Psychotherapy/ Counseling Services

Temperament Therapy is a working cooperative relationship between you and your therapist. Patty Albert and yourself, as a cooperative professional relationship, has certain responsibilities. Your counselor will contribute her knowledge, expertise, and clinical skills. You, as the client, have the responsibility to bring an attitude of collaboration and a commitment to the therapeutic process. While there are no guarantees regarding the outcome of our service, your commitment may increase the likelihood of a satisfactory experience.

Any counseling service has both benefits and risks. Risks may include experiencing uncomfortable feelings, such as sadness, guilt, anxiety, anger, frustration, loneliness, because the process of counseling often requires discussing the unpleasant aspects of your life. However, the therapeutic counseling format for temperament therapy has been shown to have benefits to individuals who undertake it.

Before you sign your consent for this treatment, be sure to evaluate all information and make your own assessment as to whether or not you feel comfortable working with me. If you have any questions about my services, be sure to discuss those with me before we get started.

By signing this form of agreement, you are agreeing to maintain positivity and respect throughout our sessions, with an understanding that this is a Biblical Counseling Service with recommendations that are based on the Word of God.
