

ORGANIZATIONS OVERSPENDING MILLIONS ON UTILITIES ARE ENTITLED TO A REFUND

PROBLEM

The current problem is that many businesses and non-profits are facing budget challenges and have no idea that they are being overcharged to the tune of $19 billion annually by their utility companies according to the US House of Representatives, Ways and Means Committee. This includes bills such as electricity, gas, sewage, water and telecommunications. According to the Consumer Federation of America, AT&T, Comcast, Verizon, and Charter Communications overcharge their customers $60 billion dollars annually!

SOLUTION

Eco-Enterprise conducts forensic retroactive review of organizations' utility bills in order to find overcharges that may warrant a refund. Eco-Enterprise's "Utility Cost Recovery" service is comprised of a team of auditors that have successfully acquired refunds for businesses, Fortune 500 companies, and other non-profits, such as:

American Airlines®

Canon

SONY

Our experts have 35 years of experience providing refunds with an 87% success rate, which means approximately 9 out of 10 organizations will receive a refund.

WHICH ORGANIZATIONS QUALIFY?

To qualify, a business or non-profit needs an electricity bill, a telecommunications bill or a gas bill of minimum $3,000 per month.

HOW DO ORGANIZATIONS RECEIVE A REFUND?

Visit <https://eco-enterprise.com/new-client-application> and complete the application in less than 10 minutes. Upload the 1) organization's contact information 2) Tax ID, and 3) the most recent utility bills. Eco-Enterprise completes the research and provides a forensic audit of the utility bills for FREE. If the organization receives a refund or credit, the organization keeps 50% of the total money recovered and Eco-Enterprise keeps the other 50%. The refund check or credit will be issued within 3 to 6 months. If there is no refund found, an organization does not owe any payment whatsoever.
