MARKETING STUDENT

My Experience

Throughout my time in high school and college, I've gained valuable experience in building marketing strategies for various clubs and organizations using digital media. Additionally, I have multiple years of experience in photography, capturing events that effectively highlights the activities and achievements of these organizations. This hands-on experience has honed my skills in both marketing and photography, allowing me to contribute significantly to the visibility and success of these groups.

Social Media

Whether working on my own accounts or for other organizations, I focus on delivering consistent, creative messaging that aligns with the brand's voice and goals.

Projects

Whether in class or just for fun, I enjoy creating mock ads and marketing projects that push my creativity. From concept development to design, I love experimenting with new ideas and strategies to craft campaigns that resonate.
