

LANA FUSCO

A native New Yorker, bassist and composer Lana Fusco has been exposed to jazz from inception. Raised by her jazz guitarist father, she's been humming Bird for as long as she can remember.

Decidedly old-school, she is a bassist with traditionalist roots, with an unwavering commitment to a harmonic richness and a deep pocket. Graduating from New York University in 2025, Lana has studied under renowned bassists Drew Gress, Dezron Douglas, and Mike Richmond. She has also performed and recorded original music with Billy Drewes, Dion Tucker, Brad Shepik, Tony Moreno, and Alan Ferber.
