

Confirmation of Residential Address

All applicants to FlexGlobal must be able to provide evidence of their residential address in order to comply with the regulatory requirements with respect to the Anti Money Laundering and Know Your Customer regulations.

The documents below are all acceptable proof of residential address, providing that they clearly identify the individual, their address and have been certified appropriately by a relevant individual:

- Utility bill
- Bank statement
- Proof of ownership or rental of the residential address
- An original signed & stamped letter from your employer confirming your residential address

In the event that you cannot provide any of the documents listed above then this form must be completed instead and then be signed by both the applicant and their Financial Adviser.

Current residential address and description of location:

Reason why one of the requested proof of address items above cannot be provided:

Fairway, in its capacity as administrator of FlexGlobal, reserves the right to not accept any applications where the requested proof of address documents have either not been provided or do not meet the required standards.
