MARCH 2021

Message from the President

Greetings Sorors!

It is time to celebrate Women's History Month honoring those women who have had an impact on your life, and while doing so let us reflect on our Black Heritage.

We have had some amazing Black History programs such as "Black Family: Representation, Identity and Diversity," which covered how black families were stereotyped and vilified from days of slavery to the present time. Congratulations to Pelatis E. Louise William and MOI Ronny E. Reeves for hosting this event.

Then there was Trivia Night to test Sorors' knowledge of Black History. We moved on to the main event, The African American and the Vote-A Thoughtful Conversation, which included four dynamic panelists who discussed Voting, Black Lives Matter and the Black Movement of the early 60's. This was truly a refresher course. Psi Pearls to Soror Juanda Wallace and her committee for this excellent journey.

I cannot forget the FIL's presentation and discussion on Recovering and Re-examining our Roots, featuring Soror

Juanda Wallace and Jahmicah Dawes, a former FIL. Both presented videos of history and had exciting and engaging panel discussions. Psi Pearls to Soror Danielle Young, Chair and Soror Collette Jones, Co-Chair, for their support of the youth.

After spending a whole month reflecting, I can say Black History is a Heritage of UNSHAKABLE FAITH!

There is more to come with the Leadership Forum which I am sure will be a huge success.

Also, the 74th SWR Conference is fast approaching, which should be interesting.

2021 BLACK HISTORY MONTH
By Soror JUANDA WALLACE

BLACK HISTORY GULMENATION

The concluding event of Psi Chapter's Annual Black History Celebration was held on February 13, 2021 with a public virtual program entitled, "African Americans and the Vote – A Thoughtful Conversation", the 2020 theme for The Association for the Study of African American Life and History (ASALH).

The program was centered around acquiring new knowledge and information in the long ongoing struggle of Black Americans in exercising their rights as American citizens. The presentation focused on conversations between community leaders and the audience with the goal of educating and informing others with thoughtful dialogue.

Subjects and Panelists included:

- Voter Suppression -Janis Dunn, Tri-City NAACP, President
- Another Point of View---The History of the Republican Party ----Dr. LaTrese Adkins
- The Stories Through the Eyes of a Lens - Vernon Bryant, Dallas Morning News Staff Photographer
- Inspiration During the Pandemic – Soror Mary Nickson, Psychologist

Norma Adams Wade, long time columnist for The Dallas Morning News, performed as moderator.

The final activity was a collaboration between the FIL and Black History Committee with their program entitled, "Past and Present of Black History". A discussion was held centered around past FIL Jahmichah Dawes, who now owns his own business, "Slim Pickens Outfitters" in the small predominantly White community of Stephenville, Texas, with a bi-racial family and as an entrepreneur of a non-traditional black business. The second half of the program was a comparison of the early 60's civil rights movement of which Soror Juanda Wallace was an active participant and the civil rights movement of today.

Questions and answers were entertained at the end of both program events.

A black entertainment reference guide of current movies, books, TV shows, etc. was compiled and sent to all chapter members to be used doing this troubling Pandemic period.

Our Panelists Received Certificates for Sharing their Knowledge on Black History

CELEBRATING BLACK HISTORY MONTH
Advancing With Purpose:
Recovering & Re-examining Our Roots

On February 21, 2021, Psi Chapter FIL celebrated Black History Month with a panel discussion on Advancing with Purpose: Recovering and Re-examining Our Roots. Guest Panelist Speakers were our very own Soror Juanda Wallace, who is an advocate, historian and a leader in the Dallas community. Jahmichah Dawes, a former FIL was also a panelist who has the nation's first Black-Owned gear shop. Slim PickIns Outfitters has been a community mainstay, and a beacon of light within the community.

Panelist Soror Wallace provided context to Dallas historic images and times during the freedom rider era and how various individuals like Juanita Craft played a vital role in activism within the Dallas community. Jahmichah Dawes discussed his business and the initial racism he experienced within his community. It has now been a fixture within the community that brings together people from all walks of life, and is the town's "go-to" supplier of outdoor and adventure-ready goods and services.

