

Psalm: Leviathan

By Dianna Cudworth

Leviathan

We are coming after you.

There is no where to run.

There is no where to hide.

You can slither and slide

But there is no escape for you.

For your time has come.

We are coming with the Sword of Truth.

We are coming with the Light of Christ

The Lord is with us. He has given us victory over you!

You capture us with your drama.

You snare us with your words.

You lay a net of deception,

And snag us with your lies.

You turn aside the just, with your empty words.

If we turn to the right or we turn to the left

Your trap is set for us.

You twist our words and slander us.

But Leviathan, your time has come

For the Lord is with us. He has given us victory over you!

Leviathan

We are coming after you.

There is no where to run.

There is no where to hide.

You can slither and slide

But there is no escape for you.

For your time has come.

We are coming with the Sword of Truth.

We are coming with the Light of Christ

The Lord is with us. He has given us victory over you!

Your tongue is poison and your claws are sharp

You lash at us with your bitter words.

You claw at us with your lies and deceptions.

You scorn us and mock us for trusting in God.

You say: "God no longer cares. He is looking away

And does not see what I do".

But Leviathan your time has come.

For the Lord is with us. He has given us victory over you!

Leviathan

We are coming after you.

There is no where to run.

There is no where to hide.

You can slither and slide

But there is no escape for you.

For your time has come.

We are coming with the Sword of Truth.

We are coming with the Light of Christ.

The Lord is with us. He has given us victory over you!

You are so proud. You are so arrogant.

You are called the King of the Proud,

The wicked follow you.

Flames shoot from your mouth to devour the saints.

You put fear in the hearts of the just.

You curse our land with your twisted tongue

And you teach your children to do the same.

You tell us: "God doesn't care. He has turned His back on us.

And you can do to us whatever you want".

But Leviathan, your time has come.

For the Lord is with us. He has given us victory over you!

Leviathan

We are coming after you.

There is no where to run.

There is no where to hide.

You can slither and slide

But there is no escape for you.

For your time has come.

We are coming with the Sword of Truth.

We are coming with the Light of Christ.

The Lord is with us. He has given us victory over you!

Our God has come to rescue us!

You can twist and squirm, but your crooked way

He makes straight for us.

He promised us: "No slanderer will be established, here on earth".

This includes you and your den of vipers too .

You think you are secure and high above,

But God will shake you loose and throw you down.

Leviathan, your time has come.

For the Lord is with us. He has given us victory over you!

Leviathan

We are coming after you.

There is no where to run.

There is no where to hide.

You can slither and slide

But there is no escape for you.

For your time has come.

We are coming with the Sword of Truth.

We are coming with the Light of Christ.

The Lord is with us. He has given us victory over you!

Shame on you, dishonor cover you

And all your people too!

Your lies and curses return to you.

The net that you have hidden, will catch yourself;

The snare you set will snag your foot.

The pit you dug for us,

Into that very destruction you will fall.

Leviathan, your time has come.

For the Lord is with us. He has given us victory over you!

Leviathan

We are coming after you.

There is no where to run.

There is no where to hide.

You can slither and slide

But there is no escape for you.

For your time has come.

We are coming with the Sword of Truth.

We are coming with the Light of Christ.

The Lord is with us. He has given us victory over you!

You belch out fire to devour the land.

But we will not be burned. We will not be scorched.

Your fire is no match for us. F

For the lord is with us, and he has given us victory over you.

Leviathan, your time has come.

You can twist and turn and flee away, but there is no escape for you.

The evil of your lips will cover you. Burning coals will fall on you.

You will be cast into the fire and all your children too

Into the deepest pit not to rise again,

With all those that lie and slander and curse our land.

For the Sword of the Lord is coming after you.

It will slay you and break your heads in pieces. And give you to us to eat.

You will be food for our table and a delicacy on our plate

Leviathan, your time has come.

For the Lord is with us. He has given us victory over you!

Leviathan

We are coming after you.

There is no where to run.

There is no where to hide.

You can slither and slide

But there is no escape for you.

For your time has come.

We are coming with the Sword of Truth.

We are coming with the Light of Christ.

The Lord is with us. He has given us victory over you!
