Sorors,

June 1 marks a very special occasion where we gather together on a local, regional, and national level in recognition of our annual Founder's Day celebration.

We also honor our founder, Soror Lola Mercedes Parker, and the vision she shared with six other women to organize Iota Phi Lambda Sorority, Inc.

We unite this day as we share the "golden links of friendship and love" which binds us all together. By our presence, we again choose sisterhood and are encouraged that we are connected by like-minded experiences, concerns and common interests.

Commendations and white roses to each of you for the steadfast and consistent efforts you have made to promote the programs and projects of this outstanding organization.

In 2018, "The Year of the Woman", we have become more visible and worked much harder in our communities to make a difference.

Sorors, there is still much work to be done. Our greatest impact is yet to be made and our greatest accomplishments are still yet to be achieved.

I pray you will take this day, pause, remember why you became a member, and recommit to Iota through your participation and service.

Sisterly,

Vahnita Loud
