

Welcome to AQUACASA STUDIOS LLC. We are a boutique company founded by the appreciation of great Design and Art. Here you will find the passion of two studios.

CORASPENDENCE – a private art studio featuring the talent of an accomplished Artist and Teacher. Cora Waterhouse has been at her craft for over 30 years. Educated at the Cooper School of Art with a focus on Fashion Design, she has worked in many different media and finally following her heart as a portrait artist. Her illustrations and portraits are sought after across the globe. Her love of people and relationships led her to share her gift through her teaching to help others learn to reveal their sometimes-hidden talent. She has taught hundreds of students in the US, Singapore, and Malaysia where they have formed a special bond to love art in all forms.

Now available and offering services for fine arts, portraits, illustrations, murals, public art as well as studio classes and private lessons.

CONSULTANCY – a broad spectrum of services focused on the built and natural environment with a passion for great guest experiences. Rick Waterhouse brings over 40 years of experience as a Planner, Architect, Project Manager and leader in the leisure industry. Educated as a Planner / Designer / Architect at Clemson University and Kent State University, he has worked in many different arenas. A former President of the American Institute of Architects / Orlando Chapter, he is currently a holder of the NCARB certificate and previously registered to practice Architecture in Florida, Georgia, Ohio, California, and Texas. Having lived and traveled extensively throughout the US, Europe, and Asia, he is knowledgeable and appreciative of a wide range of cultures and practices.

Now available and offering consultancy services for planning, design, program & project management as well as advisory services for operational excellence.
