SPOTLIGHT: EDUCATOR INNOVATION IN ACTION

“Small Steps, Big Shifts”

This month's spotlight is a little more personal — it's about the moment Tekanna came to life.

After years of working in education, I realized there was a growing need for a space where teachers could learn about AI and technology in a way that felt approachable, ethical, and inspiring. So, I took a leap — one small step that became a big shift — and Tekanna was born.

What started as an idea over a cup of coffee has grown into a community of educators ready to innovate, collaborate, and spill the tea on how to teach smarter, not harder.

Tekanna isn't just a platform; it's a movement to help educators embrace change confidently — one sip at a time.
