

Scottish-American Women's Society Of Washington DC

The Scottish-American Women's Society of Washington, D.C. (SAWS) offers full membership to any female born in Scotland or who can document their Scottish ancestry. Associate memberships are available to any female that cannot yet trace their ancestry to Scotland, and to those that simply love all things Scottish.

SAWS exists to educate its members and the general public about Scottish and Scottish-American history, culture, and traditions; to celebrate the contributions of Scots and Scottish-Americans in the United States (with a focus on women's contributions); to promote, preserve, and perpetuate Scottish heritage, traditions, and customs; and to enhance the bonds between Scotland and North America, in particular the Washington, D.C. area.
