“A rising tide raises all ships.” Over the past years Supply and Multiply has had numerous organizations come alongside us to encourage us and support the calling place on the ministry. Organizations like Learning to Hope in Haiti have stayed at our guest house, loved on the elderly, sang and brought supplies to the Matthew 25 House, and continued to pour into the schools and orphanages in Montrouis. We have had other organizations like World Race come to grow with God, love others, and make a difference in the world. We had a student pilot from Missionary Flights International serve alongside a mission team to gain a better understanding their mission field. We have medical students from schools come and work with our elderly and provide them with physical therapy and most recently they’ve been working with our vision impaired in the use of a walking stick.

We are excited to share with you some ways that Supply and Multiply will be working with other organizations in Haiti and other locations to meet the needs of Haitians. We will start the year working with an organization in the Dominican Republic that comes alongside Haitian children, housing them in an orphanage which provides for them a home, education, and most importantly, the love of Christ. We will also be ministering to Haitians that live in bateyes, a term used to refer to a rural community of sugarcane workers. They work under the most oppressive conditions. In February will be working with the Tim Tebow Foundation to host the Night to Shine event in Montrouis Haiti. Night to Shine is an unforgettable prom night experience, centered on God's love, for people with special needs ages 14 and older. Many of the attenders are people that we minister to in various ways in Montrouis.

Supply and Multiply has been blessed from its inception to partner with individuals, churches, businesses, and communities to serve the Haitian population. All of the additional ministries that Supply and Multiply is working with and coming along side do not take from any of the existing programs. It strengthens them. Right now during this most difficult season when it's is hard to have our feet on the ground in Haiti or host mission teams in Montrouis due to the instability, we are walking in obedience, faith, and wisdom.

God has opened doors for us to continue to serve the Haitian community in a new capacity. We will be working with those that have escaped the oppression and ills of Haiti and unfortunately fallen into another one in the Dominican Republic. We will continue to support and encourage the Supply and Multiply staff and ministries in Haiti. When we are in the Dominican Republic we are prayerful that some of the Supply and Multiply Staff will join us. This will allow us to encourage them. In addition, it will allow them to serve their native countryman and bring supplies and resources back with them to Haiti. It also continues the desire of people who have partnered with Supply and Multiply to go on mission and leave the walls of their church.

We see everything that God is doing as His provision and ordained steps. I started this letter by saying a rising tide raises all ships and I'll end it by reemphasize that point and add one more thing. To the extent that we participate with what God is doing together as the kingdom of believers, when we bring Christ compassion and His message to the world, we give Him the ultimate glory and ultimate praise that He is deserving of and due.

We ask for your prayers for the Nation of Haiti. Specifically, for there to be an established government, open roads and port, functioning hospitals and medical centers, schools filled with students, and most importantly for Christ to enter into the hearts and minds of people to transform the evil and encourage and bring hope to the believers.

In His Love,
