PARIS COLLECTIVE

// WORDS FROM THE FOUNDERS

When the collective began in Paris in 2012, we were unsure of the nature that the beast would take on. We have chosen to let him progress organically, providing direction only when needed. Rhythm.Pattern.Texture. began with “Minimal #4”, a mix by Alastair Thompson, filled with shadowy deep bass rhythms. Other sources of inspiration from this shared source were pulled from a long, long way away.

The project has now been celebrated in the form of a club night and accompanying exhibition at Le Batofar, February 21st 2013. It has since been installed at La Galerie du Lapop, at 6 Rue Arthur Rozier, 75020 Paris.

The collective attempts to orchestrate collaborative projects, each facet inspired by the others around it, by shared concepts, by shared surroundings, or lack thereof. Such a dialogue is continuous and essential to our sustained efforts.