Psi Chapter FIL President Daniel Young was the moderator for the program, where he had the panelists and participants to consider challenging questions about race, identity, and economic justice today. Soror Collette ended the Black History program with Black History Trivia, where FIL had an opportunity to learn about Black History and have fun while doing it.

ROBERT'S RULES OF ORDER
BY SOROR DR. NICKSON

What Does Robert Say? The Parliamentarians of Psi

P.R.N. – Parliamentary Rules Noted

According to Robert's Rules of Order, Newly Revised, 11 Ed., a quorum is defined as "the number of members who must be present in order that business can be validly transacted".

In mass meetings the quorum is the number of persons present.

In organizations such as churches and some societies with no dues or membership rolls, the quorum generally consists of those who attend the meeting.

At a convention, the quorum is a majority of the number who have been registered as attending.

In a deliberative assembly with membership whose bylaws do not specify a quorum, the quorum is a majority of all the members.

In committees and boards, the quorum is a majority of the members of the board or committee, unless indicated differently by:

- the bylaws;
- rule of the parent organization;
- or the motion establishing the particular committee.

In the absence of a quorum, any business transacted, other than procedural actions, is null and void.

National Kidney Awareness Month
By Soror Ross

March is National Kidney Month

Get to know your hard working kidneys

Longstanding disease of the kidneys leading to renal failure.

The kidneys filter waste and excess fluid from the blood. As kidneys fail, waste builds up. Symptoms develop slowly and are not specific to the disease. Whole body: fatigue, high blood pressure, loss of appetite, malaise, or water-electrolyte imbalance.

Also common: kidney damage, abnormal heart rhythm, failure to thrive, fluid in the lungs, insufficient urine production, itching, kidney failure, severe unintentional weight loss, or swelling.

Some people have no symptoms at all and are diagnosed by a lab test. Medications help manage symptoms. In later stages, filtering the blood with a machine (dialysis) or a transplant maybe needed.

6 WAYS KIDNEYS KEEP YOU HEALTHY

- Regulate fluid levels
- Activate Vitamin D for healthy bones
- Filter wastes from the blood
- Directs production of red blood cells
- Regulate blood pressure
- Keep blood minerals in balance

8 PROBLEMS KIDNEY DISEASE CAN CAUSE

- Cardiovascular disease
- Heart attack
- Stroke
- Anemia/ low red blood cell count
- Nerve damage
- Weak bones
- High blood pressure
- Kidney Failure

4 RISK FACTORS

- Diabetes
- High blood pressure
- Age 60+
- Family history

7 SYMPTOMS

- Swelling: face, hands, abdomen, ankles, feet
- Blood in urine Foamy urine
- Puffy eyes
- Difficult, painful urination
- Increased thirst
- Fatigue

2 TESTS YOU CAN TAKE (BLOOD AND URINE)

Urine albumin-to-creatinine ratio estimates the amount of a type of protein, albumin, that you excrete in your urine.

Glomerular Filtration Rate (GFR) tells how well your kidneys are working to remove wastes from your blood. It is the best way to check kidney function. Doctors measure blood creatinine (waste build up) levels and perform a calculation based on race, age and gender.

COMPARING COVID-19
NUMBERS MISLEADING
BY SOROR FADIPE, R.N.

Comparing Covid-19 vaccine efficacy numbers can be misleading

COVID-19
CORONAVIRUS DISEASE 2019

The best Covid-19 vaccine for you is most likely still the first one you can get.

Three different Covid-19 vaccines are now being distributed across the United States, and all three are highly effective at the most important thing: preventing hospitalizations and deaths from Covid-19. But some people remain worried that Johnson & Johnson's vaccine is less effective at preventing disease to begin with. Scientists say that this is the wrong way to think about Covid-19 vaccines, and that judging the Johnson & Johnson vaccine as inferior based on its lower reported efficacy is misleading.

