

The Reading Room at Gilman Library November 2022

Gilman Library is pleased to offer a Northstar Digital Literacy Class, presented by Carroll County Adult Education. The "Using Your Smartphone Workshop Series" is a FREE Smart Phone class scheduled on four Saturday mornings during the month of January 2023.

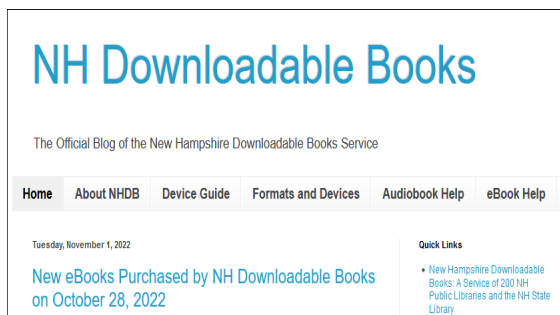

Pre-registration is required and a commitment to participate in all four sessions is expected. Instructor Donald Campbell will conduct the ninety-minute Saturday sessions from 10:00 to 11:30 AM on January 7, 14, 21, and 28, in the Agnes Thompson Meeting Room, on the lower level of the Gilman Library at 100 Main Street, Alton.

Learn how to get the most out of your smartphone:

- Understand your home screen button
- Manage your apps
- Learn how your Wi-Fi works
- Set up your emails and contacts
- Learn about your Google account and more!

The class is limited to fifteen students, so early registration is strongly encouraged. Further details are posted on the library website at gilmanlibrary.org. To register or for more information, visit the library or call 603-875-2550, during open hours.

For Tweens

Try and solve our Riddle of the Month at the front desk — If your answer is correct, you could win a prize!

Write in a number for the Candy Guessing Game — If you guess the right amount of candies that are in the jar, it could be yours!

In the middle of the Margaret E. Kayser Room are stacks of books for tweens — which include classics, non-fiction and biographies, fantasy, fiction, graphic novels, as well as new arrivals!

The Whimsy Corner

The “Whimsy Corner” on the right end of the Margaret E. Kayser Room has lots to offer!

Don't forget to pick up a Whimsy Corner Card. Get stamped at every visit and after ten stamps, pick a prize!

Here you can find a wide selection of children's books, toys, coloring pages and crayons, stuffed animals, puzzles and more!

Find a comfortable spot to meet friends, read, color, and play. We're always open to new ideas!
