Liora Manné's patented Lamontage® process changes the way we interact with textiles. Handmade artistry meets high-tech processing when polyester fibers are layered and mechanically interlocked by needle-punching for a low-profile, highly-textural surface. Free of the limitations of traditional woven, knitted or printed textiles, the Lamontage® process produces high-performance wall covering, floor covering and upholstery fabric which are anti-microbial, stain-resistant, bleach-cleanable and easy to maintain.