Such actions are especially worrying at the current stage of the pandemic. Covid-19 has killed more than 500,000 Americans, and while cases seem to be declining, the virus is still spreading, new variants are gaining ground, and some parts of the country are already relaxing precautions (which health officials warn could end up prolonging the pandemic).

Turning down vaccine doses while supplies of all Covid-19 vaccines are still stretched thin undermines the campaign to curb the pandemic.

In clinical trials, the vaccines produced by Pfizer/BioNTech, by Moderna, and by Johnson & Johnson reduced the fatality rate of Covid-19 by 100 percent compared to their placebo groups. They also kept all recipients out of the hospital. That means they can potentially downgrade Covid-19 from a public health crisis to a manageable problem.

"The goal of a vaccine was really to defang or tame this virus, to make it more like other respiratory viruses that we deal with, so when you look at the three approved vaccines in the US, all of them are extremely good at that metric," said Amesh Adalja, a senior scholar at the Johns Hopkins Center for Health Security.

The vaccines do have some important differences. The Johnson & Johnson vaccine is one dose, while the others require two. It also can be stored at refrigerator temperatures, while the others require freezer temperatures. The Johnson & Johnson vaccine is also less expensive, about \$10 per dose, roughly half as much as the Pfizer/BioNTech vaccine. The Moderna vaccine costs between \$25 and \$37 per dose.

These factors give Johnson & Johnson an edge in logistics and could help the shots get to people in harder-to-reach places. Saad Omer, the director of the Yale Institute for Global Health, told Vox last month that it's a vaccine that "can increase equity."

But when Johnson & Johnson filed for an emergency use authorization from the Food and Drug Administration for its Covid-19 vaccine in early February, it reported that its overall efficacy in preventing Covid-19 cases that produced symptoms was 66.1 percent. The Moderna vaccine and the Pfizer/BioNTech vaccines reported efficacy levels around 95 percent.

That gap in efficacy numbers is fueling some people's perception that the Johnson & Johnson Covid-19 vaccine isn't as good. However, scientists say that these numbers can't be fairly compared to one another. The efficacy levels of the Covid-19 vaccines are specific to the clinical trials that produced them, and those trials were not conducted in the same ways.

In addition, health officials have been emphasizing that the most important numbers — how well the vaccines prevent hospitalizations and deaths — are consistent across the board and are arguably more comparable. Even after these vaccines have begun distribution, researchers are finding that Covid-19 vaccines are doing a remarkable job of keeping people alive.

That's why the recommendation remains that the best Covid-19 vaccine for the vast majority of people is the first one they can get. "That's how I think of these vaccines, as basically interchangeable," said Adalja.

CHAPTER GUIDELINES DURING THE COVID-19 PANDEMIC

Sorors,

I want to thank you for your support during this pandemic. It is very frustrating to many of us as we struggle to adjust to this new way of life, but it is also true that several of our sorors, their families, and friends have been impacted by the Coronavirus pandemic. We are dealing with an invisible enemy that affects every element of life, personally, financially, and professionally. That is why it is so very important that we keep ourselves and our families as safe as possible.

Sorors, we have set guidelines in place that limits the amount of person-to-person contact because we care and we wish to protect you, your families, and Iota. We do not want to unknowingly put anyone in danger of contracting the virus at any Iota event, meeting, or social gathering while wearing Iota gear. It has been awesome to see so many of you working to conduct Iota programs while operating within the stated National guidelines.

Remember, in addition to our national Bylaws and standing rules, all sorority members are expected to abide by any guidelines/regulations developed by the National Board for the safety of our members. Those guidelines are:

1. No in-person chapter meetings for sorors or auxiliaries.
2. No in-person group gatherings involving sorors or auxiliaries, this includes social gatherings that show members wearing Iota gear.
3. No in-person events that require groups of sorors to gather in one location. *Sorors may individually drop off or pick up items, supplies, etc.
4. No in-person membership recruitment, virtual-only!
