In the realm of independent film and television, The International Media Acceleration (IMA) Alliance AI-enhanced portfolio opportunity – for UHNW investors, institutions, and family offices – emerges as a beacon of innovation and profitability, redefining the landscape of media investments – an industry that generated global revenues of $3 trillion in 2024. At the core of our strategy lies a proprietary AI-enhanced, meticulously curated portfolio, combining a spectrum of award-winning screenplays manifested into high-ROI motion picture and television projects via the strategic prowess of outstanding industry veterans - combined with the incomparable financial leadership of Stuart Wilkins, a 30-year managing director of successful Lloyds Bank investment funds that totaled $1 billion+. Our alliance is your gateway to becoming an integral part of productions that are not just films and series but timeless legacies, overseen via the creative leadership of David Christopher Loya, an award-winning filmmaker, director and screenwriter with nearly 100 industry accolades. Join us in nurturing projects from inception to global distribution, guided by our proprietary Conscious Filmmaker™ Protocols, ensuring impactful, timeless, highly commercial, and powerful storytelling designed to generate long-term revenues.

Strategic Advantages That Set Us Apart

Our approach disrupts traditional paradigms – offering a unique blend of custom AI tools integrated with theatrical and streaming strategic advantages. With an expansive platform release strategy leveraging our ability to book up to 1000+ screens, delivering a robust US theatrical presence, each project is poised to captivate audiences worldwide, promising substantial returns. Our global market acumen, fortified by prestigious affiliations like the Cannes Marché du Film, ensures your investment reaches its zenith of potential.

The Cinematic Pillars of Success

Our methodology is anchored in the Five Pillars of International Media Acceleration: Curation, Incubation, Development, Pre-Marketing, and Placement. Great success begins with a great script. Right from the start our incubation process requires that we only select from our unique access to the best unproduced screenplays, as ranked by respected entertainment industry platforms. And our remaining pillars build from there. This comprehensive framework not only accelerates the journey from script to screen but also amplifies the commercial appeal of each project, ensuring a lucrative and enriching investment experience.

Embark on a Journey of Unprecedented Returns

With projected ROIs ranging from 32% to 151%, the IMA Alliance stands as a testament to the fusion of artistic integrity, AI integration, and financial acumen. Our vision is clear – to make independent film and television a mainstream, intelligent alternative investment, offering an immersive experience that extends beyond mere financial returns, weaving a global cinematic legacy.

Join Us in Shaping the Future of Entertainment

As we unveil groundbreaking projects poised for accelerated production, your participation promises not just returns, but a legacy, expertly and strategically built upon a $100 million investment deployed in four $25 million tranches. Be part of a movement that transcends traditional investment, where your contribution shapes the cultural fabric of tomorrow.
