

Why You Need a Drone Pilot?

Why do you need a drone pilot? Well, the Labor Department has projected a 29% growth in the photogrammetry category until 2029. In 2017, after the Part 107 license was introduced by the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), more than 30,000 people received commercial operator certifications. 20% of companies are relying on outsource drone operators to complete their services. Outsourcing drone operations to the capable and more experienced allows the stress of the businesses day to day operators to become nil. All commercial drone pilots in the United States are certified by the Federal Aviation Administration and must adhere to Part 107 rules and regulations.