

QUANTUM WHAT?!

Here we are...all together on the internet, with some of us able to be around others of like mind in person...all of us knowing the Quantum Financial System, the Quantum Voting System and the Quantum Education System are eminent.

We've been told a couple of different things regarding what "powers" or, better, what is behind these new, pretty much infallible, hack-proof, fully tested systems. We're told they're powered by at least one of two things: 1. The Quantum "Super" Computer, and 2. Quantum Consciousness.

I have my opinion on which "it" is, but I'll get to that in a bit. Just thinking out loud and sharing this thought journey with you here....

Review of the last five years alone reveals indisputable evidence of a timing of actions, communications and productions that defy normal human ability. It's been beyond uncanny. It occurred to me awhile back that there has been no way DJT, even with his gifted genius, could conduct such precision all by himself but was, instead, being assisted - likely even provided a daily "agenda," complete with directions, orders, itinerary of actions and more - right down to the exact words he was to say, at the exact time he was to say them and in the exact spot where he was to deliver such statements. He has followed those directions to a "T."

If you think about it, only a "super computer" could orchestrate the world-war that's been underway for so long now, and well beyond five years. Only a "super computer" can contain all the details and data of every culture of people, every conceivable outcome from every conceivable action and reaction that could possibly occur or be made "by the enemy," by anyone, or any entity.

So, the idea that this "Kracken" super-computer has been running the "show" makes perfect sense and could explain a lot. It does exist. We've seen pictures and video coverage of it and know how huge it is; however, my thoughts ran deeper still. It became clear to me that there is no way that Kracken could've been created without divine Intelligence...the Intelligence that IS the One...the infinite Creator.

Here's where some may view my thoughts as mere opinion, and that's fine; but, some may be right on the same page with me or, well, plane of consciousness. We could have hours of discussion on consciousness together, and I look forward to us all doing just that, soon enough; but, for this moment, there's another message I feel impelled to put forth here today for all of us to consider as we prepare to experience the exchange and redemption appointments of various world currencies and bonds. Here goes:

What if what we are actually interacting and working with, from this moment forward, IS, simply, DIVINE CONSCIOUSNESS manifested in the world and planet we are presently expressing and residing on? Assuming, for a moment at least, that this is the case, we are talking way beyond "telepathic" capabilities and narrow, limited intelligence.

We asked for a world free of the lies and deceit, corruption, greed, hidden agendas, manipulations, neglect, abuses, violence, enslavement and gluttony, didn't we?

We have prayed for transparency, accountability and honesty.

We pleaded for mercy, patience, forgiveness and “another chance” to make better choices, to live our lives and in better care of ourselves, others and our planet.

We “prayed without ceasing,” and we just may well have gotten what we have held onto as our vision...what we’ve sorely longed for.

I can speak for myself, and know there are others that believe as I do, when I say, LOVE WON. Yes, divine Love really has WON the war. How do I know this? Let’s continue the exploration.

Now, if we embrace this as Truth, we can know that our every action going forward is not going to be met with the same obstacles and obstructionists of old. Even if there are a few “straggler, hangers-on” folks, lost and desperate to find where their compadres disappeared to, and wondering how they are going to continue on the shadowy path they set for themselves while all this bright light is shining all around, illuminating everything and everyone. They are now powerless.

How is that? Because we are flooding our new reality with divine Consciousness, the Light of Truth, that’s how. When we do that, (1) there is no “room” for anything else, and (2). because the Light eliminates the darkness naturally. If we can hold onto this fact – keep it firmly in our minds – and not allow anything or anyone to derail us, misdirect our consciousness, or tap into our unhappy memories of the past to try to drag us back down into the darkness with them, we will only succeed in living out the promised “thousand years of peace” we have been granted the opportunity to enjoy.

Consciousness is the “Motherboard” of the “computer,” running under all energy exchanges and frequencies of our world, communications and actions. Just sit with that thought for a minute and contemplate what this means.

Perhaps it means that our very own thoughts are part of, even integral to this Quantum set of systems (Financial, Educational, Operational, including the “voting”). “It” knows because WE know. Thoughts are energetic, frequencies.

