If you're considering homeschooling your child in the state of Louisiana, understanding the homeschooling laws and requirements is crucial. Here's a brief overview to help you get started:

1. Homeschooling Options:

In Louisiana, families have two primary options for homeschooling:

- Establishing a Home Study Program
- Enrolling in an Approved Private School

2. Establishing a Home Study Program:

If you choose to establish a home study program, you must:

- Submit a Home Study Notification Form to the Louisiana Department of Education.
- Provide instruction in the subjects required by law, including language arts, mathematics, science, social studies, physical education, and health.
- Keep attendance records and submit an annual assessment of educational progress.

3. Enrolling in an Approved Private School:

Families may also choose to enroll their children in an approved private school, which provides support, curriculum resources, and oversight to homeschooling families. These schools must meet state accreditation standards.

4. Graduation Requirements:

Homeschooled students in Louisiana must meet the same graduation requirements as students in public schools. These requirements include completing a minimum number of credits in core subjects such as English, mathematics, science, social studies, and electives.
