Ring Sizing

Ready to wear ring sizes will be stated in the product description. Custom sizes can also be catered for upon request.

To measure your ring size, you can use the following methods:

- Use a ring sizer – place an existing ring over a circular ring size chart or use a ring sizer to determine your size.
- Printable ring size chart – download and print a ring size chart from a reputable jeweller website, ensuring it is printed to scale.
- String or dental floss method – wrap a piece of string or dental floss around the base of your finger, mark where it overlaps, and measure the length with a ruler.
- Measure an existing ring – if you have a ring that fits well, measure the inner diameter with a ruler to find your size.
- Consult a jeweller – for the most accurate measurement, visit a jeweller who can measure your ring size professionally. LizzyAnneCreations uses the Wheatsheaf sizing and will cater for half sizes. Please state this to the jeweller sizing the finger.

Other things to bear in mind:

- Thicker rings will need to be about half a size bigger than your original size.
- If your hands are hot or cold there may also be a half size difference from the original size.
