

Safe Keeping Receipts

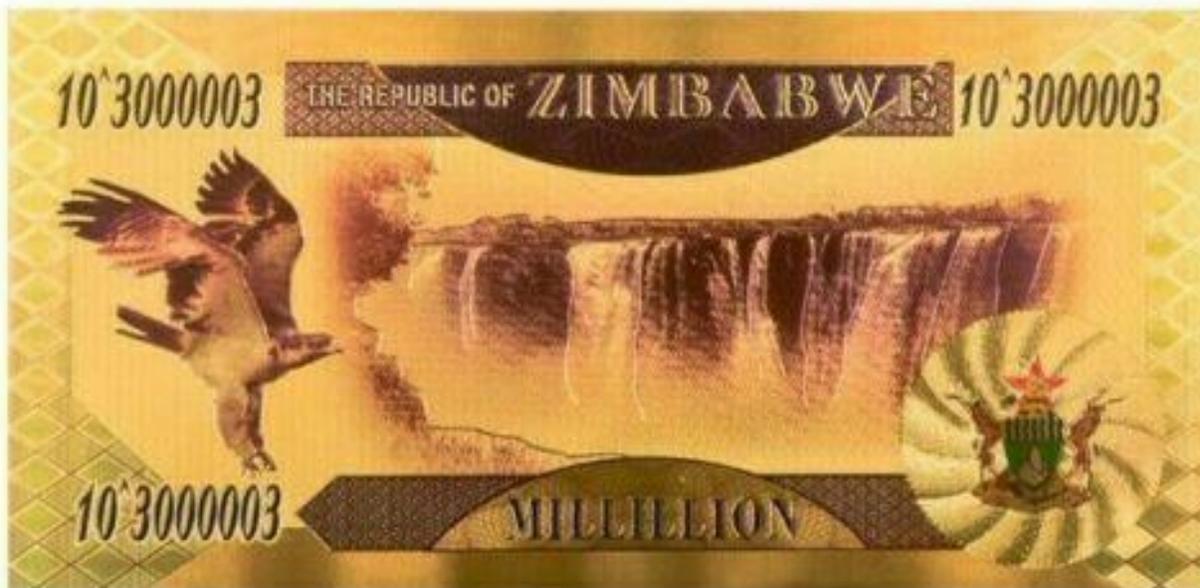

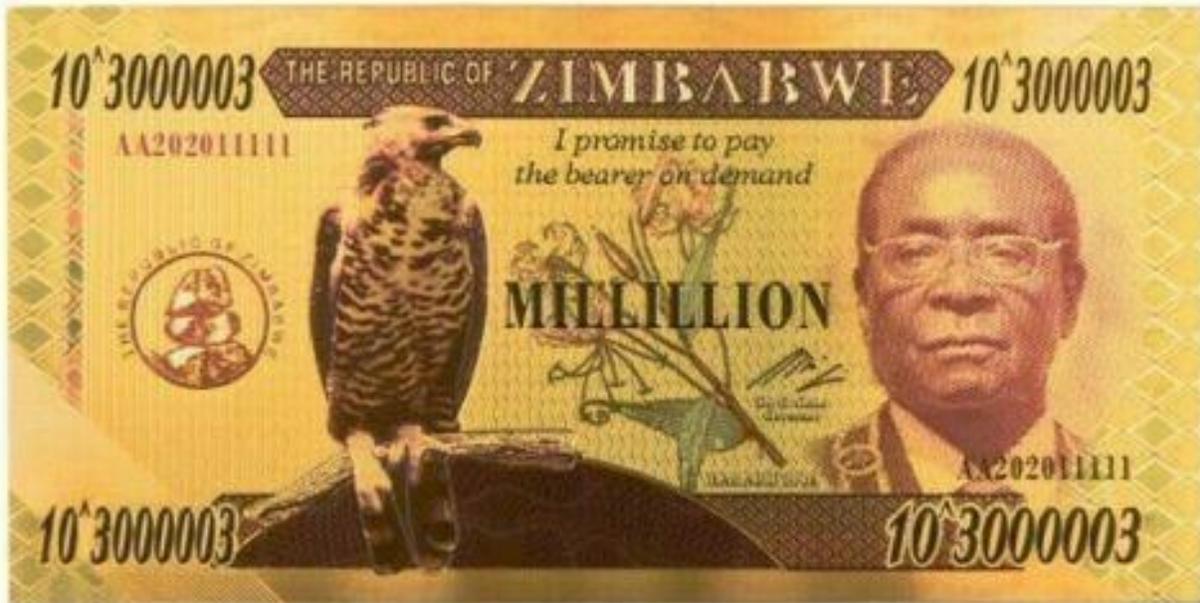

Safe Keeping Receipts are associated with the Bond Markets. Storage Facilities that provide secure storage for Bonds give receipts (Safe Keeping Receipts – SKRs) to the owner(s) that certify ownership of the stored bonds. This type of service provides a safe place to store valuable Bonds instead of a home or bank safety deposit box, or other storage places. The Alliance gave us permission to redeem the SKRs along with all other Zim Bonds or currencies that our Managing Directors had accumulated for their redemption funds.

The Love Won Society SKR program was initiated due to the high cost of purchasing and shipping Zim Bonds to countries that do not have a safe Postal Service. So instead of a postal service, a Courier Service Like DHL, FED EX, or UPS was required to safely get the Bonds to our LWS Humanitarians. At $150-200 per delivery plus the cost of the bonds, it was too costly to use these Courier services. So LWS created an SKR program.

Many of our LWS Families were asked to donate large Zim Bonds to back up the SKR program. The response was overwhelmingly successful. The SKRs are emailed instead of shipping and this made getting SKRs available to anybody in the world that had an email account and were part of the LWS Family. Registering at the QFS2020.com website was all that was required.

We suspected that certain people asking for SKRs were not sincere and were only after free Zim Bonds to redeem, but it did not matter to us because the Alliance will vett them personally before funds are released. Of the SKRS that were sent out, we only used 11% of our allotted Zim Bonds to back the SKRs.

The basic Zim Bond we used for the SKR program was the Millillion Zim Bond which has 3 million zeros of funds at a rate each individual requests.

We offered 180 Million with the SKRs. Most SKRs sent out had the full allotment of Zim Million Bonds. We offered a second set of SKRs for a total of 360 Million. This was sufficient to fund most any projects for the 100 years term we had suggested.

We then suggested that most of the funds from the SKRs could be deposited into an account in the QFS and call it a savings account. This could then be used for any projects, whether from the Alliance or one that we found ourselves so that we would not have to save our funds from the Structured Payout payments until we had enough for the project. We would then have our income for most of our projects as well as a savings account for the larger projects; such as the new Financial Service Centers that will take the place of Banks in the new Financial System.

LWS was given permission from the Alliance to use our Alliance Agent we refer to as Counselors to assist our Managing Directors to determine how many SKRS were needed for the savings account. If more were needed the Alliance Agent would have the authority to issue more SKR Bonds if needed to assure each Managing Director will have what they need.
