CUSWF'S 2022 INITIATIVES

CORPORATE MENTORSHIP PROGRAM

After the pandemic, what skills and education are employers looking for? How can applicants navigate new hiring practices? Can students be taught to more easily transition from education to employment?

CUSWF invites you to become a Mentor to share your expertise and showcase your commitment to helping women and students to thrive.

Interested in participating in the CUSWF Corporate Mentorship program as either a mentor or a mentee? Contact Ella Apostoaie, eapostoa@wellesley.edu, for more info about applying.

REGAINING OUR MENTAL HEALTH

Talking about real life challenges can foster improved mental health. CUSWF is partnering with leading mental health centers like the JED Foundation and launching Dear CUSWF, a forum that will feature advice and discussion.

Our Mental Health Mentor, Dr. Marcia Wolf is a clinical psychologist with over 40 years experience specializing in adolescent and family therapy. She has a Ph.D. from the University of Maryland and is certified in hypnosis. Her current focus is helping students to cope with the impact of the pandemic including navigating virtual learning and social interaction. To submit a question or concern to Dr Wolf that you would like answered, click the button below to go directly to our anonymous Google Form.

GEN-Z SUMMER INTERNSHIP PROGRAM FOR HIGH SCHOOL AND COLLEGE STUDENTS

Explore the post-pandemic world through the lens of international relations during the third annual CUSWF Summer Internship Program.

Running from June through August of 2022, the program will teach valuable work and life skills and help students better navigate their lives. Students from Sidwell Friends, Wellesley College and other schools will take part.

For more information please contact Leslie Wolf-Creutzfeldt, leslie@cuswf.org.

INTRODUCING NEW CUSWF STAFF!

Ella Apostoaie,
Corporate and Donor
Partnership
Administrator

Ella is from Norwich, in England, and graduated from Wellesley College in 2021 with a major in East Asian Studies (China concentration) and a minor in Economics. She is overjoyed to be a part of the CUSWF, getting to use her Mandarin skills that she developed at college, as well as her fundraising, event planning, organisational, and technical skills that she has been honing throughout college and beyond. Ella hopes that her unique background will help CUSWF to think outside the box for the upcoming year and strive to fulfil the mission of supporting women in China and the US to achieve their potential.

Jinbo Niu, Global
Students Coordinator

Jinbo is a junior student of a joint program between the School of Public Affairs and Administration (SPAA) at Rutgers University, Newark, and the Capital University of Economics and Business (CUEB), China. Jinbo is bilingual in Mandarin and English and his academic interest focuses on quantitative methods in researching public issues and policies between China and the US. Jinbo also has internship experiences in NGOs, state-owned businesses, and nonprofits in both China and the US. He is excited to bring his skills to the China-US Women's Foundation and help with fundraising, budgeting, and implementing the 2022 initiatives.

UPCOMING EVENTS

Discover the Power and Beauty of Modern Female Poetry with Poet Dana Robbins

Poetry by women is thriving fueled by greater access on the internet and more discussion on social media. Teenage girls and women are the major audience for female poetry exploring themes like love, family and pain in new ways. Join Dana Robbins in a discussion about contemporary women poets and how they communicate their world. Dana will share some of her favorite poems including some from China and the US.