Maybe if we can accept the fact that we have always known the truth of, firstly, the situations we have been in and, secondly, the people we have been involved with but were trained, even brainwashed into second-guessing our inner-knowing of - and into not trusting ourselves while only trusting the TEL-A-VISION, radio and all that media put forth – well, maybe we can turn away from all that permanently and go back to OURSELVES, with OUR OWN INNER-KNOWING, completely. What do you think?

Our Creator gave us all we need to live and move and have our being... as Love, Life, Soul, Spirit, Mind, Principle, Intelligence.

In giving us the gift of free will and choice, we learned all about what duality of consciousness is and how it can take us down.

We have been given reprieve and an opportunity to rebuild, revive, restore and reboot our lives and our world but, more importantly, our consciousness. Proof of this being underway is in action right now.

What do I mean by that? Let's explore this a bit and think hard on it, okay?

Most people aware of the "RV" (revaluation of the world's currencies) have been desperate for the never-before-created event to kick off and be DONE...but, it hasn't happened yet.

You see, while it is an event in and of itself, it's "event driven," by other important and necessary events. I don't think most anyone would argue that this is not true. However, what if it is also CONSCIOUSNESS DRIVEN?

What if the RV event will not occur, in fact, cannot occur, until and unless our consciousness is in alignment with what will be (must be) our new, Golden Age of the QFS, QES and more?

We know we need to have raised our "frequencies," and millions of us worldwide have been doing that.

We now know many of us have long-since left the land of 3D and even skipped over 4D to the fifth dimension of consciousness and higher.

We are feeling and experiencing the huge differences in our bodies, our relationships, our knowing, our clarity and in the world around us. If you have not experienced any of this, you may still be living in the third-dimension and are missing out on a great deal, leaving you a bit miffed and confused, or maybe even frustrated and angry.

Chances are, though, if you're reading this article still, you have achieved some meaningful degree of ascension, so congratulations!

Now, together as a collective group of people, we just need to get ourselves in sync with Quantum Consciousness, especially since "the Motherboard" is "running underneath" much of what we will be doing going forward on this planet and beyond. I sure don't want to ever feel I'm separated from divine Consciousness on anything going forward, and I suspect you feel the same!

We want to be closer, not further away, from divine Truth Consciousness. I'm not talking about a personification of our Creator or a deity, either, but of pure Life, Principle, Mind and Love itself - which is, always has been and always will be immaterial.

Some may disagree with me about this, but they will not be able to cite or prove the opposite is Truth. There simply is no power nor life originating in and of matter, because All cause and effect is purely Spiritual. Quantum physics came to this conclusion decades ago, though it was largely hidden from the public at large.

Challenge: Name one miracle, one true and proven healing, that the most famous way-shower of all (Jesus/Yeshua) ever demonstrated which required - was dependent upon - the use of matter. There is not one. Think about this, too: This same way-shower told us again and again that "whosoever believeth on me these works that I do, so shall ye do - and even greater works than these, because I go unto the Father." He showed us and he told us that we can manifest what many label "miracles" ourselves, and "even greater" ones than he did! We were created as divine, powerful reflections of the Creator of all - which some call "Source" or "God." Over the past 35+ years I've been able to do just that, as many, many others have worldwide, too.

All we need to do is accept the gifts so freely given to us and begin to walk in our trust and knowing, Truth and divine Principle, to activate such “miracles.” You see, in spiritual reality, miracles are the norm... not the exception. Dis-ease is abnormal and not divine Love’s will or intention for us. By our choice, we demonstrate, well, whatever we choose.

Moving along here with our exploration and discussion of the moment:

In the many days, weeks, months and (for some) years leading up to what we all envision as our soon-to-be, new financial reality (QFS), where what we trade for goods and services is no longer worthless “fiat” but, instead, truly “asset backed,” notice just how much you have learned over all this time. How much have you advanced in your spiritual growth and knowing, in particular?

Now, think a few minutes about how many so-called Gurus you have come across online and listened to for hours and hours.

Think about how many documents you have reviewed, saved, printed, filled out and organized.

Think about how many systems you’ve taken a crash-course in.

