giles, the Overseer of Love Won Society, is leading you astray. Your Spiritual essence will guide you through this phase. If there are things you cannot resolve, then LWS might not be the program you need for your Spiritual advancement. I and Love Won Society will be here for the duration. So, if you chose to go a different course, the door will always be open for you to reconsider.

The final preparation for each individual is to learn to receive revelations from the Alliance to support your calling. Your heart will help you find your personal “Way” from the teacher of righteousness, who is my brother, Yeshua.

I send you love and blessings.

Ron
