

WHAT IS IT

Vocal Forum is a music education program dedicated to shaping young musicians into solo artists. Vocal Forum goes beyond the traditional framework by empowering students to find their unique voice under the guidance of a professional vocal coach and performer. Skyla Rayne not only offers university-level training in vocal technique through an ongoing masterclass format, but also builds authentic opportunities for students to practice real-world performance skills through collaboration and community projects.

WHAT WE DO

Group instruction

- Learn about the voice, body, phonics and other topics
- Ear training, rhythm, group singing and music writing

Repertoire Workshops

- Masterclass style workshops
- Individual practice with coaching and peer feedback
- Practice setlists and apply learning

Live Performances

- Showcase growth at live venues
- Build and perform setlists
- Play & sing solo and with others

OUR GOALS

TECHNIQUE

In VF, we develop foundations in vocal technique. This puts students ahead of the game when applying and auditioning for universities and for beginning a career (or side hustle!) in music.

SELF-EFFICACY

VF students build resilience through risk and reflection. Every day, students are challenged in a rigorous environment supported by personalized guidance and feedback. This balance fosters independence and professionalism while building confidence.

COMMUNITY

Collaboration helps musicians grow as people and as members of a larger community. Networks of professional support are crucial for success, and VF is an excellent place to start.