Think about the meeting or appointment you’ve “crammed” for in hopes of knowing all you need to know in order to fully protect, make the most of, best invest and “grow” whatever wealth you might receive and become “blessed” with as a result of said appointment or meeting.

Think about how all “this” – this “big blessing” will only be made possible by people who, you have been told, are bankers from some of the largest, oldest banking institutions in the world.

After everything we’ve learned over the last 70 to 100 years, most of us have a hard time feeling comfortable with that.

With what?

Trusting bankers to be anything other than the bankers of old...of the system we are abandoning to the way of the dinosaurs...of the system that enslaved and caused great harm to us all our lives. Heck! How many tens of thousands of them were arrested in the last few months alone?

Never mind, right?

We're being advised in how to be "professional," "prepared," "responsible," "efficient," "smart," "well-received" and "appreciated" by the bankers, and how if we go in with all the recommended financial buzz-words, know-how and instruments we can make things a lot easier for them and "get in and get out quickly."

Hmmm. Think about all this, please.

Do you really believe we are resetting the currencies to an "even playing field" of equality amongst no fewer than 209 countries, forgiving all bank debt, igniting NESARA/GESARA which means a return to either Constitutional, Common or Natural Law as well as an end to war between countries worldwide, and introducing the Quantum Computer/Consciousness to everyone and every system using satellites and space stations comfortably set all across our galaxy just so we can immediately begin to destroy this progress by continuing to apply old, failed systems and modalities? I don't believe that we are. Everything in me tells me that would be a lie... Unless we accept the suggestion(s) by some folks that we do so.

I have no intention of nor interest in doing that.

Reality is, though, that it takes a great and mighty collective consciousness to manifest great and mighty changes in the world. That means WE need to unite in consciousness about all this, and as soon as possible.

We need to decide we are finished and done with the old system altogether and refuse to compromise with some sort of modification of the old. Doing that would mean we'd be allowing for foot-holds in a path to our own destruction and enslavement again.

How do you respond to this? Say you, “Yes...that’ll be fine,” or “No, never again.”

I say NO, NEVER AGAIN.

Maybe there are those that have made the described, typically banking-world suggestions and continually urged certain actions with their advice, have been unable to resist sliding into their usual routine of making sure not to miss the opportunity(ies) to capitalize on a situation like what we all find ourselves in at this moment... OR:

Maybe they’re people who have truly meant well but, perhaps, lack enough faith and inner knowing of the one most important of possibilities.

What might that be? Maybe this one:

JUST SUPPOSE: The only way we move forward into this magnificent transition of Earth, and all of us into the Golden Age of Aquarius with her, is to be brave and take actions according to Divine direction, not man’s; and, by walking a path never stepped upon before, into a world of existence never lived before.

I BELIEVE: Stepping forward with absolute conviction of the heart and the knowing of what is right, good and true, will get us there.

When we choose this brand-new, uncharted pathway, we will be accepting that this is our time – the time for true and uncorrupted Humanitarians to be fully given Stewardship over the reclaimed wealth of the world, confiscated from the corrupt criminals now taken down and out from their places of power. This wealth belongs to the people.

Humanitarians are the people that will be entrusted with this stewardship, and rightly so. This is so that the collective, confiscated wealth can all be returned to the people in a wise and rational way.

This will not be a governmental program or system of control or manipulation. The RV “Tier-levels” above the public level “T-5” and, most particularly redemption of Zim bonds, are designed and ear-marked for just such a system of distribution. It was deliberately decided by the Alliance and leaders of several countries that only Humanitarians would be the ones entrusted with the greatest amounts of wealth.

Why was this decided? Because true Humanitarians naturally have the hearts, characters and spiritual constitutions absolutely best-suited for this Stewardship. They are not money-motivated and hold eternal well-springs of compassion and genuine care and love for others.

Participation and receiving of one's fair share of this collective wealth will be purely OPTIONAL for all people to either embrace and accept, or not (as they choose); just as soon as the Alliance has completed installation of the technological systems intelligently designed for this plan.

This amazing system is designed specifically for what will be the largest wealth distribution in the history of humanity and life itself everywhere. The system will be made available to all who wish to avail themselves of reliable, independent, no-strings attached income via the direction of Humanitarians who've already committed to directing funds they're entrusted with to this specific project, and over a span of 100 years and more.

