A Gay and A Non Gay

A Gay and a NonGay

Comedy (lgbt, interactive)

Venue 302 Underbelly, Bristo Square – Jersey

Time 22:25

Duration 1 hour

Accessibility: Wa Ng

Suitability: 16+ (Guideline)

Group: gaynongay.com

Gay and straight worlds collide, as unlikely friends James Barr (Gay) and Dan Hudson (NonGay) plus special guests bring their award-winning comedy podcast to Edinburgh! Expect audience interaction, a hilarious parody of Queer Eye as Dan lends his hetero gaze to the Gay community in NonGay-Eye and a laugh-out-loud look at issues affecting Gay and NonGay people in an absurdly simple but hilarious premise; what divides us makes us laugh harder. 'The most fundamentally kind and funny podcast in Britain' (Radio Times).

Accessibility: WA WC

Suitability: 16+ (Restriction)

Group: Kerry Leigh

Kerry has broken the habit of a lifetime - pleasing people. In this funny, feel-good solo show she blends stand-up, song parody and literal dance into an inspiring rainbow of comedy. After struggling with the adult world where we are taught to chase rainbows, she gives up trying to become a ninja in time management and embraces being an imperfect parent, delves into lesbian singledom in her forties and puts her own mental health at the top of her to-do list. Pleasing yourself has never felt so good. Winner of L Fest Comedian of 2018 award.

It's been 10 years since Eli was made Head Environment Prefect at high school. It's hard to believe he still hasn't saved the world. In fact he's starting to worry he's made it worse. When everything in the world seems terrible, can one Inconvenient Poof make a difference? 'Filled with topical humour, hilarious anecdotes and huge laughs'  (FreshAir.org.uk, Edinburgh 2018). 'Leaves a lot of other comedians wallowing in the past... deserves to be massive'  (ShortCom.co.uk). 'Nails every punchline'  (New Zealand Herald).

Former "straight" and rising NYC star Keenan Steiner (NY Comedy Festival) makes his Fringe debut with a high-octane hour on the hilarity of coming out late and living life gay. After performing in cities across the US and American radio stations, the exuberant yet desperate stand-up has crafted an hour of sharp punchlines and absurd asides translating gayness for everyone. Look out for jokes on what happens when friends don't believe you're gay, you have sex with a man for the first time, and, oh right, even a few things that we've all been through.

Len Blanco's the modern man of your dreams: Woke. Feminist. Vegan (Monday to Thursday). He just wants to talk to you. For God's sake, let him talk to you. In his musical comedy cabaret, this recovering boy band member and drag king amongst men will be exclusively revealing just how far he's come since the 90s (spoiler: not very far). Blanco's larger-than-life debut solo show will deliver live vocals, live lip-sync, and live choreo. VAULT Festival After Dark nominee, Man Up finalist, as seen on BBC One's All Together Now. 'Joyous and completely original drag' (WithinHerWords.co.uk).

Suzi has made a name for herself turning tragedy and anxiety into big laughs. This year, she is happy. This show answers the question: are all stand-ups at their best when they are miserable? Fingers crossed no. The last 12 months have been massive for Ruffell, a smash-hit UK tour, heaps of television appearances including Live At The Apollo and she's learnt how to make the perfect lemon cake. Come and see what all the fuss is about! 'Electrifying stand-up' (Evening Standard). 'A natural stand-up' (List).

Dream job, huge fanbase and in a committed relationship with a hunky dancing bear. Everything was going right for the bearded lady; until her secret came out... Appropriating Leonardos from da Vinci to DiCaprio, a gender-bending journey and joyful f*ck you to a world that asks people to hide or change who they are. 'Van der Beek is a brilliantly understated comic writer and performer who draws on the work of Andy Warhol and Lady Gaga, as well as the punk spirit of Deborah Harry and the Sex Pistols' (Scotsman).

