

Phantom Frame Visuals - Client Terms & Conditions

"Framing the unseen."

Last Updated: August 11, 2025

1. What I Do

Phantom Frame Visuals offers creative photo and video work in:

- Paintball coverage
- Automotive rollers & edits
- Social media promos
- And pretty much anything else you can imagine!

If it can be filmed or photographed, I'm open to exploring it.

2. Booking Your Shoot

- Bookings are confirmed once we agree on a date, price, and a deposit is paid.
- Deposits are non-refundable unless I have to cancel.
- If you need to reschedule, I'll do my best to accommodate.

3. Payment

- Payment terms will be clearly outlined before the shoot.
- Final files will only be delivered after full payment is received.

4. Delivery of Your Content

- I'll let you know the estimated delivery timeline before we start.
- Your package includes edited photos/videos. Raw footage isn't included unless we agree beforehand.

5. How You Can Use Your Content

- You get a license to use your content for personal or business purposes as agreed.
- You can post it, share it, and show it off - just please don't resell or claim authorship.
- I may use the content for my own portfolio and promotion unless you request otherwise in writing.

6. Music Rights

- I use music licensed through Artlist.io, which covers commercial use in the videos I deliver to you.
- The music can't be used on its own, resold, or redistributed outside the video.
- If you plan to run paid ads or use the video in large campaigns, I'll help make sure it's cleared.

7. Your Responsibilities

- Make sure we have permission to shoot at the location.
- Get any necessary releases from people or property owners featured in the shoot.
 - We will communicate driving needs for automotive rollers

8. Liability & Limitations

- I can't be responsible for delays or issues caused by weather, location problems, or other aspects beyond my control.
- My job is to deliver the best work possible, but I'm not liable for indirect losses from how the content is used.

9. Cancellations

- If you cancel late, you may lose your deposit.
- If I have to cancel within reasonable notice, you'll get a full refund of any deposit paid.

By booking with Phantom Frame Visuals, you agree to these terms.
