

Lucy and us.

02/24/2024

I was going to write a book called "Monozygotic". Now I'm writing a book about my life. The best moments of my life started when I met Jaime. I am living with him on East 10th street, NYC. East Village. Lucy, our one year old Mini Schnauzer. Our daughter. Literally. I am grateful and happy to say, in love.

I am now calling this book, or journal. Lucy and Us. Thank you Marley and Me. You've inspired me. Dogs love you, to share our love with Lucy is bliss. I've destroyed (ripped) three copies already. Drafts. This is the best way to write. Lucy has lived in a room with us since she was a baby. Now we live at East 10th street in the East village. Our first apartment together. Home. my family. We've taken two vacations to Las Vegas and on our third, who knows maybe we'll get drunk and get married. Wouldn't it be nice?

It is a rainy day today and I can feel my period on its way. Jaime is doing a double shift at work, today as the doorman. I really miss him. So much. Sometimes it hurts when he isn't here. That's love. I haven't really spoken or tried to see what little other family I have. I don't care to see them either. I really tried to be respectful, nice and always caring. Though it was never returned, it just showed hate or jealousy. Things about Jaime and myself were said and extremely offensive and immature. Lies the size of Jupiter probably surfaced throughout the internet to old friends or over angry phone calls. Though all we do is stay home and cook, dance, make love and live! It saddens me that you live a happy life. People will hate that. You have been warned. So with all sincerity and respect I really don't have anyone but baby Lucy and Jaime. There is only love in this house. Until my next journal. Xo.

We dealt with bullshit from our management today. We have a recording in case they mess with us. Going to relax, dealt with power shutoff from idiots doing their job incorrectly. Home, relaxed with a sage, lavender and rose petal sage stick. We are happy and blessed.

I am well, he is well. Happy face.

Lucy and us.

We're almost into february and I feel like my family doesn't really give a fuck about us. Us as in Jaime, Lucy and myself. That's okay because they want to say how cheap our gifts are. Yet, they give me garbage picked or used items. I never said anything offensive about their gifts. This journal really helps let that out. Truly does. I am not afraid to lose my parents or my sister. Their mental illnesses are really a drag and to think they thought of me as the blacksheep and mental one. NO! I went to therapy and guess what she said I was fine. Just heartbroken. So who's mental? They are. I think today I am going to stop trying to talk to them. My mother and sister love to say "They think they're better (or just I, me) than everyone." or "They treated us like we were poor." So fuck everyone if my sister and my parents want to sit there and gossip about me. Then she can take care of them. Leave me and my family the hell alone. I am sick to death of these toxic, disgusting, hateful relationships they want. The three of them can share their lives in pain and miserableness.

I keep saying that I don't want anything to do with my three remaining real family members. My parents and my sister. Only because they say and do things that aren't healthy. I'm watching movies on my day off with Lucy. I work for the next two and am grateful, more hours are coming and I am able to pay my bills off. Thank you for listening. Until next time.

I am currently back from my awesome new dentist. That thankfully takes my insurance. (everytime I see a doctor they say they accept it but then they do not.) I am happy. I may be getting a great five day union shift at work. I am praying. Things are looking up. Lucy and I are watching (rewatching for the one hundredth time) Freaks and Geeks. Ah, early Judd movies. My parents are saying "why don't you visit your sister. Go see your sister." Okay cause I can't enjoy myself and relax at home. I guess it's wrong to want to live a very simple life. I have lived a happy, free, youthful life already. The parties, boys and the drugs. Been there and done that. I hope everyone can see why I prefer to be home with my loved ones. It is the life I have chosen, or it has chosen me. Fate holds gratefulness, passion and love in my life. I am happy. I am at peace. Thankful. Jaime has been a good boy. Sure, you shouldn't ask your cheater boyfriend "are you being a good boy?" then again is it wrong? No. I am making sure and if I sound like a bitch or like I am trying to hurt him with those words. I am not. If anything, my ass (I think about cheating daily. sad.) is just being honest and nicer than I should be. I love him. We're Jaime and Alondia. Oh and Lucy. until next time in my eco friendly journal. God bless all. Let the wars end.

I got a full time 40 hour shift job! I am now a union worker, a doorman. I am happy. It is a great career that offers school as well. I am very thankful, happy for my future. Our Future, me and Jaime. I am very happy. Life is good. I pray, I pray for others. Thank you universe, god, anyone above our heads. Thank you. Bless everyone. Jaime's father helped us. He got me this work, as a temp and now I am full time. I am very thankful. Jaime and myself are doing well. I ask my sins away and pray for compassion and no sickness. We need to unite as humans, happiness really exists if we work together. I love life, earth. I wish everyone were blessed to feel this way. I am happy. This is where I am supposed to be. I am very thankful. Until then, my permanent shift begins tomorrow! See you at the overnight shift, soon.

Happy birthday brandon. We miss you. I hope you are happy and free of pain. Jaime really misses you.

I start my first permanent shift today, I am so excited because I got a whole bunch of very cute office supplies at five below. Just to make it more me. My sister sent me a download of the two journal entries I posted online and said "this is your book" with an attitude because I know how she speaks. She deleted the comment on her photo where she wrote "and my sis for asking how I am" oh shut up. When I was alone and scared going through a cancer scare in Connecticut, everyone left. That is what I meant by "everyone left me." My parents don't care. She is clearly pissed because of my life. I have no gossip, just kind words. Change your life and work if you're unhappy. Don't hate on me, spread rumors, lies and start trouble with every relationship there is. I am living a good life because a good mind, heart and change will really work for you. I pray for everyone to work for their happiness. Do not hate on anyone else's because it does not do anything for you. With that said, have a good day. I guess I shouldn't post this journal because it'll be like NYC blew up. She is already so pissed because we're talking about love, marriage and vegas in my journal entries. This is sad. My only family is Jaime, Lucy and myself.. Everyone is suddenly nice when they need something.

Jaime got me an apple watch but they're giving him problems with the shipping. Today is my second day on the job and I am so excited. It is a beautiful day and Lucy is keeping me warm. Work was awesome for my first day but this weirdo named Greg who is lonely just waits around to try to talk to you like a pervert.

05/2024

Lucy is currently yelling at an annoying loud dog outside. Jaime is resting on the sofa, he worked overnight and had a cranky night because we overslept during our night nap. I leave to work soon and Jaime is here with me, Lucy too. This is the life I want. I love our life. My baby is angry but we're about to go on a walk together before my shift. God bless life and god bless the earth. Right now I am just worried about the world and wars. I want everyone to have a better life and feel better about themselves. Life is good at home and I am grateful and now I have a full time union job and I thank you god, thank you universe and thank you earth and anyone above listening.

Lucy and us.

05/01/2024

I've been working a full time, five day shift at The Concord Village. This is a career I see myself doing. I'm pretty good at it, I'm nice and caring. I try to be as much as I can. I just did a full body workout, I am a bit bloated (aunt flow is coming) Jay is sleeping, he's tired my baby. I am with baby Lucy. My sister has a job next door and it's been nice seeing her so much now. I am just at home most days, I try to do things with Jaime on days off. It's hard. I do too much, I need a vacation already! Life is good. I just find it hard to move past mean comments and all that have been thrown my way. I hope everyone is well and healthy, there is so much war and so much pain on planet earth. We visited the museum of natural history two days ago and we went to the hayden planetarium. It was beautiful and made me cry, Lupita was the narrator and she let us know to protect our planet and keep it healthy. Good day and blessings!