Generations of people will realize comfort and security, as they reignite their communities, their faith, hope, joy, bravado and trust in humankind again. We have been beaten down, abused and suffered for a very long time. It will take massive levels of loving amongst us to bring our equilibrium back; but, we will get there because we will be supporting each other and doing it all together.

Each person will make their own choice or choices. We are finally FREE. There will be no strings attached or conditions for eligibility to receive reliable funds to live and do with as one chooses. There will be no discrimination.

The Alliance has known that this is the only way forward, because (a) divine Consciousness dictates this, and (b) most or none of the career leaders, politicians, educators/teachers and business icons can be reliably trusted to use, direct and distribute the wealth, as is best for the people.

I REPEAT:

The true Humanitarians being entrusted with stewardship of the wealth of the world will be able to return it to all of the people, over time and reliably, every single day for the rest of the peoples' lives via this brilliant system being prepared for use by the Humanitarians identified by this RV event with their choices and plans. It is also being prepared for use by the people who opt-in to the programs, with each person having nothing to lose and only everything to gain by doing so. No money or shares of earnings or income will be taken from others' coffers to provide funds for any participants of the programs offered, ever. No sales taxes paid will be a part of any of the funds distributed through these upcoming programs for the people, either, I can assure you.

Allow me to pose another question here, please:

How many of us didn't even know the RV was "coming" until recently, and that it is designed to do far more than just reset the financial situations all over the world?

If the RV had happened Spring of 2020, thousands of people would've been out of the loop and clueless to the opportunity to fulfill their life's mission to help their families and communities or to serve as a Humanitarian locally, regionally or for the world. I would've been "out of the loop," myself; but, divine Life (God) directed things specifically so that I would get Creator's clear messages and act upon directions that I could not ignore and had to obey, or else there'd be no sleep for me! Seriously! My path was divinely directed, no question about it, as were the paths of many others like me, I'm discovering.

Had some folks gotten their way over my having the time necessary to step into my Life's Mission and role, I kind of feel a huge disservice to humanity would've occurred. Let's point out: I'm just one of at least 1500 genuine Humanitarian spirits of the world. We are ready to step into our roles and take care of what needs to be taken care of for the people – unencumbered and unrestricted by bankers, politicians, corporatists or any opportunists or profiteers. This is divine Creator's plan, desire and direction.

No one and "nothing can stop what is coming." Or can it?

What do you think will happen if everyone who has foreign currencies and bonds who are part of “Tier 4B” (internet individuals and groups) go into their appointments treating them like job interviews and loan application meetings?

Perhaps the following?

Some will be rejected, even outright turned away for various reasons, mostly connected with disingenuous “presentations,” and claims, including fraudulent, counterfeit currencies and bonds.

Many will be given far less than “the people” need to get for this mammoth rebooting of our world. Why?

Simply because they do not think big enough - big enough to request ample funding with significantly higher rates per Zim, to last a hundred to five-hundred years at least, in order to truly fix the damages inflicted on Earth and the many existing and long-term problems for the billions of people of the world.

Some will walk away with a fraction of what they might’ve received because they will not have gone in there expecting to receive what is actually needed, and directly asking for far more than their first imaginings could contemplate. They just don’t believe the wealth is there waiting for them to take stewardship of it.

Some big-hearted, sincerely caring Zim-holders will walk out with a beautiful windfall of millions ideal for helping themselves in the remaining time they expect to be on Earth, their families and their local communities for decades, perhaps; and there is a place and need for that, too. However, they will have limited their scope of thought, their VISION and their KNOWING. They will have shrunk-back from their previously inspired Life Mission out of fear and due to not trusting their inner knowing.

Don’t we all know we can direct and assign the lion’s share of whatever we are given stewardship of toward projects others are all set and ready to implement? What harm is there in asking for the highest possible rate so that one can, then, pick, choose and direct the funds toward areas close to their heart and which they deem worthy and important, while others might have overlooked the particular arena of need.

SOME currency and/or Zim bond holders, however, will not go into their appointments with the same mindset developed in our enslavement years, acquiescing and appeasing the old banking system and bankers. They know the QFS, Quantum Consciousness, has made all transactions secure, private, instant and incorruptible. They know this is Creator's consciousness in action.

