DC Transitional Services Rebuilding Community Outreach Initiative

Are you or someone you know facing barriers that hinder you or them due to abuse; addictions, an arrest, or jail/prison . Does it seem like you or someone you know can not R+EBUILD your or their life. Then this outreach program is for you. The community is welcome to join in. Share a story or life event or present an opportunity to help someone else RE+ Build life after an abusive relationship, an addiction, prison or jail, conviction, or an arrest.

At DCTS the staff and volunteers believe everyone deserves a Sec2ND Chance in life to Re+ Build Connections

Transitioning from an abusive situation, prison or jail to freedom can be challenging for some. Many are looked upon as "coward, stupid, crazy, ex-con, convict, jailbird, felon or other derogatory names. Often because of a conviction, one is discriminated against by checking a box on an application that asks "Have you ever been convicted of a felony, etc." Many live behind a wall because of stigma. Therefore those that are trying to RE-Build their life have or are still enduring institutional stigmatization. As well as systemic and lead the charge of unfairness, equality,
