WHAT IS RACC?

The Regional Admission Counselors of California (RACC) is an organization comprised of approximately 175 admission professionals from 120+ institutions outside of California who work with students, their families, and counselors throughout California. All of these out-of-state institutions are NACAC and/or WACAC members. They have dedicated the necessary resources for a regional office to serve California schools and provide information about postsecondary educational opportunities outside of California.

In addition to participating in your school, district, or organization's outreach programs, RACC has developed signature programs, including:

Promoting Out-of-State Educational Opportunities for Californians

This program includes a short presentation about the many advantages that exist at out-of-state institutions for California students and a mini college fair. In addition, each participating RACC member presents a brief institutional overview. This program typically takes place in the evening, allowing parents to attend.

RACC Mini-College Fairs

You provide the tables and location (such as a classroom, library, quad, gymnasium, or cafeteria) and the RACC members will bring their table banners, colorful materials, and plenty of smiles.

RACC Application Boot Camps

Our newest service has become a much talked-about resource. Students have an opportunity to work in small groups with an admission officer to polish their essays and interview skills. We often add other topics as requested by the high school. Some of these topics include Early Action vs Regular Decision, the importance of demonstrated interest, how to write a good resume, etc.

RACC Case Studies

RACC has created three terrific applicants as examples to help guide students and parents through the Admission Committee stage of the application cycle. Admission professionals who have read thousands of applications, letters of recommendations, and essays developed these applicants. Each of our applicants has strengths and weaknesses, which with the guidance of a group facilitator, really help the participants better understand the application process. Our goal is to have the students and their parents experience a less stressful application process.

RACC Speakers

Many RACC members are available to speak or present on a variety of a topics at college nights, parent nights, admissions panels, or individual classes (such as AVID or Upward Bound). Some of these topics include: out-of-state college options, how to write a college essay, ACT/SAT general information and strategies, choosing a major, financial aid, selecting a college, WUE, the differences between a public and private university, the importance of demonstrated interest, how to get the most out of college tours, how to rock your admissions interview, etc.

At Denison, students have to step up—there's no hiding in the back of a lecture hall, no anonymity. They matter, and they are prepared for lives of consequence by the best faculty—professors who know their stuff, know their students' names, and know how to inspire. Learning reaches outside classrooms, labs, and studios, because this is a residential campus community, where students live and learn together, and where they embrace ideals of integrity, intellect, diversity, and respect for each other and the environment. The outcome is that Denison graduates have a voice. They can speak, write, listen, collaborate, innovate, take responsibility, solve, adapt, and lead. The curriculum ensures that graduates have studied across disciplines, so they are not narrowly trained in one field. And when the going gets tough, the tough get the best education and then go on to lead successful lives.

🏠 Points of Pride

- 98% of students secure full-time employment, admission to graduate programs, or participation in volunteer service programs six months after graduation.
- As a Jesuit university, we live by the idea of being "people for others." 75% of students are involved in service during their time at Fairfield.
- Our 200 acre, green campus is located in the beautiful town of Fairfield - less than 2 miles from the beach on Long Island Sound (about 1/2 of our seniors live at the beach) and just over an hour by train from Grand Central Station in New York City. It's not uncommon for our students to wake up at the beach and take the train to their city internship for the day... not a bad deal!

ST JOHN'S College

SANTA FE • ANNAPOLIS

St. John's College is the third oldest college in the nation with locations in Santa Fe, NM and Annapolis, MD. Both campuses have fewer than 500 students each, making us a small, private, liberal arts college. What makes St. John's College so unique is that we have one major and all our students complete the same liberal arts courses. Students take four years of mathematics, three years of laboratory sciences, plus French, Ancient Greek, Philosophy, Literature, Political Science, Music Theory, and more. These classes are taught in a discussion-based method, with all students and teachers sitting around a seminar table, allowing everyone to have a voice. Each class is taught with primary sources instead of textbooks, so students learn from the original designers of the topics. Students have the option to study on both campuses during their four years.