Some, true-to-their-core Humanitarians, will go in full of anticipatory excitement and love, happy to greet and thank the people waiting for them, there purely to help them receive the money they will need to fund all the vitally important local, statewide, national and international projects for the people, animals, plants and all of Earth. There will be zero sense of entitlement to the money, nor haggling over any requested or itemized fees to be paid to cover costs of any service people's salaries, or for transactions or transfers.

These Humanitarians know they are being given a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to truly serve humanity as a trusted steward and creative force for change and improvement of our world, surrounding planets and even galaxies. They recognize the limitless Allness of divine Source, and recognize their ability to serve as an instrument for Truth and Light, long-term everywhere.

The Humanitarians will be thrilled as they leave their appointments with all the funding they will ever need to make sure every person who wants it can have reliable, real, free and clear funds to provide a very comfortable, secure life for themselves and their families, no matter what they choose to do with their time and skills. They will know they will be able to help people remember who they truly are and what their heart longs to do, in and for the world.

So, you see, there is a big difference in mindsets when people view and contemplate the Quantum Computer, or Quantum Consciousness, this imminent RV and Redemption event, and, especially, the QFS.

The QFS is intuitive, and knows each person using the system and what the intent of each transaction really is. Yes. That's true of the QFS. Test it yourself and you will experience this Truth. Many thousands of bankers and U.S. treasury workers did and they are still experiencing the consequences of their attempts to get away with illegal, treasonous actions.

Accepting this fact, perhaps the reason why there has been some stalling to the appointments being arranged for, has something to do with us, our own personal mindsets and intentions.

Might it be that we are sending a message to the QFS that we, as a whole – the majority? – don't really want to let go of the old, enslavement way because we have gotten somewhat "comfortable" with that captive role? At least with that old system we grew to know what to expect, even if it was awful. Humans naturally like routine and knowing what to expect. Surprises aren't usually sought-after unless it's a quick, surprise Birthday party or other welcomed, good event.

No, decades of conditioning have trained us to only believe what is put in vivid technicolor and surround-sound, in short, small eye and ear candy bits we can swallow before having our attention quickly diverted to the next small sound bite, before the next short eye-candy piece, before the next "shocking" bit of adrenaline-boosting drama of propaganda, right into the next false promise of "comfort and relief" through, yet, another drug (or two, or three or more).

Do you see the path we were led down? It's time to choose another path – the one NEVER TROD ON BEFORE - the one which is illumined by divine Truth and mercy, grace and Love.

Are we, deep down, actually AFRAID TO PROGRESS, CHANGE AND IMPROVE OUR LIVES?

Are we afraid to accept 100% responsibility for our own happiness, surroundings and world?

Have we gotten too used to and, even, okay with handing all our personal power over to a selected few, for them to manage and even control...AGAIN? We have just barely survived that "modus operandi," haven't we? By the grace of God, we have.

I was led, to write this long article, by our Father-Mother Creator; because, apparently, there are people it is specifically for. I have been assured you are seeking this and ready for what these words mean to you, personally...and that these pages will bring you clarity, wisdom, insight, courage and inspiration to help you confidently STEP INTO YOUR TRUE IDENTITY AS THE PERFECT IDEA, THOUGHT AND EXPRESSION OF YOUR CREATOR.

All this is not about religion. Religion was created, implemented, orchestrated, manipulated and controlled by the opposite of divine Love as the “inside job” for dividing us as Source’s people worldwide.

This is about US, collectively getting close-knit again, remembering who we are, working together, dropping suspicions and distrust, paranoia, dishonesty and distance between us.

This is about CONNECTING TO QUANTUM CONSCIOUSNESS TOGETHER, so that we may dramatically raise our collective frequencies in strong signal to our Creator... the strong signal that we are ready to leave the enemy’s “ways and means” behind us forever.

We cannot dabble, compromise or fold the two ways of living and being together and expect there not to be a battle again for dominion over us all. We now know we don’t want dominion to belong to the dark, shadowy energies of deceit and lies, fear and terror, manipulation and theft, warfare and isolation, control and enslavement, torture and death.

