

Enhance Your Glow with Lumenis M22 IPL and Alumier MD Enzymatic Treatments

RxCosmetics Aesthetic Clinic

At RxCosmetics Aesthetic Clinic, we believe that consistent, high-quality skincare is the key to maintaining radiant, youthful skin. We're excited to share the benefits of combining Lumenis M22 IPL treatments with the Alumier MD Enzymatic Treatment — a powerful duo designed to enhance your skin's tone, texture, and overall health.

The Power of Lumenis M22 IPL Maintenance Treatments

Lumenis M22 IPL (Intense Pulsed Light) treatments are a gold standard for targeting:

- ✓ Sun damage and age spots
- ✓ Redness and broken capillaries
- ✓ Uneven skin tone and texture
- ✓ Fine lines and signs of aging

Regular maintenance sessions help to keep your skin looking clear, bright, and refreshed by stimulating collagen production and encouraging your skin's natural healing process. We recommend bi-annual treatments for consistent results.

Enhance Your Results with Alumier MD Enzymatic Treatment

Pairing your IPL treatments with an Alumier MD Enzymatic Treatment takes your results to the next level. This gentle yet effective exfoliating treatment uses fruit enzymes to:

- ✓ Remove dead skin cells
- ✓ Improve skin texture and clarity
- ✓ Boost the effectiveness of your IPL treatments by allowing deeper product absorption

Why This Combination Works

When used together, Lumenis M22 IPL improves skin tone and targets pigmentation at a deeper level, while the Alumier MD Enzymatic Treatment refines and smooths the skin's surface. This combination enhances your skin's ability to absorb nutrients, maximizes your glow, and extends the benefits of your IPL sessions.

To experience the full benefits of this combination, we recommend booking a maintenance IPL session with an Enzymatic Treatment every 4 - 6 months to keep your skin looking its best year-round.

Sarah, NP, PHC, MScN

RxCosmetics Aesthetics Clinic