Biography: Formed in 2022, Andrew Moore and Hooch is a dynamic bluesy band with an americana kind of twist that has been captivating audiences with their high-energy performances and soulful, gritty sound. Led by singer and pianist Andrew Moore, the band has been making waves in the music scene with their infectious blend of blues, country, rock, soul and songwriting. Andrew Moore's heart felt lyrics, impassioned vocals and electrifying piano work, combined with the tight rhythms and soulful grooves laid down by the rest of the band, create a musical experience that is both powerful and deeply engaging. Their music draws from the rich tradition of writing their own music and lyrics in the style of country and blues while infusing it with a modern edge, resulting in a sound that is both timeless and contemporary.

Andrew comes from a hard-working blue-collar type of background. He grew up as a coal miner until coal was diminished. He then replaced coal mining with Commercial Diving and underwater welding, graduating 2nd in his class. He has since then managed hospitality companies, been a horizontal drilling operator, and currently is the Director of Sales and Marketing for ECO Tech USA LLC. He currently works 5 days per week staying away from home and performs 3 nights per week. His goal is to become a household name in music. His dream, work ethic, and ambitions are very big.

Andrew started singing and playing in 2015 to fill an entertainment void in a family run speakeasy in the Adirondack Mountains. It was there that he initially formed the very first version of his band. He called it Hooch, as it fits the speakeasy vibe. When Andrew and his wife and 2 sons moved back home to Kentucky in 2019, Andrew struggled to find bandmates to reignite his passion for music and performing. Andrew found solo gigs all around the region and continued to play shows forming a relationship with Jeff Ruby's Steakhouse after a successful audition. Eventually Andrew met Logan Turner (bass) at a jam session in Richmond Ky. Logan and Andrew continued to keep their eyes open, that is when Logan heard a young Gabe Crockett playing a guitar at a music store. Jeremiah True (sax) and Matthew Skaggs (drums) were discovered on Facebook by word-of-mouth recommendations. Currently, Andrew Moore and Hooch can be found weekly at Jeff Ruby's Steakhouse 2-3 times per week in Lexington Ky and Cincinnati Oh.