No. It’s time we come together in absolute faith in the Holy Spirit of Truth and Light, eliminating all darkness from our world of Life and Love. Any who cannot or do not want this will not do so well on our Earth, because they will “miss” all the good. Our vibration in ascension to this level of consciousness will not recognize nor experience such people or energies going forward, with anything less than compassion, patience and care.

The Earth is entering its new realm of expression. It is leaving the slow and dreary world of the third dimension. If you are not aware of this, please do some research and you will find a wealth of information on this amazing event.

For now, as the Earth and its people ascend into the fifth dimension, we address the revaluation of all currencies and forgiveness of debts worldwide. We do this as the first, huge step toward galactic exchanges with each other and those we've not yet met, but are sure to soon enough. All eyes are on us here on Earth, and much support and love from them is surrounding and helping to protect us as we make these huge transitions together.

I write this article on FREEDOM DAY, June 19, 2021 and celebrate with everyone our collective freedom!

If you have some foreign currencies and were blessed to learn of the opportunity to exchange at a higher rate than will be possible after all is announced to the public at large, congratulations! You have been chosen to be one of the more local community Angels to not only greatly bless your family and close friends, but your community, whatever the size! Yours will be a life filled with joy and the appreciation, of and by, others. You will be an up-close-and-in-person example to those who experience you every day, in how to manage and live with abundance and not lack. This is vitally important for people to see in action every day. You will be a beautiful role model for the citizens of your area.

If you don't choose to share the wealth and abundance you receive, much or at all, and you spend it all on yourself, maybe you really need to do that because you were really abused badly over your life and cannot let go of it once in-hand. That's okay. No one will judge you for that.

You are loved and always will be. Compassion belongs to you. You, like everyone else, deserve to be happy and to live your life to the fullest and according to how you wish to. Love living!

If you are a Zim/bond holder, and provided you are ready to move forward, despite the barrage of conflicting messages you've been exposed to over the last year or more, please contemplate all I've shared with you in this article and, together:

1. Let's remember Truth and our identities as the perfect ideas, thoughts and expressions of divine Love. That's all we ever need to do in order to "live and move and have our being” in alignment with our Creator. When we do that, we find it easy to....

2. ...Fill our minds with only thoughts and expressions from Creator/Source, such that we are less and less likely to allow anything else to enter into our consciousness and “muddy the waters” of divine Truth.
3. Let’s always ask for the assistance and guidance we need, all along the way as we enter and live through the “Golden Age of Aquarius;” and let’s continue to
4. Recognize this present opportunity for what it is – a gift of the role of HUMANITARIANS IN STEWARDSHIP of the reclaimed wealth of, and for, mankind on Earth.
5. Let’s make sure we keep all thoughts and notions of profiting off the funds received in trust, out of our minds, and put away any traditional “business plans” we may have been tempted to entertain. We are not going into business. We are going into service to humanity; and
6. Let us be sure to remain astute, keenly observant, ever-available and always listening to the needs and desires of people, animals and all living and Light-filled beings everywhere.

As I bring this article to a close, offered sincerely for your contemplation, I leave you with this:

Quantum: quantity, amount Computer: a programmable, usually electronic device that can store, retrieve and process data. Consciousness: sentience, awareness of internal and external existence.

When we combine Quantum with Consciousness, I comprehend “Quantum Consciousness - A quantitative awareness of internal and external existence(s).” Seems clear and simple.

When we use the term interchangeably with “Quantum Computer” we can say, “An electronic device that can store, retrieve and process multiple quantities of data;” then combining it with “Consciousness,” I, personally, get: “An awareness of internal and external existence processed, retrieved and stored quantitatively, intuitively and instantly, involving electronic (energetic) frequency transfers.”

OPINION:

We'll attain Quantum Consciousness only as we experience collective awareness of our internal and external existence, whether we utilize a computer or not.

If we, instead, decide to continue with much the same civic, judicial, political, medical/pharmaceutical, communications and entertainment, banking and monetary systems of the past 100 years leading clear up to what is withering before us in our present, we will surely fail, again. The grace we're receiving today will have been wasted. Humanity may then be lost.
