Chemo Bag Thanks

One of the community services we perform is providing patients at Vista Oncology with a bag full of items that hopefully helps to make their treatment process as comforting as possible. This holiday season, the folks at Vista sent this nice thank you note.

Our deepest appreciation to you and your lodge members for providing Comfort Care bags to our patients who are going through the chemotherapy process. Knowing that others care and understand the challenges of Chemotherapy is very meaningful to our patients.

Best wishes for a very Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.

Your friends at Vista Oncology, Lacey Washington

November Lodge Meeting - A Full Agenda, and Full Stomachs!

November's Hovedstad Lodge meeting was packed with details, as we looked forward through the coming year. Before we got down to business, we feasted on chili, cornbread, salad, drinks, and dessert. Thanks to Betsy and Kevan Hagen and Sue Girsch for providing the grub! President Jim started the meeting, with assistance from Mark Sterk, with a Norwegian language lesson, where we learned to introduce ourselves. Jim then shared the proposed officers for the 2026 year. Since there were no opposed positions, the officers were ratified via proclamation. Goals for the upcoming year were shared, including enhanced programs, increasing attendance at meetings and membership, and creating more opportunities for field trips. Deirdre Bissonnette shared the proposed programs for each meeting for the 2026 year. Marti Brown, Sons of Norway Financial Representative, reminded us of the products available to us as Sons of Norway members. Prizes were given away at the end of the meeting. Congratulations to Kevan Hagen and Patty Osier!

Christmas in Norway

In Norway, Christmas (Jul) is more than a single day—it's a season filled with light, warmth, and tradition. Preparations begin in late November, when homes and streets glow with decorations and families bake at least seven kinds of Christmas cookies. Advent calendars and concerts set the tone for the weeks ahead. The heart of the celebration is Christmas Eve (Julaften). Families gather for a festive meal—often ribbe (pork ribs) or pinnekjøtt (salt-cured lamb ribs)—before exchanging gifts. Children may even be visited by Santa Claus, though many households still honor the old barn spirit, the Fjøsnisse, by leaving out a bowl of rice porridge (nissegrøt).

Norwegians also cherish quirky traditions. In Bergen, the community builds the world's largest gingerbread town, with schools, businesses, and families contributing miniature houses each year. And during romjul, the quiet days between Christmas and New Year, people enjoy cozy gatherings, skiing, and time with loved ones.

Together, these customs create a holiday that is both magical and deeply rooted in heritage. Whether it's sharing cookies, honoring folklore, or simply enjoying fellowship, Christmas in Norway reminds us that joy comes from tradition and togetherness. Contributed by Sue Girsch

NORTHERN LIGHTS

Music of the Nordic and Baltic Countries

The otherworldly beauty of the aurora borealis is the spark for our holiday concert. From medieval chant and traditional carols to dazzling works by Arvo Pärt, Ola Gjeilo, and Veljo Tormis, you'll journey through a thousand years of ethereal Baltic and Nordic choral music. In our centerpiece, Northern Lights by Eriks Ešenvalds, voices, chimes, and tuned water goblets combine to evoke the spectacle of the aurora.
