Hello to our friends who are watching these trainings. This is the wealth education series number six, called motivation by greed or needs still equals the blessings. So with that, we'll go ahead and began registering and getting a beneficiary account is a wonderful thing. You receive consistent substantial revenue without having to work. It just keeps coming. It's wanting to get more income considered greedy is wanting to get more income, consider greedy. And I say no, it's not. But let's go on to the next slide. From Revenue sharing solutions perspective, the resounding answer is no. More money given to benefits to the beneficiary, means more people are receiving their portions of the virtually unlimited revenue we have. The process of getting more money for yourself is simply a reward for you're helping others find financial security when a single mother registers and starts receiving life changing financial relief. How can that be considered greed on the part of the beneficiary who introduced this mother to revenue sharing solutions. It is a natural human characteristic to share something good with another, especially a dear friend or a family member. Greed comes into play when one feels that sharing with another means they will not get enough for themselves or take a power over others approach and say that things like I don't want that person to be as wealthy as me. lack mentality creates debilitating fears that cause one to resist the sharing instinct, because they feel they will be left out shorted. They're not superior or any number of reasons to resist sharing. When thinking is distorted like that, a person's sharing may be greedy. But when thinking is in harmony with correct principles, one sharing may be based on another's need for financial relief. If you believe in the goodness of mankind, you will allow the natural flow of sharing the opportunity for wealth with a lot of people reward for this kindness is built into the design of the RSS internet platform. It is the bonus program. The natural flow of what is referred to as the sharing energy creates peace and joy. When this natural flow is interrupted by the energy of greed, it sets up a course of mental distortion frustration, and dysfunction. The results of the prevailing energy will give indications of what you envy has been the motivation to share. Greed versus need, may be found in the use of trusts. Besides grownups, other major percentage of the population are children under the age of 18. The RSS design is also intended to help children. Children are majorly affected when the answers to their financial needs is met by the phrase we don't have enough money for that this can change with appropriate sharing. Appropriate sharing means parents can begin a lifetime of wealth for their children by establishing a trust in their name. This gives the parent ultimate control of the use of the money as the trustee, while at the same time, creating the abundance mentality in their children. By having the resources for children to participate in activities that cost money, such as school uniforms and clothes, sports equipment, musical instruments and lessons. The child can learn abundance instead of restraint based on money issues, from dresses or tuxedos for formal dances, summer vacations, braces for teeth, or any number of growing up expenses give rise to the different decision making process based on appropriateness rather than the lack of money. Opportunities for handicapped or mentally challenged individuals through trust means they get to have all of the The latest devices needed to have a better life. Greed may not be the motivation to create trust for underage children. The parent as a trustee may create a trust to get more money. However, RSS does not have a concern for the beneficiary, creating any of the six trusts available to them for their own use. There is no oversight of this from the RSS management. The trust may be set up at the discretion of the beneficiary, for whatever the beneficiary deems worthy of a trust. The trust documents that establish the trust should be created by a professional but is not currently required. The trust document determines the relationship between the trustee and the trust beneficiary and the use of the trust money for the beneficiary or child is like in this example, keep in mind when that when a child turns 18, he or she may become a beneficiary on their own. But the trust will continue to download revenue beyond the 18th birthday to the beneficiary who created it. plan accordingly, a trust entity may not create another trust. Revenue sharing solutions is designed to incorporate the natural flow of sharing energy into a person's life that will relieve financial stress. They'll say not only for them, but for others. The design ensures that a person receiving revenues retains their personal dignity while enjoying the benefits of having sufficient financial resources for their needs. parents or guardians play a meaningful role in giving money to a child appropriately. The use of stewardship responsibility is a powerful tool in teaching the appropriate use of money resources, responsibility and accountability can be taught in an early age. Letting the child learn to give or share resources with others is a lesson that ensures a well balanced approach to life. Often this impulse to share is stifled by the lack of money. The revenue sharing program allows appropriate sharing because the funds are available to share. When the child grows to maturity in their teenage years. There's a propensity to receive things as an entitlement rather than appreciating things when they are freely given. There is a component of the lack mentality to the entitlement thinking that can be alleviated through the proper allowing of the child to be responsible for their own choices at an early age. That comes a time when parents need to let natural consequences dictate the choices a person makes, rather than the parent dishing out parental consequences, or punishments for making less than good decisions. It's hard for a child to blame their parents for their problems. When the parent can point out the natural consequences that took place from their errant decisions. Children will inherently know when they screw up if parents will allow them to suffer the natural consequences instead of punishment. When the child is given natural consequences instead of parental punishment at a young age, they learned how to make better decisions as they grew up to maturity and will not blame their parents for their stupid decisions. A young person will receive or accept counsel and advice from a parent when not confronted with punishment when they screw up. Revenue sharing solutions was created to be a solution to the economic problems found in most homes across the world. If economic financial problems can be solved on a personal basis, the macrocosm then the world economic problems. The macrocosm may be solved as well. We have the means of making a difference. There is wisdom in the RSS program that has been created to help mankind on a worldwide economic level. Let's explore the problems and see how the RSS program of sharing provides the solutions in In order to appropriately share wealth with people, there are principles that need to be followed to maintain personal dignity while avoiding chaos. Sharing wealth must maintain personal feelings of self worth by creating an ownership position. By purchasing a beneficiary account and becoming a beneficiary. One can feel that they have done something to justify receiving their funds. The return for a $10 beneficiary count may be disproportionate to what they receive. But the beneficiary has done what is required and is entitled to receive what is given the conditions to receive have been met. Mentally this works, and overtime the beneficiary will acquire an attitude of gratitude for what he or she receives. Sustainability is absolutely essential beneficiary count creates a consistent continuous flow of revenue to the beneficiary. RSS has secured commitments from many substantial donors so that shares will never expire and will continue to continue to receive revenue far into the future. Even to the billions of beneficiary accounts being paid out simplicity of the program. It is important that the program be so simple, anyone can understand and participate in the revenue. The personal office is designed to give a person all the information they may want to manage their finances and get the revenue into the proper quantum financial system account for the beneficiaries use. The ease of access the internet was selected because it is universal of its universal use. It is easy to register and manage ones that count on their RSS intern to net personal office webpage that found on the RSS platform. The internet is the base best way to share the RSS program with the masses. You the RSS program provides a minimum revenue flow for each beneficiary to use. The bonus program offers more income if a person is willing to share the RSP program with others. There are no restrictions as to how much revenue a beneficiary may receive. RSS recognizes that even those who want millions of dollars will work the program for their maximum gain, while at the same time getting revenue into the hands of perhaps hundreds of 1000s or even millions of people, which is our intent. The RSS program accommodates the greed that that the lack mentality of society has produced, we understand that greed will be a motivator for a lot of people. However, we have created a platform that will use that grade to accomplish our purposes. It is our belief that this abundant flow will create the desire to share in helping society to move into the abundance mentality where there is plenty for everyone. This abundance mentality is the blessing that we would like to develop in the lives of every beneficiary who is participating in our program, greed or need. RS has has considered both ends of that spectrum, and have found success in accommodating each concept. If greed exists in an individual, let it be used to create a blessing for themselves and perhaps hundreds of others. Greed will not outlive the blessings. But the blessings may outlive the greed as the abundance mentality takes over the thinking process. This is our intent. This ends our presentation for now. We'll continue to create more of these as as time goes by. Thank you for your participation and we send you much love and joy and hope you find what you're looking for in our programs. Thank you very much