Love comedy? Love queers? Then you'll love this mixed bill of award-winning LGBTQ+ women and non-binary comedians. Described by Sofie Hagen as 'my favourite comedy club in London', The LOL Word is taking the UK by storm with their hilarious, inclusive nights. There's no kicking down (no sexism, transphobia, racism, etc.) but plenty of punching the patriarchy. After sell-out Fringe runs in 2017 and 2018, make sure you grab your pals and get your tickets quick! Previous special guests include Fern Brady, Sarah Keyworth, Kemah Bob, Heidi Regan, Sophie Duker and Jordan Gray.

In 2016, SAG Award-winning, middle-aged scene-stealer Tom Lenk (Buffy, Tilda Swinton Answers..., Transparent, HBO's Room 104) accidentally achieved what millennials and wannabe social media "influencers" desperately crave: Instagram superstardom. Using 'household junk and sly humor' (New York Times), his 'Lenk Lewk for Less' red carpet parody photos and videos have garnered 500k followers, hundreds of millions of views, and reposts from your fave celebs (Kylie Minogue?!). Now, Lenk combines comedy, trash-fashion, hot glue guns and all things half-assed in this hilarious hour of craftertainment. 'Lenk is brilliant' (Guardian).

After playing to packed houses at last year's Edinburgh Fringe with a return to his greatest triumph Whose Line Is It Anyway?, Tony Slattery is back with a no-holds-barred reflection on his life and work. From the Cambridge Footlights to the demons that have consistently dogged his success. As you would expect of the King of Improvisation, this is an unstructured and unpredictable gallop through several lifetimes worth of poignant and hilarious anecdotes. Anything can happen, and it probably will...

Join Dian Cathal, an immigrant of country and gender, in an attempt to prove their hypothesis: that Trans jokes can be funny. If you laugh, it's comedy. If they cry, it's theatre. It may sound binary but heck, it's always good to know where you stand, right? Trans(Atlantic) is a humorous exploration into life beyond the binary. Hailed as Nanette 2.0, the show is Dian Cathal's first solo performance. Let's see what happens!

Mandy is an idiot. In fact, she's a bit of a nob. But she's hilarious and adorable so that makes it okay. Sometimes horrible things happen to the nobbiest of people. When faced with her own mortality, how does she cope? She laughs into the cleavage of cancer! 'As she says, 'laughter really is the breast medicine' * (NorthWestEnd.co.uk). From sex with marigolds to a mannequins head called Celine, Mandy overshares it all. Fun, fearless and a little bit filthy. Nominated: Best Comedy Manchester Fringe and Best Comedy Performer Buxton Fringe 2018. www.mandytootillcomedy.com

Wait... Let's Have Fun! is an hour of stand-up comedy from gay, ridiculous, ultra-positive comedian and internet personality Tim Murray. Growing up a closeted gay boy in middle-of-nowhere Ohio, Tim is constantly trying to be the cool girl in school, at gay clubs in Miami, waiting tables in NYC, hanging out with his mum, checking coats for Lea Michelle and Rosie O'Donnell and even when teaching acting to child models (his current job). The show is an hour long escape of heavy laughter and finding the fun in everything!

My mom says I should focus on clean comedy for my career. F*ck that. Please join me, a Time Out New York Comic to Watch 2019 (stop it, I'm blushing) as I skewer my traumatic Southern Baptist childhood and equally painful gay NYC adulthood. It's my debut hour at the Fringe, it'll be equal parts adorable and hot, and will delight my mother in title only.

Zoe brings her smash-hit, total sell-out show back to the Fringe with a crop of quick-fire observational gags, delivered with utter conviction, not to mention 'proper laugh-out-loud one-liners' (Herald). 'Lyons is on top of her game, in command of her material, her audience and her stage' * (Chortle.co.uk). 'An hour of intelligent observations and hilarious character comedy' * (ThreeWeeks). As seen on Live at the Apollo, Mock the Week, Room 101 and regularly heard on BBC Radio 4's News Quiz, Just a Minute, The Now Show and plenty more. Book early.
