

David Taylor

Eleris Energy Global Founder, Eleris Co-Owner, and Chairman/Chief Executive Officer

David Taylor is a seasoned international equity investor, in house entrepreneur and project originator, developer, implementer, trouble shooter, project finance and work out professional for large, complex, cross border infrastructure projects involving public/private partnerships in the Americas, Europe, Asia, Africa, and Australia. Founder, Chairman, and CEO of Eleris Energy Global, LLC.

Mr. Taylor's professional skills and experience have been developed over a 30-year career in which he has originated, considered, analyzed and/or negotiated cross border investment opportunities in over 20 countries, and transactions valued over $10 billion. He has led or been deeply involved with closing all aspects of power and energy infrastructure development, especially in Asia.

Born in Hong Kong, lived as a US expatriate for 34 years with residencies in Bangkok, Singapore, Frankfurt, Zurich, Hong Kong, Sydney, and Manila.

Education

B.A. Political Science/International Relations and Germanic Studies, Indiana University

Master's Degree in Business Administration, Duke University

3

Gregory Arroyo

Eleris Energy Global Chief Commercial Officer and Legal Counsel

Gregory Arroyo is a respected energy executive with extensive experience in international development and management. Having begun his career as an engineer, he has since become proficient in economic valuations, risk management, forecasting, corporate structuring and legal matters. Having worked for utilities, a private equity firm and in his own consulting practice, he adds value through innovative approaches and by seeking equitable solutions to complex problems.

Licensed Attorney and Counselor at Law in Texas

Registered Professional Engineer in Texas

Completed various asset acquisitions, managed billion-dollar international portfolio, successfully awarded numerous renewable energy tenders.

On solar projects, has developed conceptual interconnection design, modeled financial analysis for investment approval and drafted key contracts.

EDUCATION

B.S. Electrical Engineering, Rice University

Master's Degree in Business Administration, Houston Baptist University (now Houston Christian University)

Juris Doctorate, University of Houston

4