A RESCUE OF FAMILY HEIRLOOMS

JASON ZASKY

“I grew up in Spring Hill but went to college at MTSU and lived in Murfreesboro for 15 years before moving back in 2016. Not long afterward, I got into metal detecting, which I was doing at places around town, including White Hall,” begins Wesley Marshall, referring to the two-story historic mansion on Duplex Road, which was built for surgeon Dr. Aaron White in 1844.

“In 2018, I found a Civil War period belt buckle under the back porch of White Hall,” he continues. This was Marshall’s first connection to the famous residence, which sits on 30 acres and has been on the National Register of Historic Places since the spring of 1984.

After the house changed ownership, Marshall, who works as a sales manager for Mt. Juliet-based Quality Roofing, Restoration & Construction, went back to see if he could get permission from the new owner to continue metal detecting on the property.

He happened to pull up the driveway on a day in which the house was being renovated, and the construction crew was “throwing away Antebellum period items. They were tossing them into a dumpster,” says Marshall, getting agitated at the thought, before noting that an 1850s piano would be next to get trashed—if he didn’t intervene.

“I said, ‘Don’t throw it away, I’ll come get it,’” recalls Marshall, speaking of what turned out to be an 1855 Bradbury square grand. But that was just the first of many historical treasures that Marshall would rescue, as he offered to buy—sight unseen—all the White family heirlooms that the renovators had found in the house, which were stored in a half-dozen cardboard boxes.

“I could tell the boxes were really old, that the cardboard was from the early 1900s. When I got home, I started unpacking and could not believe what was in there, including a wedding dress from 1854, in the original box from Paris. Everything was labeled—identifying what it was and who it belonged to in the White family,” says Marshall.

“There were five or six silk dresses, a couple silk shawls, and several bonnets, including a bonnet from the 1700s. There were also two samplers, one from the early 1800s and one by Margaret Fain White (Dr. Aaron White’s wife) from November 1842,” he adds, with samplers being a piece of embroidery or cross-stitching that demonstrates skill in needlework.

“It was something cherished for a young woman to have a sampler,” explains Marshall, who calls the collection of heirlooms “priceless,” at least to him, with a financial value of somewhere between twenty- and thirty-thousand dollars.

Marshall says he expects to hold onto the collection for the foreseeable future, and has done his best to properly store the items, having re-wrapped everything in acid-free tissue paper. Yet he is not opposed to finding a new, permanent home for the collection.

In the meantime, Marshall says he hopes his story reminds locals that there’s a lot of history in Maury County—some of it waiting to be discovered, or re-discovered.

“It lets people know that Spring Hill still has history that hasn’t been destroyed,” he concludes.

ONE OF THE LARGEST EVENTS IN MIDDLE TENNESSEE

Mule Day, the largest annual event in Maury County is coming April 3-6. The annual event features something for everyone. More than just a celebration of mules, the event includes food, arts and crafts, live music, dancing, and even a parade to kick off the festivities.

This year, Mule Day is proud to welcome the Mountain Mule Ranch Packers, the heroes of Hurricane Helene.

To kick off the week, Maury County welcomes the wagon train, which has traveled through rural communities for two days and is making its way to Maury County Park. Observers can gather on Lion Parkway Wednesday (April 2) mid-afternoon to welcome the Wagon Train into the park.

Each day will host various contests, events and exciting activities for folks of all ages.

The funds raised from Mule Day each year support local schools, civic organizations, multiple construction and site improvements at the Maury County Park, school programs, scouting organizations, Maury Magic Riders, the bathhouses, arenas, RV hookups at the park, and more have all benefited from the success of the Mule Day Festival.

DEBERRY INSURANCE FREE SHRED DAY APRIL 5, 2025

DeBerry Insurance Agency will host their 9th Annual FREE Shred Day for the community on Saturday, April 5, 2025. The event will take place from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the agency, 5232 Main Street in Spring Hill, TN.

FREE Shred Day has become a signature event for DeBerry Insurance Agency. It is a community give-back effort providing a way to safely discard identifying papers. The event is held each April during tax season when many people are cleaning out files and paperwork. The event is also a way to honor Earth Day, as all the paper that is collected is shredded on-site and later recycled. To date, DeBerry Insurance Agency has collected an estimated 30 tons of paper for recycling.

“We receive tremendous support of our Free Shred Day event year after year,” said Chris DeBerry, Owner of DeBerry Insurance Agency. “We have hundreds of people attend, which shows us that this is a needed service for the community. We are honored to be able to give back in this way. Giving back to our community is something we have strived to do since opening our agency in 2003.”

“As insurance agents, we recognize how important it is to safely discard identifying papers,” said Eric DeBerry, Owner of DeBerry Insurance Agency. “Identity theft is a growing problem. Shredding identifying papers is one way to help prevent it. We are thankful for the opportunity to serve in this meaningful way.”

For more information and updates about DeBerry Insurance Agency’s FREE Shred Day event, follow DeBerry Insurance Agency on social media or visit their website, DeBerryInsurance.com.

Great RECIPES

Strawberry Mousse

INGREDIENTS

- 1 CUP STRAWBERRIES, HALVED
- 2 CUPS HEAVY CREAM
- 1 CUP POWDERED SUGAR
- 1 PACKAGE (8 OUNCES) CREAM CHEESE, SOFTENED
- ASSORTED FRUIT, FOR SERVING

DIRECTIONS

In blender, puree strawberries until smooth. Set aside.
In mixing bowl, whip heavy cream and powdered sugar until fluffy.
In separate mixing bowl, beat cream cheese until smooth. Add strawberry puree to cream cheese and mix until combined. Add whipped cream and stir until combined.

It's easy, fresh and delicious. Your kids can help you combine all the ingredients and excitedly try the sweet result. Serve in bowl with fruit.
