

I.C.U. - Intensive Care Unit I See You

For those that need help answering these foundational questions.

If you do not have an answer to these questions, or don't like the answer you have for the question(s) maybe it's time for a change? Today is the first day of the rest of your life and there is no guarantee for tomorrow, but there is hope.

I See You. I want to help you. I want to help you answer these questions, or give you the knowledge of the truth so you can answer the questions yourself. Do you need help? More importantly, do you want help? You have to want to be healed to receive healing.

Go ahead and write in your answers below the questions. Later we will answer these questions again at the end of this study to see if your answers change once you know the truth. I'll share the answers I believe are correct at the end, no looking ahead.

Why are we here?

How did this world come to exist?

Why are you where you are in life today?

Are you happy with your life as it is today?

Where do you want to be in the future?

What gives you hope to continue on tomorrow?

Are you open to change?

What is your purpose in this life?

What is your value to the greater whole?

Do you value yourself and your time?

Describe what your dream life looks like?

If you are ready to start a new journey down the path to the person you were created to be, today is a good day to take the very first step. The questions above are to help you reflect on where you are today and where you would like to be in the future.

If you are honest with yourself, and if you don't like where you are in life, the first step in changing your life for the better is to assess where you are, what you're doing and acknowledging that there may be issues that need to be addressed. You may not even know what the root of the problem is at this point and that is ok. Let's work on that together.

As we move forward, the issues will become apparent and the solutions to the issues will present themselves, the best part is that through this reflection the answers will come from within.

I know, it is a leap of faith, but that is exactly what it takes.

Know that our hope is to restore communities. It's a process that can only start with self reflection. What I am going to share with you is more valuable than Gold. I pray you receive it as it will change your life forever.

I See You - I.C.U. Intensive Care Unit

I see you and I want to help you. When we're broken we go to the I.C.U. Restored people want to restore people. If you've made it this far, you're on the right path.

Most people think that money and hand outs will help restore community. I disagree.

I could give you money, I could give you food. I could give you clothes, I could put you in a hotel room for the night, or I could take you home and bring you under my roof and take care of your every need.

I could give you a fish or I could teach you how to catch your own fish and give you the tools to catch more fish than you can eat.

I could show you how to clean the fish, cook the fish, market the fish, sell the fish so well you could open your own restaurant as I am well versed in all of those disciplines.

Yes, it requires time, resources, commitment, money and what some would call "luck", but I don't believe in luck, or chance. I believe in purpose.

There's nothing more I would love to see; my fellow neighbors, citizens, Americans, everyone for that matter; happy, healthy, not hungry and not homeless, healed and healthy, living their best life.

Wouldn't it be great to be laughing, smiling and experiencing true joy, success and happiness?

There would be no need for drugs and alcohol to "dull the pain" of the destiny that our own bad decisions created. Sure there are probably extenuating circumstances that may have added to your challenges, but you can overcome any obstacle you are determined to defeat. Look at Helen Keller, just one of 1,000's of overcomers.

Truth is even the most blessed, positive person in the world has bad days. Life is tough, but it doesn't have to be.

What's the secret? To tell you the truth, it's not a secret. We've been deceived into thinking life is not fair and to live with the hand you've been dealt.

Yes, we've all been lied to, misled and deceived so much so that the truth is hidden right in front of us.

We have become blind to the truth because of the lies and deception that runs rampant in the world we live in.

The challenge is finding the truth, believing it is the truth, so that you can use the information to completely transform your life.

It is a choice, a decision, a change of perspective you have to believe to see. I didn't say it will be easy as change is never easy, it is however a choice and I pray you choose it.

If you don't use the information and tools I'll give you (for free) you can continue living as you are, unchanged. As always, you have choices, so choose wisely.

A good rule of thumb is to choose the right choice, the best choice for all parties concerned, always. It's a great practice.

Another challenge is that there are so many choices in life, so many variables in every human beings creation that every individual, even twins, are unique.

There is no other you in the world, you are one of a kind. Regardless of when, where, who, or what we were born into; the solution remains the same for everyone.

We all must make choices and those choices, good or bad, have consequences. Again, this is why it's best to choose the best choice for all concerned. This isn't a competition, its community. If you win, I win, we all win. Making the world a better place one person at a time. Ourselves.

Are you happy with how life is going for you? Do you want change? If you truly want change, the only one that can change anyone is oneself.

We as an individual must decide we want to be changed for the better or for the worst or we can coast along and see what life determines for us. Sadly this seems to be the choice most make as they believe they are defeated, settling for less when there's so much more for you.

Again it's your life, your choices, your reward for your choices be they good or bad.

I understand, sometimes it's not just our choices that affect our decisions as it may be outside circumstances we have no control over that created the current challenges we face. Tragedy can strike at any moment, but how you respond can make the difference. I know this first hand as I've lived through multiple tragedies.

Knowing it is also our choice to choose how we respond to diverse circumstances. Perspective is everything; let us take a closer look at this concept.

Perspective starts from the point of knowing who you are, what your purpose is, and why you exist. If you don't know who or why you are, your perspective will be distorted. My hope with this Intensive Care Unit is to restore your soul to new life. Redeemed, restored, renewed!

I see you, I want to help you.

I want to give you something more precious than gold, money, food, or shelter. It's better than sex, drugs and alcohol. It's been called "The Highest of Highs", and I believe that to be the truth.

Are you ready? Here's the truth.

You are a creation of the creator of this world. Yes, God Almighty, the Great "I Am", the King of Kings created you.

Did you know you are "created for God's pleasure", for relationship through the Holy Spirit in Christ with God?

It's hard to believe, I know. It doesn't change the fact that it is the absolute truth.

Not my words, God's Word. He said it about you. He said it about me. He told me to tell you. Weather you believe it or not, it's still the truth as God cannot lie.

If you would like to understand your purpose, I hope that you might take the time to allow me to read my book to you or you can read it yourself. It's free with the exception that it does require a commitment of time. It's actually a bit entertaining at the same time in that it is My Story for His Glory.

You can find some tools and a playlist called "Purpose - My Story" at www.outlawson.com or go to wadequinton.com and click on the "Download My Book" link to take you to the printable version of the book. Read along with me. I believe you will find value in the resources that can change your life if you're willing to.

Be blessed...As promised, here's my answers to the questions above from the first page.

Why are we here? To love one another and be loved. To have a relationship with the Creator.

How did this world come to exist? Genesis 1 - It is the Truth "They" pray you won't believe.

Why are you where you are in life today? I have a purpose, I wrote a book about it, go check it out, see above.

Are you happy with your life as it is today? I've never been better.

Where do you want to be in the future? In Eternity with my Lord

What gives you hope to continue on tomorrow? I'm a Hope Dealer! Get you some!

Are you open to change? Yes, I'm working to be the best version of me I can be, it's my goal.

What is your purpose in this life? I have a lot of purpose, I want to solve the problems of the world.

What is your value to the greater whole? Priceless

Do you value yourself and your time? If I were to charge for my services no one could afford it, Jesus paid the price for us so I just do what He asks of me.

Describe what your dream life looks like? Back to the Farm! Restoration of America and the world. Nothing big and fancy...hahaha
