GARTMAN CUSTOM BARREL DESIGNS

All are new barrels made from Timken gun barrel quality, electric furnace, chrome-moly alloy steel specially heat-treated and stress relieved. Barrels are approximately one inch longer than standard for working purposes. This amount must be cut from the muzzle at final finishing to insure uniform bore diameter and maximum accuracy.

Our Bantamweight barrel #8519, not shown here, is one pound lighter than our Featherweight barrel #8492 and has the same general contour, 19 1/4" long.

The enlarged section at the muzzle end of our featherweight #8492 and bantamweight #8519 barrels is not a muzzle brake but serves to facilitate the installation of ramp or ramp band front sight and tends to dampen the vibration upon firing.

THE GARTMAN CUSTOM MUZZLE BRAKE OR RECOIL REDUCER

This is a development of recoil reducing used during World War II. The brake is 2 1/4" long and is installed ahead of the front sight on the muzzle end of the barrel. It reduces the kick on the shooter's shoulder from 40 to 50 per cent.

We recommend shipping your gun to our plant for attachment, as absolute alignment with the bore is essential. However, the brake can be attached by any qualified gunsmith with adequate machining facilities. Price installed $9.00,* separate $6.00.

*Extra charge if front sight must be relocated, or adapter installed on barrels less than .600" muzzle outside diameter.

GARTMAN CUSTOM GUN WORKS

Builder of the Finest Sporting Rifles

Having had several years experience working on sporting rifles, I can assure you a rifle that will be accurate, well balanced, and a joy to own. I have satisfied customers all over America, Australia, Mexico, and Central America.

I do all the skilled workmanship myself. Therefore, you can rest assured no helper or inexperienced man does any of the final work. All stocks are made from well seasoned blanks with grain running right. My birds-eye stocks are by far the best in their price range.

All barrels are properly head spaced and proof tested after gun is assembled for your safety. No gun leaves my shop without being proofed at approximately 68,000 lbs.—far in excess of any normal sporting loads you will use.
